While critics often generalize about "the contemporary student," the ELIO graphically shows the differences among students on a large campus and identifies their many separate voices.

Students reflect the various concerns and interests of people generally. As a group, they are different and in their search for the idealism which characterizes the search for meaningful lives.

The University of Illinois seeks to serve the individual student by helping him to utilize the human resources available here for his education and for his personal growth.

The 1966 ELIO
will be a permanent reminder

Students—The Promise for the Future

*Shuffling feet on sidewalks, the murmur of students in class, thousands of voices rising to crescendos across the gridiron and reverberating from the dome of the Assembly Hall—these are the sounds of our people.
Students are the voice and the spirit of Illinois.

. . . a highly complex mass of individuals thrown together into University society. People needing people, finding them before a fireplace, missing them while talking on the phone, living their lives vicariously while cheering them on in the stands. The student voice cries out, wanting freedom, rights, and attention. We are your huddling masses and, in a voice unchallenged, will shout our defiance and boast our achievement to all. Hear us!

The ILLIO of 1966 is featuring you—the people of the University of Illinois. Can you find yourselves within?

DEDICATION

It is unusual to find at a large University such as Illinois a man who is as dedicated to his work, to the students, and to other people in his community as MR. PAUL MCMICHAEL, publisher-general manager of the Illini Publishing Company. The IPC publishes the Daily Illini, the ILLIO, and the Techograph and administers the student-operated WPGU radio station. Mr. McMichael, a graduate of the University of Illinois School of Journalism in the class of 1934, was on the Daily Illini editorial staff during his student days and was chief news editor his senior year. He remained at the Illini Publishing Co. following graduation as an office assistant. He says, "When I first started here, I thought it was temporary; but it got to be a good job. I started with the same salary as I got before I came to college—$20 per week." The following year he became assistant manager and later was named business manager. During 1949 and 1950 he was acting general manager; however, at that time he was not interested in being head man. He did not think the added headaches were worth it. In 1955 after 21 years of service, he was named publisher. At this time things were going badly financially; the company had just remodeled and put in a new press, leaving them with very little capital. As the new publisher, Mr. McMichael devoted himself to an "economy drive" aimed at paring the deficits of the previous years. His "economy drive" did not entail drastic measures, but centered around increasing small savings wherever possible. Though keeping economically sound is always a pressing problem, under Mr. McMichael's directorship the IPC has consistently remained in the black.

One of Mr. McMichael's major interests in the community is Boy Scouting with which he has been associated for more than 40 years. While he was a scoutmaster better than 200 boys had the privilege of being registered for scouting under him. In 1939 he was the proud recipient of the Silver Beaver award for the year's most outstanding service to scouting at the annual Arrowhead Council. In 1965 one still finds him giving up his Saturdays in November to make hot chocolate and cookies for the boys who come to chop down their own Christmas trees at a nearby Boy Scout camp. He also serves at Boy Scout leadership conferences—not in the capacity of a director as his experience might indicate, but as a conference chef. He is behind the scenes cooking everyone's meals in the magnificent way that only Mr. McMichael can. He has given many boys the thrill of a vacation cruise on Lake Michigan. He is the type of man who gives a boy a ride home from a banquet and makes a life-long friend. His service is one of sincere dedication which comes from, as one of his former scouts says, "extreme interest in people that is not at all selfish."

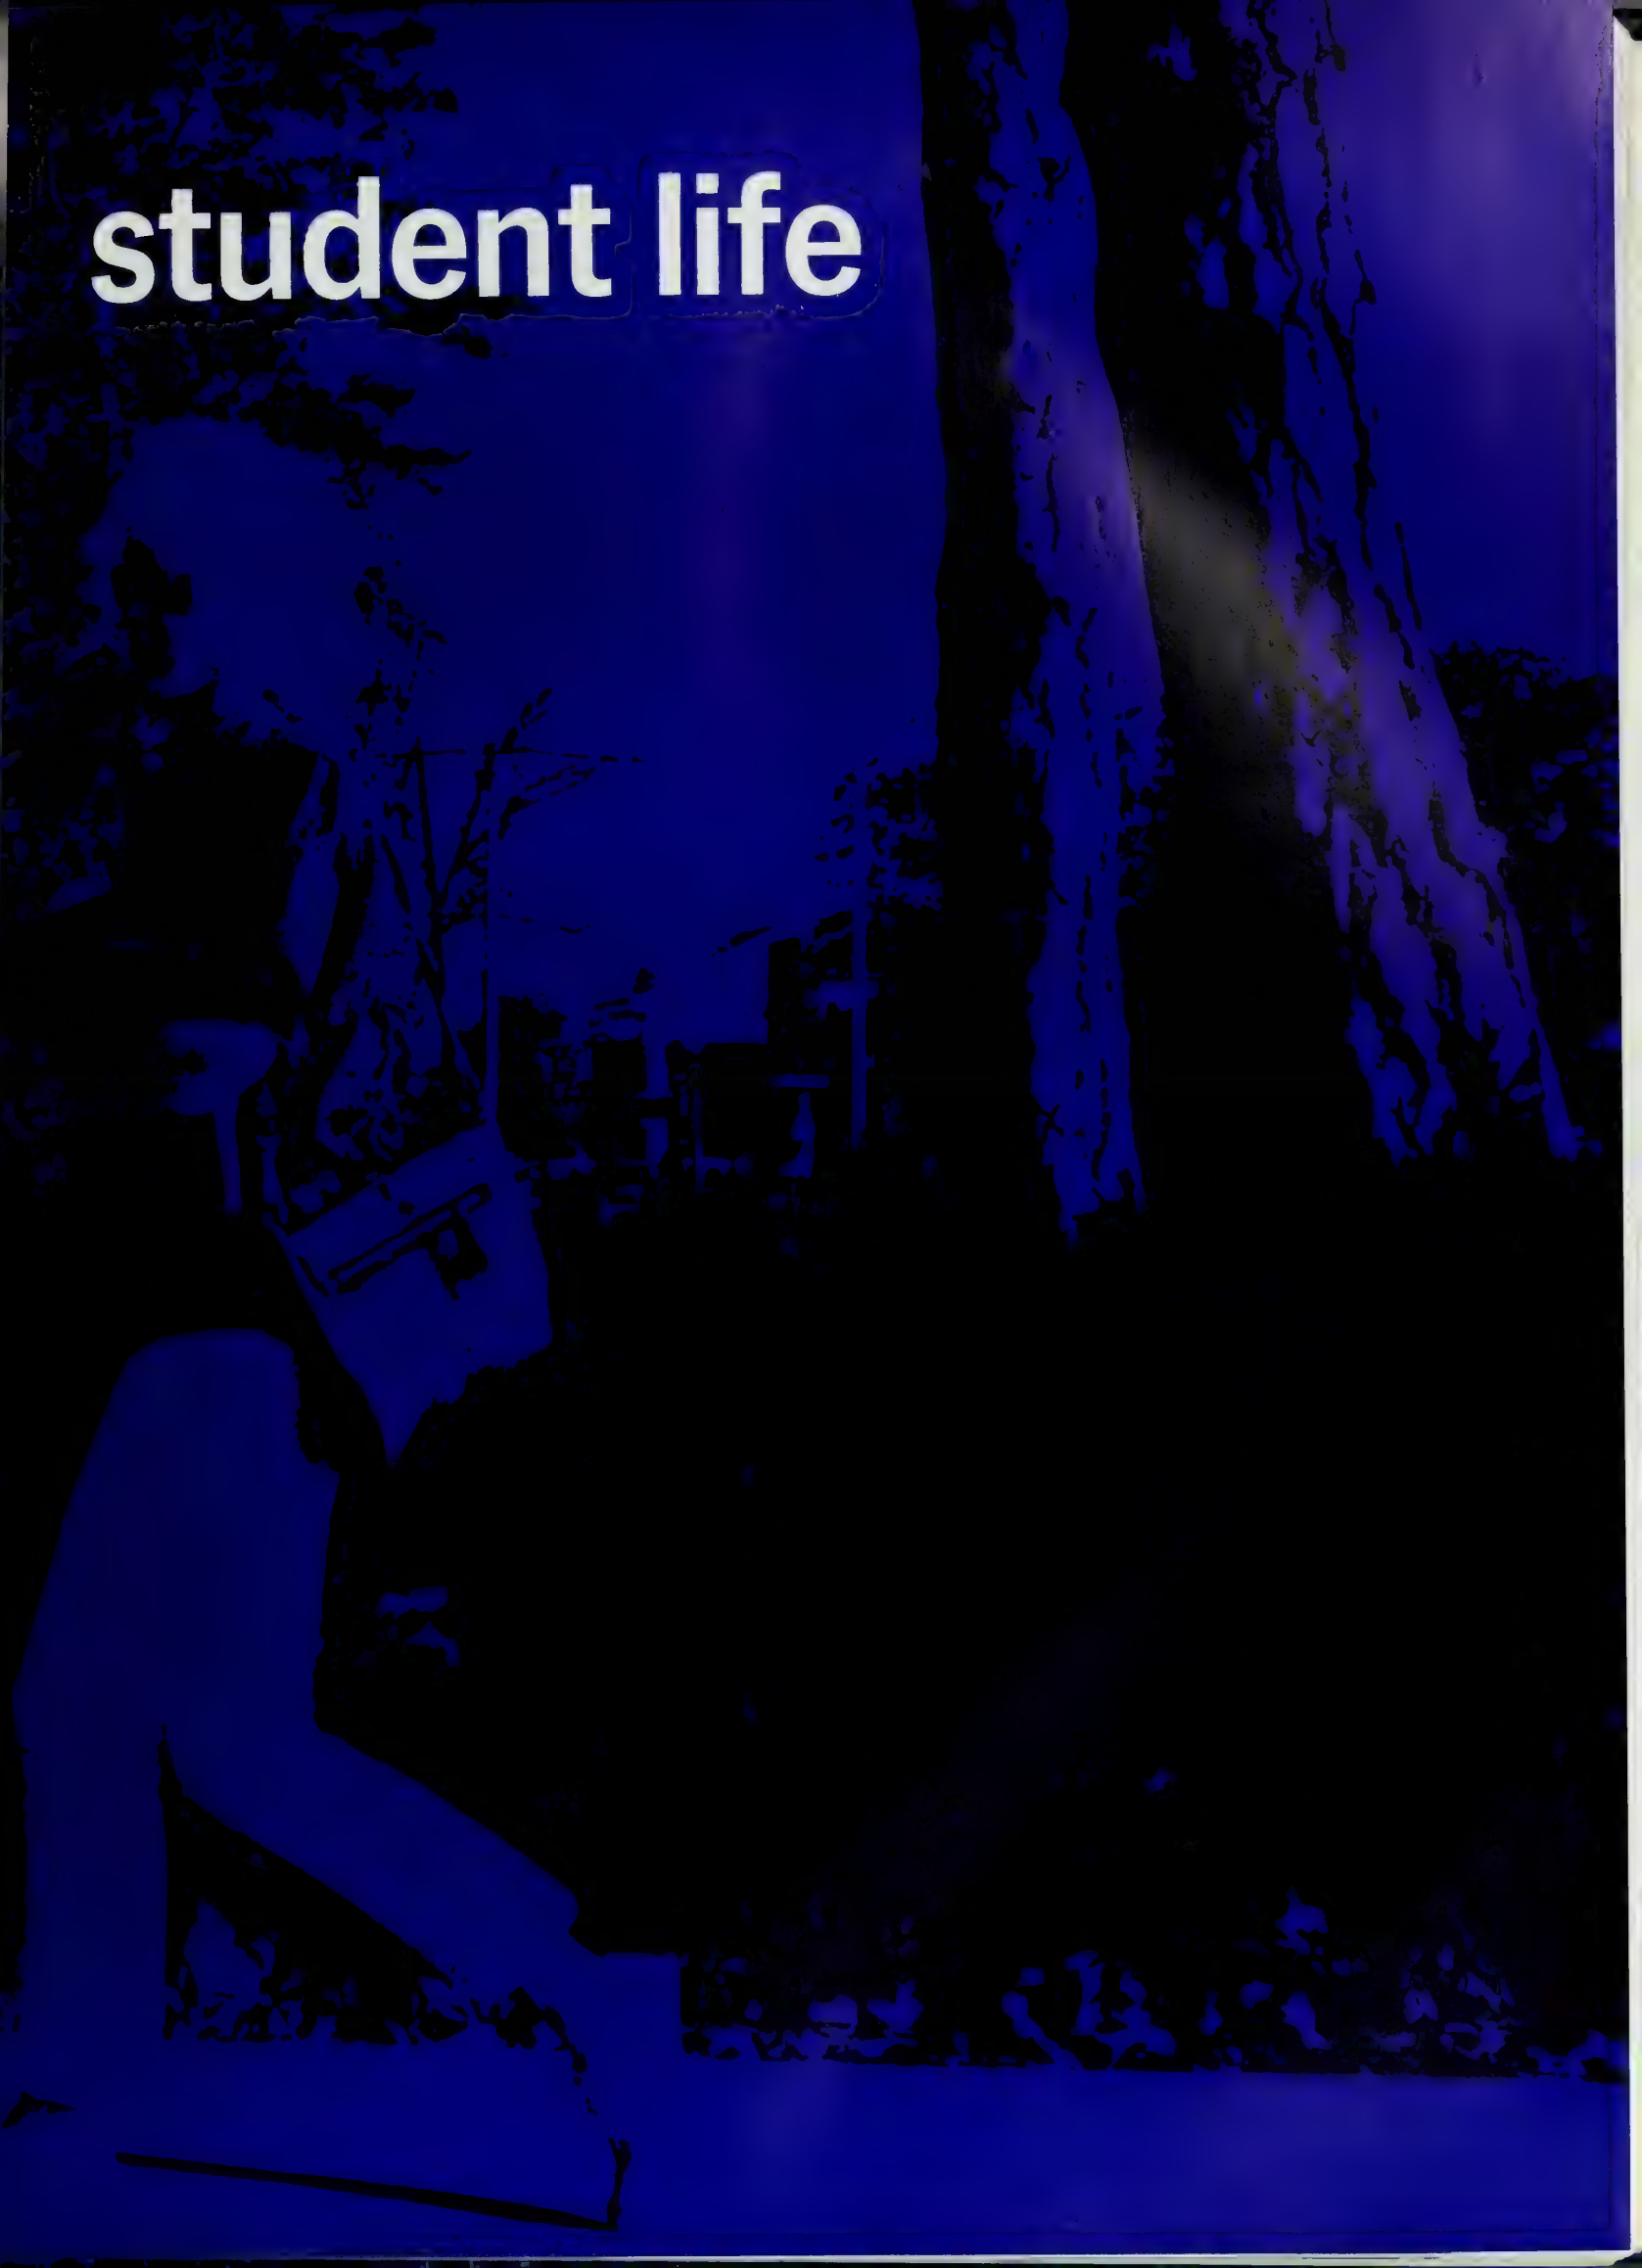

To Mr. Paul McMichael, who has dedicated his life to people, we dedicate the ILLIO of 1966.

HARMONIOUS STRAINS OF a folk tune are carried forth upon a gentle spring breeze.

Spring Beauty Transforms Illinois Campus

Balmy breezes and warm weather, puddles made by the seasonal monsoons, swampcoats, bathing suits, and madras bermudas are signs of spring at Illinois. With the arrival of mild weather the campus is transformed into a place of beauty. From under a layer of ice emerge new blades of green grass and pastel blossoms of flowers. The campus is once again filled with the Spirit of Spring.

AS WARMER WEATHER returns to the campus, students begin to unload their motor scooters from winter storage.

ALONG WITH THE warm breezes and the balmy weather, spring rains also arrive on campus.

THE ATMOSPHERE OF spring also calls to professors, who conduct class on the lawn.

Balmy Weather Brings an Awakening Spirit to Illinois

UNABLE TO RESIST the awakening spirit of spring, many students take their books outdoors.

Congress Circle Brightens Chicago's Back Yard

The Chicago Circle campus opened its doors to 10,000 students in September of 1965. Some of the special facilities on the Chicago campus include the Illini Union, Library, University Hall, and Lecture Center. Courses are taught in four colleges—Architecture and Art, Business Administration, Engineering, and Liberal Arts and Sciences—and in two divisions Education and Physical Education. By 1967 the new University will have expanded to provide degrees in all of the above colleges. Over sixty academic, professional, cultural, religious, and athletic organizations offer activities.

Groups Sponsor Sings

Each spring the sophomore women's honoraries, Alpha Chron and Shi-Ai, sponsor sing festivals. Any women's independent house or residence hall may enter Watcheka Sing, sponsored by Alpha Chron. Shi-Ai Sing provides an opportunity for Greeks to voice their talent. The following houses placed first in their divisions last year: Alpha Phi, Beta Sigma Psi, and Alpha Delta Pi-Alpha Gamma Rho.

MEMBERS OF ALPHA Delta Pi and Alpha Gamma Rho combined their talent to win first place in the mixed division of Shi-Ai Sing.

Each spring the College of Engineering organizes an Open House, during which they exhibit the newest developments in science and technology from the laboratories of the College. The Open House annually draws thousands of visitors.

Similarly, the College of Agriculture holds an Agriculture Guest Day each fall. Over 1200 high school upperclassmen and junior college members attended this year. Sessions on career opportunities allowed the participants to explore 13 fields of agriculture.

Spring Hops with "Brigadoon"

Spring Musical, sponsored by the Illini Union Student Activities, annually highlights Mom's Day weekend. The 1965 production featured four performances of Brigadoon at the Assembly Hall. This romantic story depicted two lost hunters who stumbled upon the magical town of Brigadoon. Stephen Wallace, James Javore and Gary Gardner alternated in the lead roles of the two hunters. J. Phillip Burwell portrayed the avenging boyfriend who threatened to put an end to the town which appeared only once every one hundred years. The cause for all his ill feelings was the beautiful damsel, Jean Mac Laren, played in tandem by Barbara Casserly and Karen Larsen. Jean's pert sister Fiona was double cast with Patricia Martin and Judith Einhorn. Including the chorus, orchestra and staff, over one hundred students were involved.

Credit to Ned Levy

This year Edward Levy completed his sixth year of directing at the University of Illinois. He made his debut in the fall of 1960 by directing Stunt Show and introducing the traditional Shaggar Line. Since then he has presented the annual Stunt Shows and Spring Musicals.

Mr. Levy does most of his own choreographing. He is also the director of productions at University High School and is the head of the English Department. Here at the University of Illinois, Mr. Levy is an assistant professor in the College of Education.

It All Began with Mom

Once every year moms trade their dishes and dust mops for an exciting weekend at Illinois. Housing groups, the Mother's Association, and the Illini Union planned activities to guarantee the success of the weekend. The Spring Musical, Glee Club Concert, and Garden Show provided the moms with a variety of activities from which to choose. In addition, the Illini Union sponsored a fashion show. The weekend also included the Honors Day Convocation, Mortar Board initiation in President Henry's formal gardens, and the March of the Honoraries on the quadrangle. The latter was climaxed by the crowning of the May Queen.

Carnival Thrills Throngs

Illioskee is becoming synonymous with spring. Melting snow and budding leaves mean the University's weekend carnival of fun is near. Winter-weary students beat a path to the area west of the Assembly Hall to enjoy the cotton candy, rides and free dancing. Last year this Student Union-sponsored event featured authentic Indian dancers and a donkey basketball game, in addition to traditional features like the ferris wheel and roller coaster. Various campus organizations operated prize and game booths along the midway. These provided male students with an opportunity to demonstrate their prowess in front of their dates.

What's the time? Phone won't ring.
That girl can't remember a single thing.
I said, "Call on time. Don't be late!" Yet she always makes me wait.

And buys my beer without restraint;
But when it's time to keep our date,
Her knock on the door comes very late.

MERC Week brings all kinds of joys,
Some for girls, most for boys.
Girls reverse the trend of every date,
And on the boys their vengeance sate!

LED BY THE traditional color guard, the President's party leads the procession of 1965 graduates from Memorial Stadium to the Assembly Hall.

The University of Illinois Commencement, 1965, took place in the Assembly Hall for the third consecutive year. The commencement address was presented by Dr. Lelano J. Haworth, Director of the National Science Foundation and former professor of physics at Illinois. After the Board of Trustees and Alumni bestowed their greetings upon the graduates, President David D. Henry presented the degrees. Illini Achievement Awards were presented to George Stanley Halas, Class of 1918, William George Karnes, Class of 1933 and Allan Nevins, Class of 1912.

Queen Jane Heggie and Court Reign Over Homecoming

The reign of Jane Heggie as Homecoming Queen highlighted the festivities of Illinois' 55th annual Homecoming. Jane is a junior majoring in French education and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She also serves on Panhellenic Judicial Board. Sue Awe, a senior in elementary education, was runner-up and named Miss Indiana. Sue is president of Phi Mu sorority as well as a sponsor of the Army ROTC program. The queen was crowned during the pep rally. Each member of the court received a cape with the colors of the Big Ten school she represented. The queen and court were also introduced during the pre-game ceremonies at the Stadium.

Fall Flings Destroy Intentions of Back-to-School Booking

Students at the University usually come to school in September with the best of intentions. Nearly everyone is eager to begin studying. But after the laziness of summer, many find themselves several hundred pages behind after the first week of classes.

With the round of fall activities, matters only get worse for some.

Eager fans await the opening of another football season. Greek houses, independent houses, and dorms find renewed excitement at dances, exchanges, and other back-to-school events. The climax of fall is, of course, Homecoming. The fall semester ends amid autumn leaves and thoughts of winter and Christmas vacation.

We Pledge Our Support

In an attempt to do something humanitarian for the soldiers in Vietnam, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity sponsored a blood drive at the U. of I. The idea, suggested by Jim Keithley who was later made student chairman of the project, caught on quickly. Housing groups distributed literature, while the St. Louis Red Cross agreed to collect the blood on November 16, 17, and 18. The Brothers Four and Addiss and Crofut, entertainment groups who had recently been in Vietnam, volunteered their talents in a pre-drive kickoff held November 13. The 2,125 pints of blood collected proved the campaign to be a success, the goal being 2,000 pints. The response to the drive was so overwhelming that lines were stopped at 3 PM on the last day of collection.

One of the most highly anticipated activities of any Homecoming is the annual Stunt Show. Chosen during the first week of classes, the eight sorority-fraternity finalists spent a month in time-consuming rehearsals. The 1965 shows, following the Homecoming theme "The Year That . . .," ranged from Captain Hook performances to a modified version of Mother Goose's Rapunzel.

The latter, Lambda Chi Alpha-Kappa Kappa Gamma's show, won first place. Second prize went to "That Was the Year Root Juice Came to Bogus Lake," performed by Acacia-Delta Delta Delta.

Campus Dons Its Homecoming Dress

The 55th annual Homecoming was said to have been "The most spirited Homecoming in Illini history . . ." Among the factors which helped make it that way were 84 house decorations and a 48 unit parade with 16 floats. First place winners of house decs included: Weston, Nabor House, Wardall, College Hall, McKinley Hall, and Alpha Xi Delta.

Let Us Entertain You

Halftime action of every football game centers around the band, and the Marching Illini are among the best on the field. Under the direction of Everett Kisinger, Assistant Director of University Bands, the Marching Illini are known across the nation for their dignified performances. They continually arouse the "spirit of the Illini." Backing the band is the Block "I" providing the true color of Illini spirit. Bedecked in the orange and blue, the block displays designs during the half.

Fathers of Illini Are Honored on Dad's Day Weekend

Clear skies and falling leaves set the atmosphere for the traditional Dad's Day weekend during which Illini Dads were honored. The eventful weekend included such entertainment as the MIA-WISA "Dad's Day Review," which amused both fathers and students with its theme, "The Father Of." Dolphin Show was another enjoyable event, as was the Purdue-Illinois Varsity Men's Glee Club Concert.

Perhaps the major event of the weekend was the Illinois-Purdue football game from which the Illini emerged victorious. The halftime ceremony added to the excitement of the festivities as the Marching Illini created formations centering on the theme of "Dad's Heroes of Fiction." Several "heroes" emerged from formations of "Mississippi Riverboat" and "The Lone Ranger." A special highlight of the day came at the conclusion of the halftime ceremony with the coronation of Claude Kennedy as King Dad of 1965.

Snow, Wind, Cold Weather Sweep Across Campus

AFTER FINALS THERE'S the cold cruel world to face.

Glistening snow is piled high by the plow as it scrapes harshly against the pavement. The campus is dotted with students who have exchanged their madras windbreakers for heavy, fur-trimmed coats and wool mittens. The biting wind, as it sweeps across ice-covered sidewalks, only serves as a reminder of winter's dominating presence.

AS ANOTHER SEMESTER begins, snow is plowed and so are we!

Union Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The Illini Union celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday this year. Officially the celebration took place from February 7-12, the last two days of which the Cafeteria, Snack Bar, Colonial Room, Bowling Lanes and Billiard Room operated at 1941 prices. A 1940 newspaper display describing the Union's opening, 1940 newsreels, and 1940 music made the atmosphere authentic. Nevertheless, the Union has changed much in the last twenty-five years. The 1963 addition to the Union almost doubled the size of the building. It is estimated that over 20,000 students enter the Union daily. In terms of volume and usage, it is the largest Union in the Big Ten.

THE UNIVERSITY THEATRE, playing an active role in campus entertainment, featured "Marco Polo" as one of its winter productions.

Variety of Shows Offered to Illini

The cheers which once swelled from enthusiastic spectators at a fall football game have been silenced. Only the sound of a harsh wind can be heard sweeping across the barren bleachers. Exciting entertainment, however, has not ceased with the advent of winter. University students now gather indoors to enjoy the humor of the winter musical or a hilarious exhibition by the clown princes of basketball, the Harlem Globetrotters. More serious entertainment is afforded by such cultural groups as University Theatre and Star Course.

Winter Musical Evokes Laughter and Enjoyment

A funny thing happened at the Auditorium this winter and Ned Levy directed it, the musical comedy hit, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." Originally adapted from "Pseudolus," a B.C. slapstick comedy, "A Funny Thing" literally kept them rolling in the aisle. Gary Gardner, perennial favorite of student productions, played the comic slave of Hero James Sirois, who was in love with the beautiful virgin Philia, portrayed by Patricia Martin. More than seventy students were involved in making "A Funny Thing" another in a long line of U. of I. musical comedy hits.

International Fair Attracts Both Young and Old

Every year the University of Illinois welcomes the International Fair. Held in the Illini Union, its many attractions include exhibits, rituals, entertainment, a Continental Cafe, an Import Bazaar, and folksongs from different parts of the U.S.

The purpose of the Fair is to promote better understanding among foreign countries.

The weekend before the Fair the Illini Union presents the Latin American night club, Copacabana. The night club features songs and dances from representatives of a large portion of our neighboring Latin American countries.

Christmas Spirit Found Everywhere

As the tree lights in front of the Illini Union flickered in the dark, the air resounded with carols and laughing voices.

This year many different organizations showed their altruistic motives by giving parties and presents to the needy.

Division of Rehabilitation Education Attains World Fame

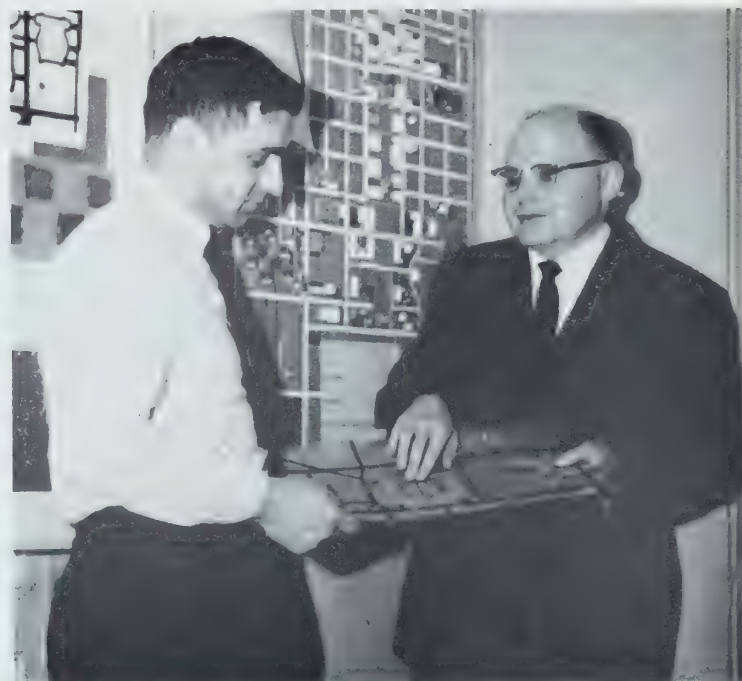

JOANNA CORNETT DEMONSTRATES her bowling ability. She is a gold medal winner in national track, field, and swimming competition.

Visitors to campus may notice ramps on many buildings, numerous wheelchair students, and a few buses equipped with hydraulic lifts. This is tangible evidence of a unique program in rehabilitation of the physically disabled. The Division of Rehabilitation-Education Services avails the opportunities of college to over 200 disabled students a year.

Services offered by the Division include admissions and registration, vocational counseling, services for the blind and deaf, medical services, athletics, recreation, and occupational therapy. The program's nationally famous aspects are the research done to set standards for making buildings accessible to the handicapped and the Illinois Gizz Kids wheelchair athletes.

The Division of Rehabilitation offers the disabled student all the opportunities, challenges and excitement available at the University of Illinois. Whether best use is made of these challenges and opportunities depends on the individual.

Semester Break—Most Welcome Vacation of the Year

Hallways echo noisily with the sounds of doors slamming and footsteps descending the stairs. Students glance anxiously at their watches as they hurry with suitcases in hand toward the overloaded train. Yet everyone wears a smile of anticipation. It's semester break!

"GET RID OF them quick!" is the rule as unwanted books are resold to the bookstores and club exchanges.

THE BRAIN IS engaged and the wheels turn as these students, in deep concentration, wade their way through pages of unending questions.

Pressures Increase As Finals Approach

Most students at the University of Illinois vividly recall the drudgery of final week. Survival kits and stay-alert tablets make their appearance. Cigarette sales are at an all-time high as even ardent non-smokers begin to indulge. After long, sleepless nights of cramming, the real work begins. Three never-ending hours of "do or die" leave students feeling as though they have been through an endurance test. With the first exam out of the way, most feel a slight restoration of self-confidence. Now there are only four more exams and six more sleepless nights. It should be easy from here.

President Henry Leads Confidently

For eleven years now Dr. David Dodds Henry has been President of the University of Illinois. In those years he has overcome the staggering problems of expansion. He has also established better relationships with other state schools. President Henry is very active on many national committees. He is vice president of the Association of American Universities and chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Association of State Universities.

President Henry takes an active interest in all U. of I. affairs. In his study is a football with all the signatures of the 1964 Rose Bowl players and Illios from 1956 to 1965.

Mrs. Henry is active on the Red Cross and Carle Clinic.

PRESIDENT DAVID D. HENRY often walks this route between home and office.

PRESIDENT HENRY'S DUTIES take him to many social events, such as this reception.

DR. PRESTON BRADLEY and President Henry converse before June 1965 Commencement.

IN HIS ELEVEN years as University president, David D. Henry has made numerous telecasts.

They Work Behind the Scenes

OTTO KERNER, GOVERNOR of Illinois, acts as one of the exofficio members of the Board of Trustees.

RAY PAGE FILLS the time-consuming position of State Superintendent of Schools.

ANTHONY JANATA SERVES as Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

Trustees Control University of Illinois Policy

David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois.

The University Board of Trustees consists of 11 members elected by the people of Illinois. The Governor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction act as ex-officio members of the Board. The other nine Trustees are elected for terms of six years.

The Board of Trustees extends its authority over the U. of I. within the limits of those laws established by the General Assembly of Illinois. The jurisdiction of the Board covers all matters except those for which it has delegated authority to other parts of the University. On matters of power, administrative organization, and responsibility of U. of I. officers, the Board of Trustees acts on the advice given by the President of the University.

Fred Turner Completes 23 Years As Dean of Students

FRED H. TURNER, Dean of Students, is responsible for coordinating all student services and activities outside of the classroom.

Fred Turner, dean of students since 1943, has been relieved of responsibility as dean of students to act as chairman of the University Committee on the Centennial. The centennial will officially begin on February 28, 1967, the anniversary of the signing of the U. of I.'s charter by the Illinois General Assembly. A 13 month celebration will follow.

Dean Turner, who has been associated with the University nearly 50 years, has sentimental reasons for overseeing the Centennial celebration. At the completion of the celebration in 1968, he will retire from all his duties.

Admissions and Records Supervises Official Duties

DEAN CHARLES SANFORD is head of one of the most complex arms of the University—the Office of Admissions and Records.

The University's Office of Admissions and Records touches the experience of all who attend Illinois. It is the first office the new student contacts when seeking admission and is the office that evaluates his credentials and issues his permit to enter. This office arranges for his registration, including assessment of his tuition and fees, administers his scholarship, keeps an official report of his academic achievement, issues official transcripts, and is responsible for the preparation and delivery of his hard-earned diploma.

Other functions in which the Office of Admissions and Records engages include direction of entrance exams, administration of the University's program of high school relations, supervision of a program of testing and research related to student admission and retention, and direction of the University Exchange-Visitor Program.

MIRIAM A. SHELDEN heads the Office of the Dean of Women.

Dean of Women Supervise Girls

EUNICE M. DOWSE is in charge of planning and staffing in residence halls.

LINDA H. HESTER helps freshman women.

BARBARA S. METZNER deals with Panhellenic women on campus.

MARY E. HARRISON is in charge of residence hall counseling.

ASSISTANTS TO THE Dean are: Lorene Skornia, Social Events; Patricia Donovan, General; Jessica Daniel, Research Assistant; and Mary Louise Filbey, Mothers' Association.

CARL W. KNOX, Dean of Men, supervises undergraduate males.

Dean Knox and Associates Counsel Male Students

W. STEWART MINTON works with the fraternity men.

KARL F. IJAMS fills the position of adviser to MIA.

GAYLORD F. HATCH is the able adviser to Illini Guides and new students.

The Illio has long recognized outstanding students, but never has it paid tribute to the many brilliant and dedicated men and women on the faculty. We, the editors, hope this section honoring faculty members will be an annual feature of the Illio.

We recognize that an institution such as Illinois could never exhaust its list of outstanding faculty people in a few years nor could one ever pick "bests" from such a list. Therefore, we asked each of the colleges to select one of their members who deserved this recognition.

University of Illinois Faculty Citations

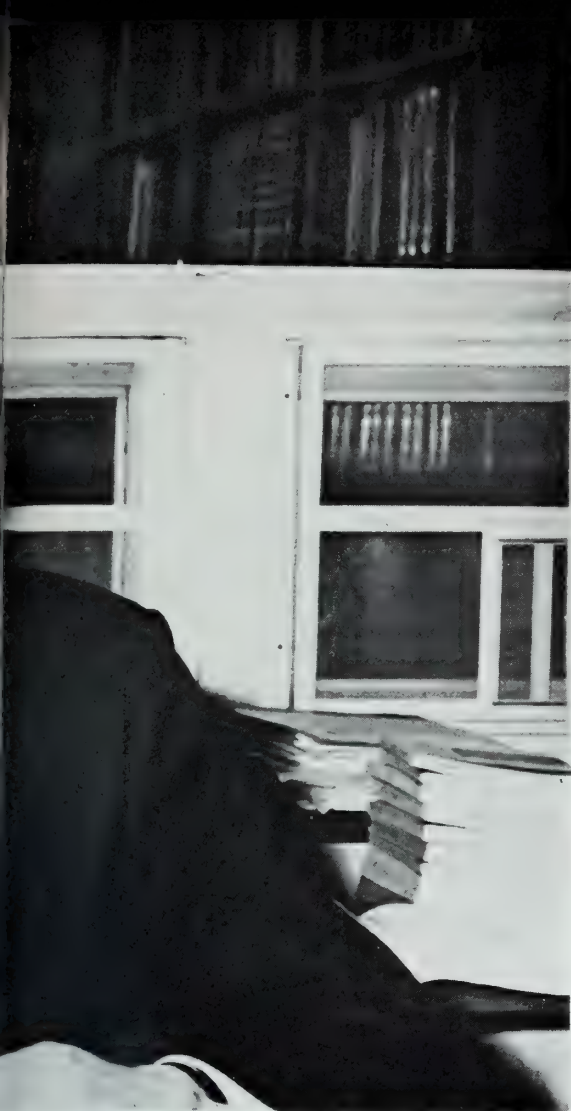

DR. CHARLES E. OSGOOD, Professor of Psychology and Director of the Institute of Communications Research in the College of Journalism and Communications, was raised and educated in the East and never has liked the corn fields of Illinois. Since he came to the University in 1949, he has had other offers but feels Illinois is too good to leave. The author of several books, Prof. Osgood's most recent is Perspective in Foreign Policy.

A one time Guggenheim Fellow and president of the American Psychological Association, he also received the Association's award for Distinguished Contribution to the Science of Psychology. In 1962 Dr. Osgood was given an honorary Doctor of Science degree from his alma mater, Dartmouth.

He also is listed in Who's Who.

MR. J. NELSON YOUNG, B.S., L.L.B., C.P.A., and Professor of Law, came to the University of Illinois as a student in the College of Commerce in 1934. After receiving his B.S. degree he worked on the audit staff of Arthur Anderson and Co. before returning to get his law degree in 1942. After the war Prof. Young worked for a law firm but returned to Illinois as a faculty member in 1946. His stay at Illinois has been interrupted only once when he accepted a visiting professorship at Harvard Law School in 1958-59. Prof. Young is now serving on the Faculty Senate Ad Hoc Committee on Year-Round Operation. He is a member of the University Committee on Accountancy which administers the C.P.A. examination. During the summer of 1959 Prof. Young was a member of the Harvard International Tax Program group which advised the Columbian government on the reform of their income tax statutes. Prof. Young is a member of the Order of Coif, honorary law fraternity.

DR. NORMAN GRAEBNER, Professor of History in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, is probably the best known lecturer on campus; his 300 level diplomatic history course has more than 500 students in it this semester. Because of this ability to make lectures vital and interesting, Prof. Graebner has also been asked to lecture at other universities. In 1958 he delivered the Commonwealth Fund Lectures at the University of London and in 1962 the Walter Lynwood Fleming Lectures at Louisiana State University. In 1963 he was a Fulbright Lecturer at the University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia. Something else Prof. Graebner does well is write. He has many books and articles to his credit, one of them being Cold War Diplomacy. Dr. Graebner came to Illinois from Iowa State in 1956 as a visiting professor and stayed on the next year. He says the University is about as ideal a place to teach as he can think of. Prof. Graebner is listed in Who's Who in America. He also received the first MIA Teacher Award and was honored at the ZBT Faculty Recognition Dinner.

According to DR. MORELL BELOTE
 RUSSELL, Professor of Soil Physics,
 Director of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, and Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture, the University of Illinois is a first rate institution or he would not be here. Dean Russell came to Illinois as Head of the Department of Agronomy in 1951 after serving on the faculty of Cornell and Iowa State Universities and attending Iowa State and Michigan State. Through the years Prof. Russell has served on or chaired a seemingly endless list of University, state, national, and international committees and panels. In 1959
 he had a three month assignment in India where he helped build institutions for teaching. Dr. Russell is presently a member of the Secretary of Agriculture's Science Advisory Committee as well as a committee in a division of the Atomic Energy Commission. He is a fellow in and the former president of the American Society of Agronomy. A member of Farm house fraternity, Dean Russell is a member of several honor societies and was a Danforth Fellow.
 He is listed in American Men of Science and Who's Who in America.

Coming to the University in 1930
 as an assistant, DR. LAURA J. HUELSTER has worked up to the rank of Professor of Physical Education for Women and Head of the Department in the College of Physical Education.
 Prof. Huelster is very concerned with the girls in her department, both personally and professionally.
 For her service to the profession Dr.
 Huelster has been elected a fellow in the American Academy of Physical Education and an honor fellow in the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation of which she has been vice president. She is named in Who's Who in American Education and
Who's Who of American Women.

As an historian MR. ALAN KEMP LAING, A.M. and Professor of Architecture from the College of Fine and Applied Arts, regards the library as one of his most valuable resources. Prof. Laing's pet project has been extensive research on the unfinished Cathedral of Beauvaix in France. He was educated at Denver, M.I.T. and Harvard and came to Illinois in 1940. In addition to being editor of the Journal of the Society of Architects and Historians, Mr. Laing has also written articles for encyclopedias. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Scarab, Gargoyle and an honorary member of Alpha Rho Chi.

Aside from the fact that there are not enough co-eds north of Green Street, DR. CHARLES ALLEN WERT likes the relatively conservative atmosphere of the University and the Midwest. Educated at Morningside College and the University of Iowa, Dr. Wert came to Illinois in 1950 and is now a professor of physical metallurgy in the College of Engineering. Prof. Wert is a member of the Board of Editors of McGraw Hill. He also has written Physics of Solids with Robb M. Thomson. Dr. Wert is presently chairman of his college's Curriculum Committee. At ZBT's first annual Faculty Dinner Prof. Wert was one of those honored.

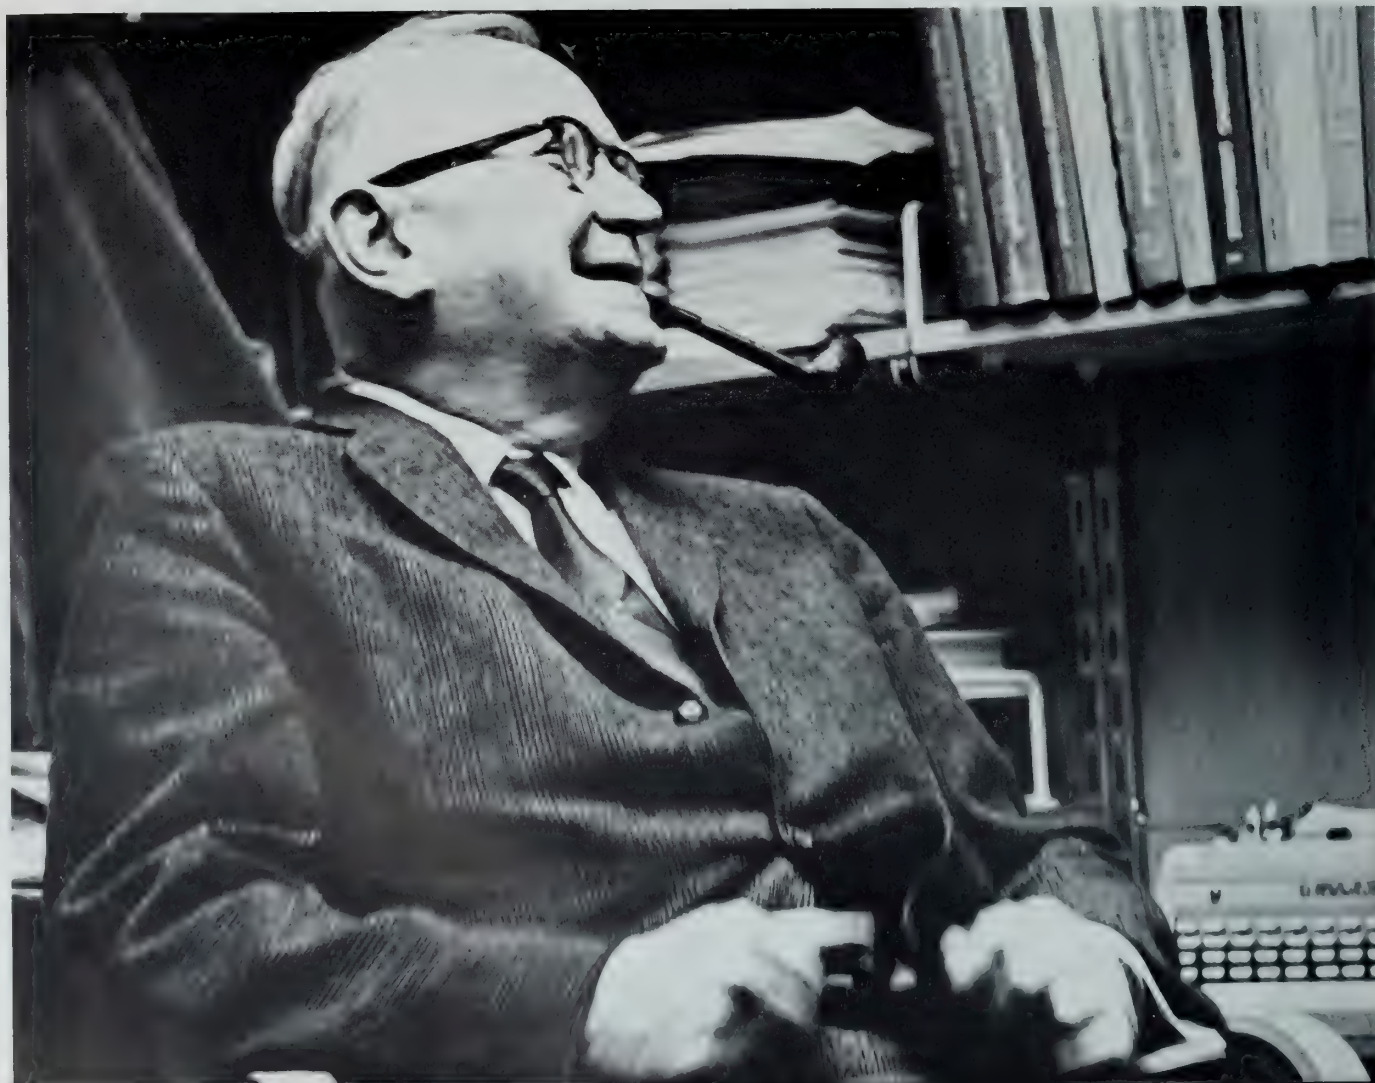

In the words of MR. EUGENE LYLE HAAK, B.S. and flight instructor in the Institute of Aviation, the personnel in the Institute have little time for anything but instruction with 100 students enrolled in the three curricula and more getting pilot's licenses. However, Mr. Haak still has found time to participate in writing Fundamentals of Aviation and Space Technology. Before getting his degree from Illinois, Mr. Haak had been in the Air Force for six years. He began teaching full time in 1956.

In his years of University service, DR. JOHN J. DEBOER has accumulated numerous awards and recognitions which have culminated in being named in Who's Who in America. Presently a Professor of Secondary and Continuing Education in the College of Education, Prof. DeBoer majored in English at Wheaton College and taught at Roosevelt University until 1947.

For his long and meritorious service to the teaching of English, he received the W. Wilbur Hatfield Award from the National Council of Teachers of English for which he served as president. Dr. DeBoer has also been president of the National Conference on Research in English. Five years ago he took a sabbatical leave to study the European school systems. Prof. DeBoer has written the popular high school text Building Better English and a book in the field of his special interest, The Teaching of Reading.

DR. SOL SPIEGELMAN, Professor of Microbiology in the Graduate College, is listed in American Men of Science with good reason. Recently the American Medical Association proclaimed his success in synthesizing RNA as the top medical story of the year. Working under continuous grants from various institutes since 1945, Prof. Spiegelman has written about 150 articles concerning his work. He received the Pasteur Award from the Illinois Society of Bacteriologists and has been elected to the National Academy of Sciences and the Center for Advanced Study, which has only six members. In addition to having taught at Illinois since 1949, Dr. Spiegelman has also been a CIBA Lecturer at Rutgers and a Jessup Lecturer at Columbia and has taught at Washington University.

Three years ago DR. ROBERT K. MAUTZ' "A Personal Code of Business Ethics" won a national contest sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi professional fraternity. This recognition is only one of many received by Dr. Mautz, Ph.D., C.P.A. and Professor of Accountancy in the College of Commerce and Business Administration. Educated at the University of North Dakota and at Illinois, he worked with Haskins & Sells, C.P.A.'s and Alexander Grant & Co., C.P.A.'s before coming to the University in 1948 to join the faculty. Dr. Mautz is the author of several books and articles, among them the text Fundamentals of Auditing. Last year Prof. Mautz served as president of the American Accounting Association and is presently serving a three year term on the governing council of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the first professor to be so elected. Preferring the academic freedom of the University to a business position, Prof. Mautz says he would not change places with anyone.

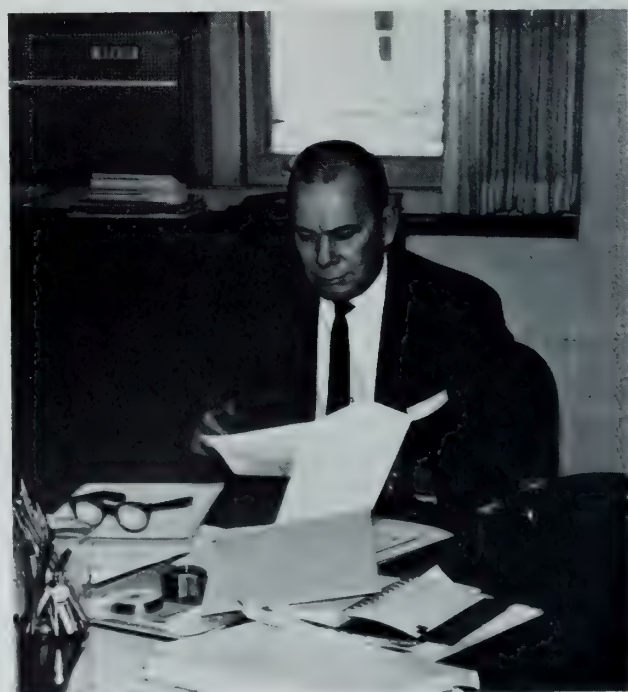

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF many hours of classroom study yields fruitful results.

College of Agriculture Offers Technical Training

The College of Agriculture is recognized for its excellent programs of integrated teaching, research, and extension. Students in home economics and agriculture receive a good foundation in the basic sciences and humanities, as well as specialized training in their particular field of interest. The Agricultural Experiment Station maintains approximately 350 research projects, and the Extension Service conducts a continuous educational program for both rural and urban people in every Illinois county. Many pupils have an opportunity to participate in this research and extension work by summer jobs and part-time work. In its international program, the College helps in establishing agricultural universities in India and elsewhere.

Aviators Fly High

The Institute of Aviation is responsible for the promotion and correlation of the educational and research activities related to aviation throughout the University. Primary concerns of the school are instruction, management of the U. of I. Willard Airport, and aeronautical research. The School sponsors courses in aircraft maintenance, ground school and flight, and aviation electronics, which are directed by an F.A.A.-designated Pilot Examiner. All the aircrafts maintenance and aviation electronics courses are taken in two-year sequences, as are flight and general education courses offered in preparation for piloting.

Commerce Offers Training

The College of Commerce and Business Administration strives to develop within its students the abilities necessary for responsible positions in business and government. Its courses are very useful in careers such as sales management, accounting, and banking. Students must meet requirements in science, mathematics, social sciences, and English as well as specialize in a field of concentration offered by the College. Its Bureaus of Economics and Business Research and Business Management act as research divisions.

A NEW COMPUTOR laboratory makes training in data processing more meaningful to students.

College Trains Educators

The College of Education provides programs for all teacher education curricula, including elementary education, special education and industrial arts. The Bureau of Educational Research conducts studies on educational problems. The Institute for Research on Exceptional Children directs studies on the education of both handicapped and gifted children while the Curriculum Laboratory develops new curricula and directs investigations on their value. University High School is utilized as a laboratory, and the University Council on Teacher Education is responsible for student teaching, placement, and teacher education curriculum. The new Education Building and fine staff help to meet the demands created by the College's steadily increasing enrollment.

Illinois Claims One of Nation's Best Engineering Schools

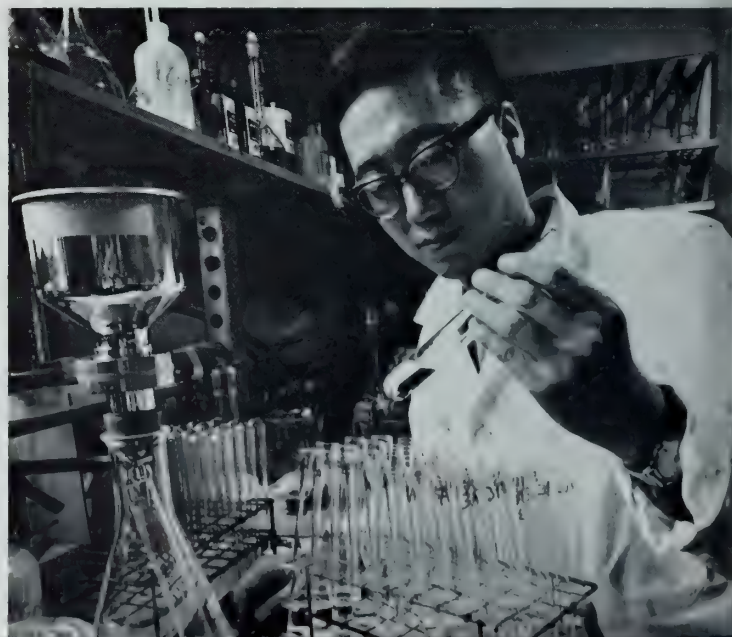

WILLIAM EVERITT SERVES as the Dean of the College of Engineering.

The College of Engineering encourages its students to take an active part in the College's teaching and research activities. Besides organizing the college-wide Open House, they publish the Illinois Technograph, a student-managed journal that portrays the "voice of the student."

The Engineering Council is another organization managed by the students. It has served in the revision of the Honors Program, the advisory system, and the teaching programs.

LABORATORY ASSISTANT B. T. Kown measures samples to determine the radioactivity of water.

University Extension Conducts Adult Education Program

The Division of University Extension sends its educational services and benefits throughout the state. Through its continuing education programs, the University tries to fulfill its responsibilities to the adults of Illinois.

Its activities include the following: correspondence study; extension in visual arts, music, and engineering; extramural classes; police and firemanship training; special programs and research; and audio-visual aids service.

THE STATELY HOTT Memorial is the site of conferences and seminars.

DEAN STANLEY ROBINSON heads the Division of University Extension.

Illini Master the Arts

Art, architecture, music, and urban planning are taught by the College of Fine and Applied Arts. Introductory courses intended specially to increase aesthetic appreciation and to illustrate the historical role of art in civilization are also offered by the College.

The varied activities of the College are prominently featured in the Festival of Contemporary Arts held biennially. These include exhibitions, demonstrations, concerts, lectures, and conferences. The Krannert Art Museum displays exhibits of local and universal artists, while the School of Music offers cultural concerts to students and faculty at the University.

IN CHARGE OF the College of Fine and Applied Arts is Dean Allen S. Weller.

Institute of Government and Public Affairs Studies Issues

FOUR STATE LEADERS join in one of many heated debates which occur at the Annual Public Affairs Assembly at Allerton Park.

A major service and research organization investigating current problems dealing with local, state, and national forms of government is the Institute of Government and Public Affairs. Managed by Dr. Gilbert Steiner, the Institute then analyzes the problems and makes them available to the public. Part of the Institute's program is the Public Affairs Assembly. It consists of a forum of approximately fifty leaders of government, education, business, politics, civic life, labor, and the professions of Illinois. Members of the Assembly are chosen on the basis of their special knowledge and involvement with the public affairs of Illinois. At the annual meeting at Allerton Park the Assembly discusses the major issues of the above areas that face the state. The Institute then makes decisions on the basis of the research conducted.

Graduate College Promotes Research

Graduate education, service to the community, and research are the essential aims of the University of Illinois Graduate College. Established in 1907, the Graduate College now offers advanced degrees in over one hundred fields of study, in which more than 7000 students representing every state and seventy foreign countries are enrolled. The demand for people with specialized, advanced education has provided the impetus for this rapid expansion.

Besides administering funds of 31 million dollars in support of research and graduate fellowships, the Graduate College continues, in other ways, its active support of scholarship and achievement.

THIS STUDENT IS working for his Master's Degree in Chemistry.

ILIR Completes 20 Years

This year the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations completes 20 years of service in education and research. Its purpose is to "foster, establish and correlate resident instruction, research and extension work in labor relations." The Institute makes use of the University's resources in its subject area to provide an interdisciplinary approach to the study of labor and industrial relations problems. Many of its faculty members hold joint appointments with other University departments.

ILIR research includes such investigations as plant union-management relationships, job satisfaction, manpower utilization, comparative industrial relations systems and wage structure. Its extension program includes short courses, non-credit classes, and conferences for labor, management and public groups on the campus and in communities throughout the state.

THE LABOR AND Industrial Relations Building houses a modern library.

Social Work Stresses Skill

The Jane Addams Graduate School of Social Work has as its main goal the education of people for professional practice in social work. Social work is a fairly new profession; today public and private social services offer citizens help in meeting problems of economic dependency, social maladjustment, mental and physical disability, family conflict, delinquency, and child welfare. Social work offers a fascinating and varied career, an opportunity to serve ones fellows in a democratic way, and the challenge of a new field of human relationships. An M.S.W. degree program is offered on both the Urbana and the Chicago Circle Campuses, giving its participants the knowledge, skills, attitudes, and philosophy basic to all professional practice. Students spend an equal amount of time in the classroom and in the practical aspects of social work. The School offers a few pre-professional courses for undergraduates considering careers in social work.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL of Social Work is directed by Dr. Mark P. Hale.

GRADUATE STUDENTS IN Social Work spend equal amounts of time in the classroom and in field work.

College of Journalism and Communications Expands Aims

DEAN THEODORE B. PETERSON serves as the efficient leader of the College of Journalism and Communications.

In 1902, when a small group of students enrolled in a course which dealt with writing for the press, Illinois became one of the first universities to offer education in journalism. By 1922 the University was offering a major in journalism, and in 1927 the College of Journalism was established as a separate unit. In 1957 the school was renamed the College of Journalism and Communications and reorganized to consolidate all the University's interests in the field—academic instruction, public service, and research.

Today the College's teaching activities are carried out by the Departments of Radio and Television, Advertising, and Journalism. The Division of University Broadcasting is also part of the College.

THE LAS OFFICE, always one of the busiest on campus, is run with order and efficiency.

College of LAS Maintains Modern Curriculum

Approximately 9,000 undergraduate students are enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Directed by the ideal of a liberal education, the College attempts to broaden the vision of its students by creating in them an appreciation of the values and attitudes of mind that make men free. At the same time, the College offers courses of specialization to aid its students in preparing for professional careers; it operates 26 academic departments and three centers for Area Studies. The College strives to keep its curriculum relevant to the needs of the 1960's.

DR. ROBERT W. ROGERS, dean of LAS, finds that his work is never done. He has initiated many interdepartmental programs offering integrated curricula in which faculty members of several departments participate.

The College of Law Trains Men for the Bar Exam

DEAN RUSSELL N. SULLIVAN heads the College of Law.

The College of Law was established in 1897 with 39 students, two professors, and one classroom. Today it is housed in one of the finest law school buildings in the nation. The law building also contains a well-organized law library that has over 160,000 volumes. These books are placed in open stacks for the students' convenience.

The present student body of about 500 is a highly selective group chosen from 100 different undergraduate institutions in various states and a few foreign countries. A law student begins his studies leading to the J. D. degree after earning an undergraduate bachelor's degree.

Over the years the law faculty has had many nationally famous scholars and some of the country's finest teachers. In addition to the basic subjects required of every student, the law faculty offers a variety of courses in such diverse subjects as international law, Soviet law, and oil and gas.

Library Careers Rewarding

Founded in 1893, the Graduate School of Library Science operates with the University of Illinois Graduate College. Its purpose is to equip students for both technical and reader services in library work. Preparation rests mainly on certain basic studies in library work. However advanced courses in specialized work are available.

School of Life Sciences Offers New Challenges

DR. FRANK B. ADAMSTONE works with an electron microscope.

The College of Life Sciences joins six departments: Botany, Zoology, Entomology, Physiology, Biophysics, and Microbiology. Organization of the numerous areas of biological study into a single structure facilitates the formation of programs and curricula that involve the teaching of two or more of the departments. The formation of the School of Life Sciences was also a testimony to the fact that all divisions of the School have similar functions, namely, teaching and studying living systems.

Under the direction of the School of Life Sciences, a number of exciting and new academic programs that cut across departmental lines have been instituted at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The faculty of the School of Life Sciences contains a number of scholars and teachers known throughout the world. Research activities of the faculty probe problems of living systems at all levels.

College of Physical Education Keeps Students Active

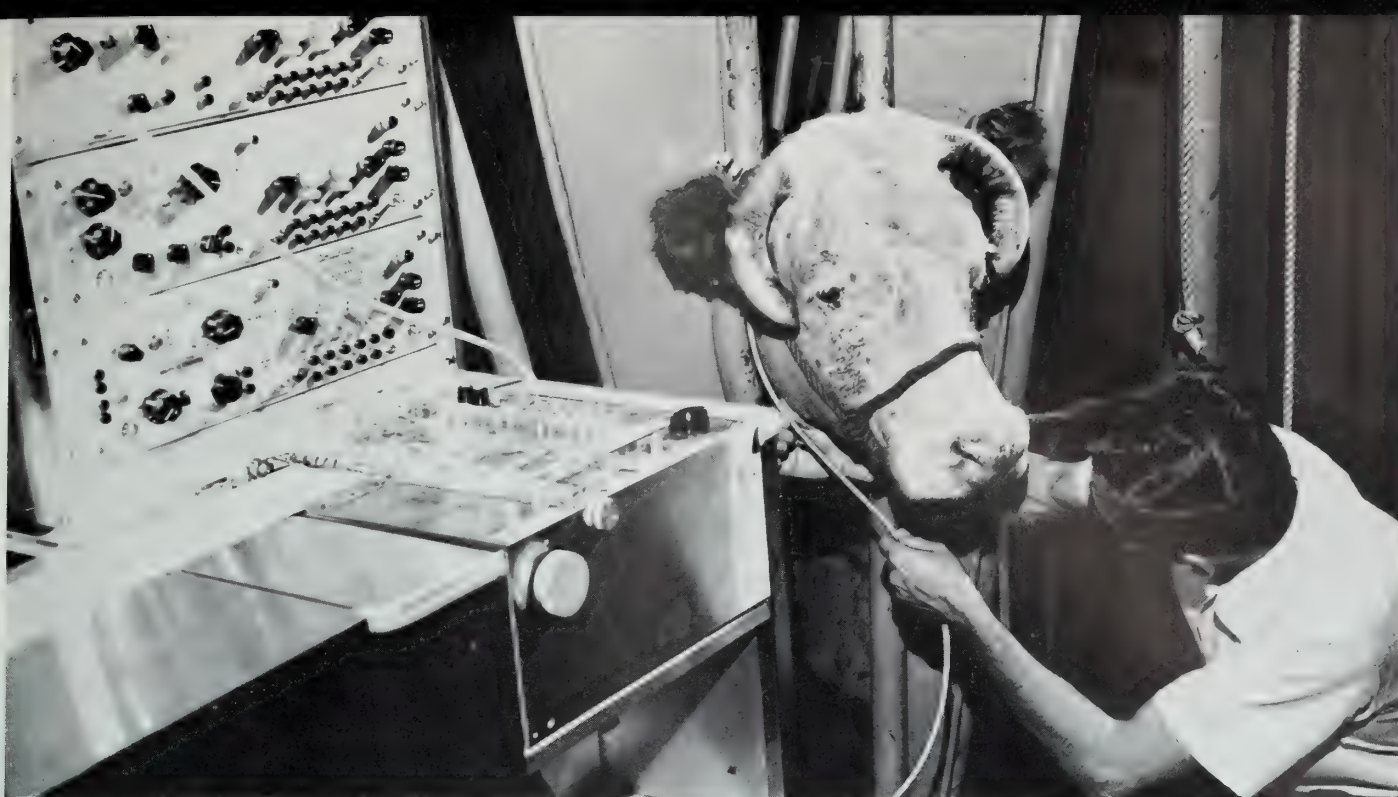

The College of Physical Education is separated into four major departments: P.E. for Men, P.E. for Women, Recreational and Park Administration, and Health and Safety. The student may take courses in teaching, coaching, and park supervision. The College also oversees the Rehabilitation Center.

THE WOMEN'S BRANCH of P.E. also offers a variety of activities. Volleyball is one of the most popular.

DR. BEVERLY COCKRELL, a recent graduate of the College, works on her research project, adapting fluorometric estrogen for use in dogs.

Since its establishment in 1944, the College of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Illinois has grown from 24 students to a present enrollment of nearly 250, including 60 graduates and 71 freshmen, almost triple the number of the original freshman class. The College's three activities are teaching, public services, and research. Public services include animal clinics and an ambulatory service.

Active Alums Maintain Illini Spirit Around the World

The Alumni Association, founded in 1873, gives the Illinois alums a chance to maintain campus ties and serve the University of Illinois in future years. One of the ways the Alumni Association works is through the Illini Clubs. Approximately 90 of these clubs exist nationally and internationally. Usually they meet once or twice a year, have a University oriented program including a film or a talk by a visitor from the campus, and then enjoy socializing for a few hours. All alumni groups are urged to organize clubs. Only ten signatures are necessary for adoption of a club charter. Each fall all Illini Club officers attend a workshop on a football weekend. All members have contact with the campus through issues of the Illinois Alumni News.

Illinois Foundation Encourages University Gifts

HJALMAR JOHNSON HOLDS the important position of president of the University of Illinois Foundation.

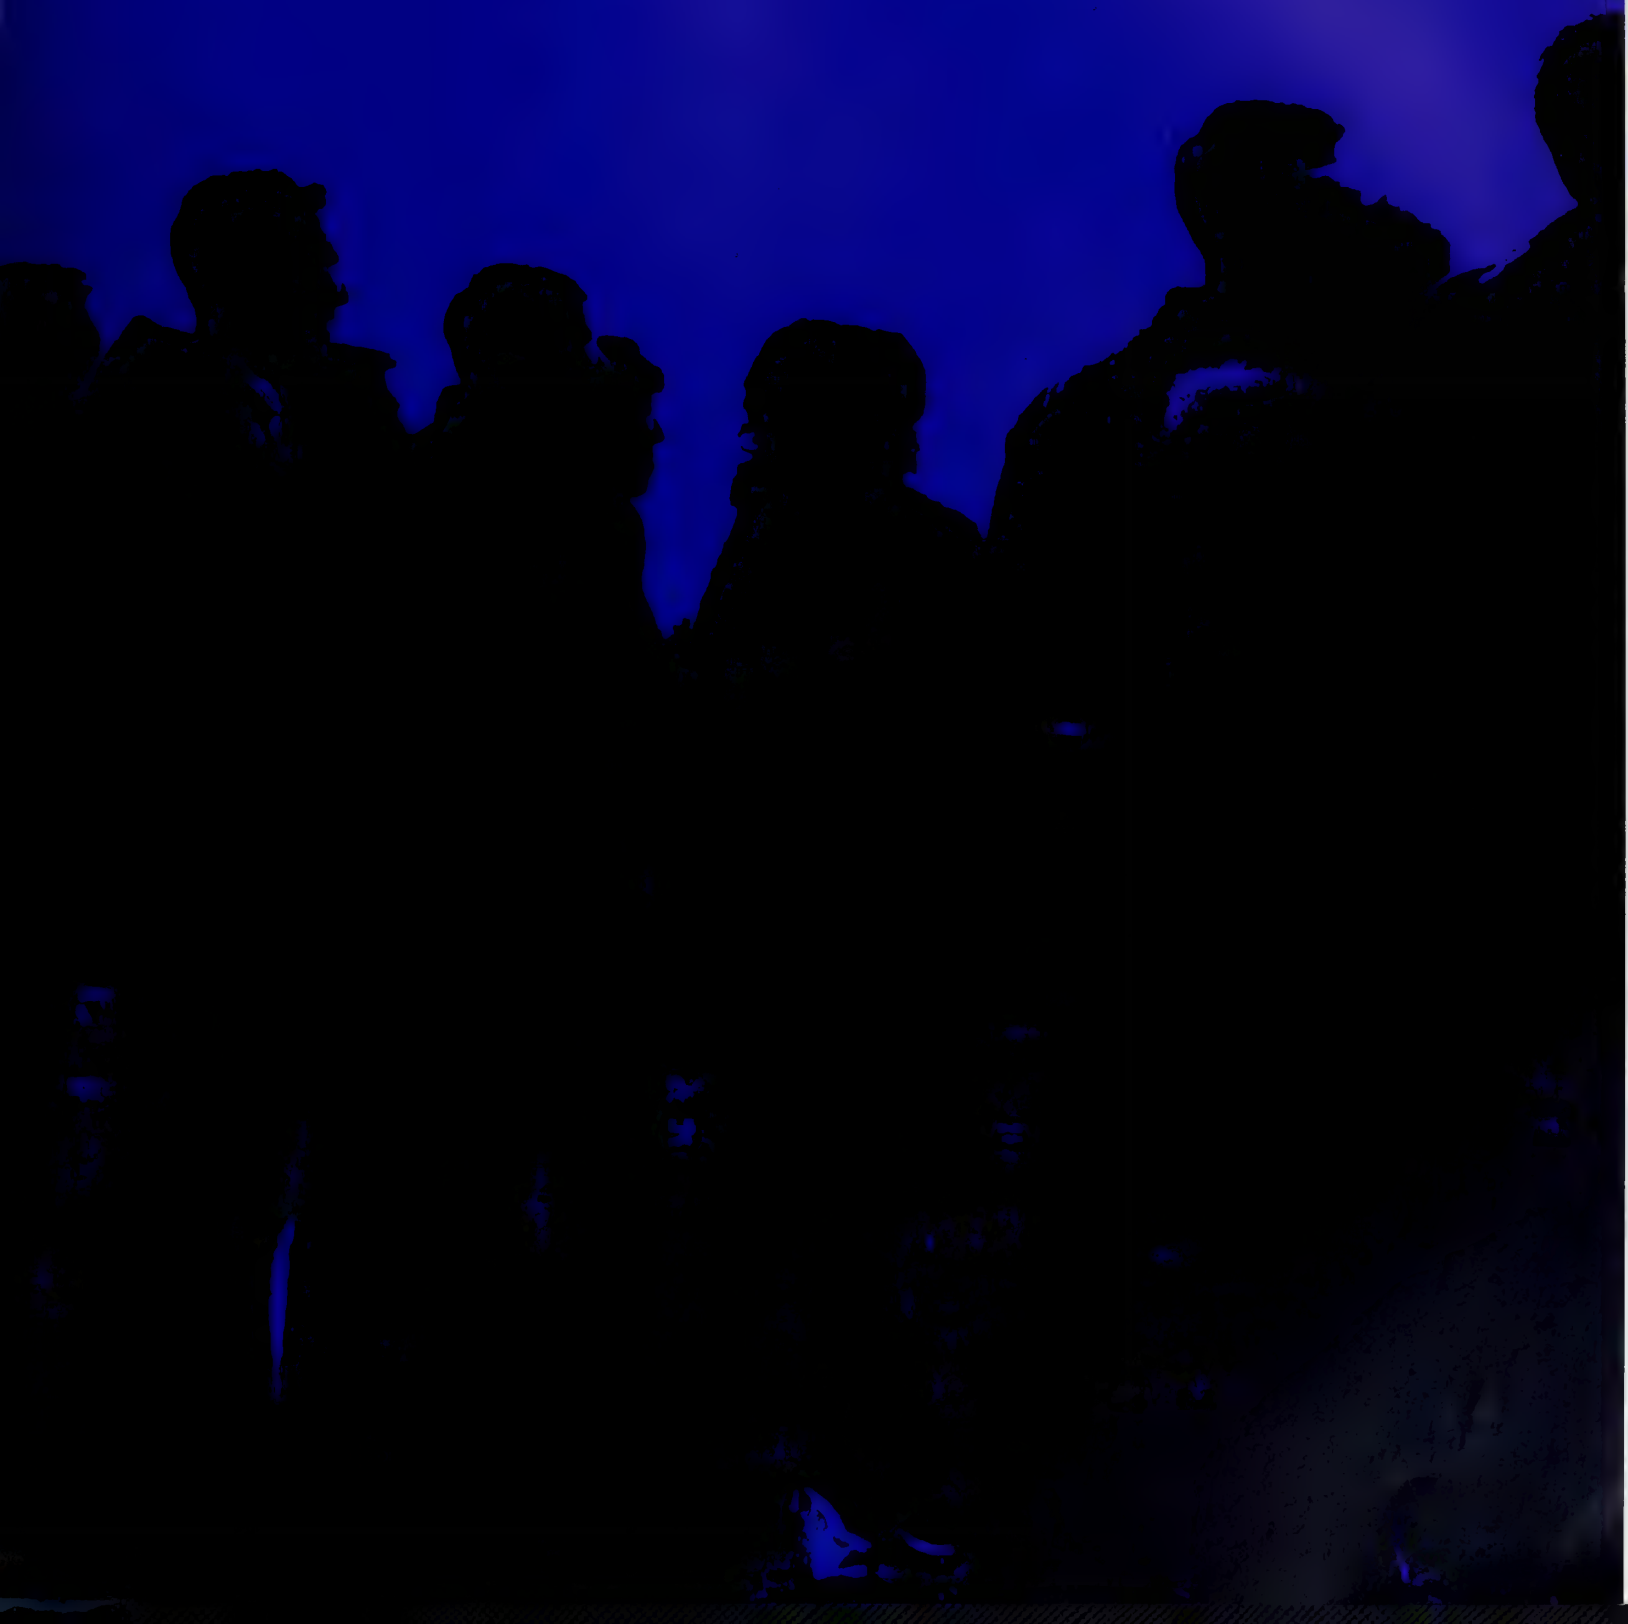

The University of Illinois Foundation acts as a separate non-profit-making corporation of the University. Its main function is to encourage gifts and contributions. A Board of sixteen directors channels the gifts into medical research, scholarship, loan funds, library collections, and student activities. The Foundation has a list of 10,000 contributors. Special gifts such as the Krannert Art Museum and the Center for the Performing Arts are attributable to the Herman C. Krannerts.

Illini Union Is the Hub of University Life

The Illini Union is the center of most University activity. Every year the facilities of the Union are used by students, faculty, alumni, and guests. Since the Union's program is designed to enliven University life, it sponsors a variety of events, varying from cultural, to social, to recreational activities. This broad program of events is responsible for making free-time activity an important factor of University life. As the center of campus life, the Illini Union is the hub from which the students radiate their interests.

The Union's programs also try to encourage the development of leadership. By working with others, one is able to improve his social competency and effectiveness in group activities.

Earl Finder and Building Staff Direct Union

The general operation and smooth functioning of the University's Illini Union is the main responsibility of its Director, Earl Finder, and the Building Staff. The main areas of operation are food service, recreation, guestrooms bookstore, building maintenance, social program, and information.

The Building Staff is responsible for managing all these various areas. From its office on the East side of the Union, the Building Staff tries to maintain the orderly operation of the University's Union. An accounting department, public relations and personnel department, and various other departments are all part of this staff. The Director of the Building Staff is advised by the Illini Union Board, which is responsible for student activities sponsored by IUSA.

Earl Finder, Union director.

Illini Union Board Is Vital Part of the Union's Operations

Michael McCloskey, Union Board President.

All the responsibility for student activities comes under the direction of the Illini Union Board. This Board defines all the policies for and controls the administration and organization of student activities, programs, and services which concern the University as a whole. It also gives advice to the Director of the Illini Union and its auxiliary enterprises. The Union Board works in conjunction with the Building Staff to keep the Union functioning efficiently to meet the needs of the students.

The Union Board is composed of nine students, three faculty members, and three ex officio members who, by working on this University Board, develop skills in human relations and leadership.

Students and Illini Moms Benefit from Union Committees

The Mom's Day Committee spent weeks devising interesting entertainment for Illini moms during the weekend of April 31.

Supplying the Illini Union Art Gallery was one of the chief duties of the Fine Arts Committee, which is responsible for Union special events. The Union Movies Committee again made excellent films available to the students all year at low cost.

International Party, Campus Talent Inspire Students

IUSA again sponsored its annual Allerton Christmas Party on December 24 through 26 at Allerton Park in Monticello, Illinois. Applications were sent to all foreign students attending the University, and approximately 200 attended. During the affair the students exchanged gifts, went ice skating, played games, and sang carols.

Campus Talent, a non-profit agency, fills requests from campus activities as well as off-campus organizations for professional and amateur talent. The names of prospective students are kept on file for future reference.

CLEOPATRA GLOMOVA, LPTOME of a wealthy society, swoons at her nephew's attentions in "Diary of a Scoundrel."

MISS GILCHRIST, NINA Lepinsky, is tempted with her first drink of whiskey by the proprietors of the house, Valerie Mamches and Alan Andrews, "The Hostage."

The first production of the 1965-66 season was Brendan Behan's "The Hostage." Set in an Irish lodging house, the action centers around a young Cockney soldier and his somewhat eccentric, though colorful, captors. Directed by Mary Arbenz, the production combined wild Irish folk music with satire of both Irish nationalism and British imperialism. The bawdy Irish humor and bagpipe music also added appeal.

"Phaedra," by Jean Racine, was produced in the Renaissance mode, underlined by the traditional classic Greek. This approach by the director, Clara Behringer, was particularly refreshing for the audience. "Diary of a Scoundrel," by Alexander Ostrovsky, was directed by Barnard Hewitt; it is a vivid satire on the viciousness and greed of Moscow society around 1860.

Graduate Students Direct New Playwrights' Productions

University Theatre this year produced six Directors' Workshops, two Playwrights' Workshops, and two Experimental Workshops. Here graduate students have the chance to direct, and new playwrights can see their work produced. The first production this season was "Gallows Humor."

It consisted of two parts: the first depicting the last hours of a condemned man's life and the second illustrating a docile hangman's submission to his wife. "Androcles and the Lion" and "Train Going Somewhere" were also produced.

Star Course Slates Top Performers for 1965-66 Season

Star Course, a major source of Illini culture and entertainment, has succeeded during its past seventy-four years in presenting to University of Illinois students a variety of outstanding artists in the fields of music, dance, and drama.

The Entertainment Board, consisting of six student and six faculty members, selects and schedules all performances while directing the policies and finances of Star Course as well.

Ticket sales, advertising, publicity, and public relations are carried on by the two senior managers and eight juniors. Fifty sophomore and seventy freshman managers keep the office running smoothly and usher for the many Star Course presentations throughout the year.

Suzanne Kinder, Senior manager.

Jerilyn Hoffman, Senior manager.

Two Senior Managers Serve As Over-all Directors

Star Course is a student operated, non-profit organization which operates under the auspices of the University Concert and Entertainment Board. Serving as co-ordinating heads of Star Course are two senior managers. One manager is responsible for keeping the internal organization running smoothly while the other is in charge of the financial aspects.

Mary Lou Jupp and Lois Wright, junior managers.

Junior Managers Work Behind the Scenes

Susan Maxon and Eldon Senner, junior managers.

Through Star Course petitioning and interviews, eight students are chosen each spring to fill the junior manager positions for the next year. Serving as heads of the committees which deal with various aspects of presenting Star Course programs, the junior managers are responsible for handling all the arrangements for the concerts. The committees directed by these juniors are: personnel, publicity, staff secretary, advertising, public relations, concert arrangements, and tickets.

The advertising and publicity managers are responsible for publicizing the concerts several weeks before the performers arrive on the University of Illinois campus. Press releases and pictures are sent to local newspapers and flyers are distributed. Accommodations for concert performers are made by the concert arrangements manager.

Student Senate Works for the Benefit of Student Body

Undergraduate student government at the Champaign-Urbana campus of the University is carried out by Student Senate.

Established to promote the general welfare of the student body, it enacts policy as a guide for student activities, acts as a liason between the faculty and the student body, and serves as an outlet for constructive student opinion.

Several of Senate's main goals for the year were liberalization of women's hours, a liberalization in apartment regulations, and expansion of the Student Discount Service now in its second successful year.

The Executive Committee of Senate is composed of the president, vice presidents, secretary, treasurer, public relations director, and co-ordinations chairman. The goal of the executive committee is to promote and maintain leadership in Senate. They also are responsible for carrying out Senate's decisions.

In the fall, after a difficult test and interviews, freshman men and women are selected to participate in Freshman Seminar.

The objective of this program is to develop leadership qualities, plus an appreciation of the educational opportunities that are offered by the University

Student Senate Travel Bureau Plans and Sponsors Flights

The Student Senate Travel Bureau, staffed by students who are interested in travel, handles the planning and selling of various reduced rate transportation programs for members of the University of Illinois and their families. Special emphasis is on European travel. Travel meetings are held at which time questions are answered and information is given.

CSA Helps Students Obtain Desired Privileges

The Committee on Student Affairs is a committee of the Student Senate. CSA, which includes three Student Senate officers, one representative from each of the five housing divisions and the Illini Union, and several faculty members, meets weekly and makes recommendations for protecting the rights of students.

CSA also tries to establish policies for all extracurricular activities of University students.

They work closely with the Student Senate and the Office of the Dean of Students as well as CSA's various subcommittees.

PROFESSOR NAOMI HUNTER, chairman of the Committee on Student Affairs, has worked diligently for the promotion of students' rights.

STUDENT LIFE EDITORS, Judy Kubik and Lee Herzberger, will do anything to get out of meeting yearbook deadlines.

BARBARA SUSIN AND Margo Miller, the editors of Activities Section, try to be the "angels" around the ILLIO office?

Hard on the Planning and Production of the ILLIO

GETTING READY FOR a new assignment from the ILLIO is Tom Martin, IPC photographer.

ROBERT SINCLAIR, ILLIO photographer, checks out new ideas for ILLIO Beauty shots.

The ILLIO, which is the world's largest college yearbook, is organized by the combined efforts of two staffs—the Business and the Editorial Staffs.

The Editorial Staff is managed by three senior editors who handle all the responsibility of overseeing ILLIO functions. The copy editor must check each piece of copy for its style and form, while the photo editor checks layouts and picture cropping before they can be sent in to the printer. Supervision of the entire work is the responsibility of the editor-in-chief. The senior editors must work directly with each of the twelve junior editors.

Junior Editors Responsible for Gathering Information

The Editorial Staff is divided into six sections: Activities, Student Life, Organizations, Residences, Sports, and Seniors. Two junior editors are in charge of each section and are responsible for copy and layouts being finished to meet specific deadlines. Generally, one junior oversees copy and the other layouts.

In addition to individual assignments, all editors work with each other and the seniors to co-ordinate the sections so that the final product is uniform.

DEAN CONLIN AND John Logan, Sports Section editors, examine an ILLIO for improvements.

IT APPEARS THAT Francie Grenias and Dave Ruebush, Residence editors, like to play pranks.

TAKING TIME OUT to have fun are the Organization Section editors, Judy Forth and Janet Lipe.

Bonnie Kohlenberger, personnel records manager and Gregory Cohn, advertising sales manager.

Jean Trisler, billing manager and LaVonne McDowell, sales statistics manager.

John Bryant, advertising manager and Doris Walton, personnel manager.

The main responsibilities of the selling of the ILLIO fall on the Business Staff. There are two senior managers who are aided by ten junior managers, each in charge of a specific department and job.

ILLIO Business Staff Managers Have Important Role

David Davis, ILLIO Beauty contest manager and Gloria Goleas, art.

Gary Dycus, sales and Phyllis Czyzewski, publicity.

The selection of freshmen and sophomores for the ILLIO Editorial Staff is based on interest and willingness to work. New members are assigned to specific sections: campus life, activities, organizations, residences, athletics, or seniors.

After a brief period of orientation, they learn the art of preparing a large yearbook like the ILLIO by performing the varied tasks that are involved. Students learn to gather the necessary information, write copy, crop pictures, and prepare identifications for indexing. Besides learning about the processes of production, members also meet fellow students. Through their ILLIO work, they learn more about the University.

Students Gain Experience on the ILLIO Business Staff

The office of the ILLIO Business Staff is in the Illini Union, and it is constantly being used by nearly one hundred people as a base of operations for the sale and distribution of the ILLIO. Freshmen and sophomores on the Business Staff are responsible for selling the yearbooks and doing general office work during the university year. By working in various departments, the freshmen and sophomores learn different aspects of business. With this experience, they are prepared for becoming future department heads.

Student Publications Are Supervised by the IPC Board

The Illini Publishing Company is a non-profit organization which has devoted itself to supervision of student publications for the past 53 years. Its offices in the basement of Illini Hall are headquarters of these publications. Through the efforts of IPC, the printing of the DAILY ILLINI is accomplished. It also provides administration for the ILLIO, the Illinois TECHNOGRAPH, and WPGU radio station, besides doing various types of printing in the commercial field.

Control of the Illini Publishing Company is handled by a board which consists of four faculty members and four student members.

Faculty members are selected by the President of the University after nomination by the Dean of Students for a four year term. The exsisting Board chooses the student members, who serve a two year term. The Board's responsibilities include selecting editors for the DAILY ILLINI and ILLIO. In the course of its meetings, the Board discusses company policies, as well as the problems which are brought to it by the various publications which it supervises. Through the efforts of IPC, the public receives outstanding publications.

Students Speak Through DI

The DAILY ILLINI, now 95 years old, is one of the few college newspapers that enjoys editorial independence from the University. Everything from reporting the news to selling advertising is done by students. By subscribing to the Associated Press wire Service and the Collegiate Press Service, the DAILY ILLINI is able to give complete coverage to campus, state, national, and international news.

The DAILY ILLINI, which is published by the Illini Publishing Company, is rated as one of the top two college dailies.

There are more than 50 people on the various editorial staffs of the DI. The editorial staffs of the newspaper are grouped into six divisions. The six staffs, each with an editor, are: city, state, sports, campus, activities, and copy.

Editorial Staff of DI Is Divided into Six Sections

Margaret Converse, campus editor.

Sports staff covers all Illinois sports in addition to all intra-mural results. During the basketball tournament, the staff gives close coverage to all the potential winners from the earliest tournaments to the final victory. Campus staff covers groups such as Student Senate, the Board of Trustees, and student organizations. Activities staff reports on Star Course, University Theater, Illini Union Activities, and religious foundations. City staff covers local events, including City Council meetings. State staff reports events within Illinois. Copy staff reads and revises copy to conform to DAILY ILLINI and Associated Press style.

DI Dependent Upon Advertising

The business staff of the DAILY ILLINI is responsible for the advertising, subscriptions, and records of the paper. Since the size of the DAILY ILLINI is dependent upon the number and size of advertisements which appear in the newspaper, the business staff has an important job to do. The classified staff is responsible for the listed advertising. This staff is also in charge of the paper's records. The display staff not only sells and ascribes ads for each printing of the DAILY ILLINI, but is also responsible for the large mat ads. Designing advertisements for merchants is also part of the responsibility of the display staff.

Engineering Students Publish a Monthly Magazine

TECHNOGRAPH is a student magazine reporting new developments and trends in the engineering field as seen from the University of Illinois campus. All work on the magazine is done by undergraduates. An excellent opportunity is provided for students to meet outstanding faculty members in their college.

Founded in 1885, TECHNOGRAPH is the nation's oldest engineering student publication and is presently one of the largest. The magazine is published seven times during the school year and serves as a means of communication between the students of the University of Illinois College of Engineering and engineering students on other campuses throughout the country. In this way, students can follow research being done.

WPGU Provides Campus with a Variety of Programs

WPGU, the student-operated radio station on campus, is the nation's largest financially independent closed-circuit station. Broadcasting from its studios in the basement of Weston Hall, a variety of entertainment and information provides its listeners with the best in sound throughout the year. WPGU also offers valuable experience for students in all areas of radio broadcasting and programming.

The Board of Fraternity Affairs, established in 1946, acts as the general policy making body of IFC and also serves as a board of appeals for Interfraternity Council committee decisions. As one of its duties, the Board makes the ultimate recommendation to the Subcommittee on Student Discipline in a case where University of Illinois rules and regulations are involved. Members of the Board include three faculty fraternity members, three alumni members, five students who are elected officers of the IFC Executive Committee, and the Assistant Dean of Men for Fraternity Affairs at the University of Illinois.

Board of Fraternity Affairs Promotes "The Greek Way"

The Policy Makers of the Interfraternity Council

Two major bodies of IFC are the Executive Committee and the Presidents' Council. The Executive Committee, composed of the elected officers of IFC, the chairman of the Rush Committee and the chairman of the Presidents' Advisory Committee, discusses and presents issues of interest to IFC. The Presidents Council, composed of the presidents of the fifty-seven fraternities, is the legislative and authoritative body of the IFC.

Revised last year to better its services to fraternity pledges, the Junior Interfraternity Council represents the voice of pledges on the campus. Officers are chosen in an election early in the year; every house then sends a pledge representative to regular meetings of the Council.

Public relations, scholarship, social affairs, pledge training, and various other aspects of fraternity life are discussed by JIF throughout each school year. Speakers, projects, and discussion groups also highlight the meetings.

An essential feature of JIF is its Co-ordinating Board, organized in '64. This Board helps provide better training and education for its members; in doing this a stronger liaison is created between JIF and IF.

Program Board, PAC Exemplify Interests of Illinois IPC

The Program Board tries to direct efforts of individual committees along lines most profitable to IFC and prepares programs to be presented to the Executive Committee. All but two of the committee chairmen are members.

The Presidents' Advisory Committee, composed of several house presidents, acts as a body of review for IFC projects and problems. They also recommend solutions to the Executive Committee of IFC.

Phi Alpha Mu, Fraternity Life Organize Greek Initiatives

Phi Alpha Mu, interfraternity scholastic honorary, was formed in 1964 to recognize outstanding scholarship among fraternity men. Fraternity men with at least ninety credit hours and a 4.5 or above grade average are eligible to petition for membership. Selection of members is made by the Activities Committee chairman.

Fraternity Life, a joint publication of Panhellenic and IFC, seeks to provide better communication between the two systems and individual houses. It also hopes to provide non-Greeks with a better understanding of the purpose and activities of the Greek system.

Panhellenic, the governing body of the twenty-four national sororities on campus, aims to instill in its members a greater appreciation of the importance of an active interest in the world around them. The legislative power is vested in the Presidents' Council, composed of the presidents of the individual sororities. At the beginning of second semester four officers are elected by the houses, each sorority having one vote. These officers in turn choose the other members of the seventeen member Executive Council through interviews and petitions. This body is responsible for carrying out the programs of Senior and Junior Panhellenic.

Panhellenic Promotes Women's Active Role on Campus

Rush Counselors Aid Rushees by Answering Questions

The Judicial Board of Panhellenic, headed by a Judicial Chairman, hands down decisions in cases of infractions of rules and questions of membership and pledging. The chairman and five members-at-large are joined by a rush chairman if rush rules are involved.

With deferred rushing fairly new, rough spots and problems remained to be resolved. The Evaluation Committee found this especially difficult as it did not have any past experience with which to compare last year's rush.

The rush counselors, more so than ever, helped orient the rushees to sorority living before rush began. They arranged panel discussions in the fall to clarify misconceptions and an afternoon of open houses giving interested girls a chance to visit several houses and hear talks on sorority life.

WISA Attempts to Serve Every Aspect of Campus Life

After celebrating its fiftieth anniversary last year, WISA is planning another fifty years of serving independent women students in every aspect of campus life: social, academic, and cultural.

One of WISA's primary concerns is to promote scholarship; thus, it helps sponsor a campus-wide tutoring system. Last year WISA gave $2000 for scholarships and grants-in-aid.

To provide the "social backing" that University women once felt was lacking, WISA and MIA co-sponsor several social activities. One tradition, which began in 1949 as an independent women's dance, is now known as Sno-Ball. Dad's Day Review and Freshman Board are also included in WISA's activities.

Board Serves Freshmen

CWS Represents Women

The Council of Women Students is made up of WISA and Panhellenic representatives and, thus, serves as the collective voice for all undergraduate women. CWS works directly with Student Senate and CSA in proposing bills.

Illini Guides Orient New Students to University Life

The Illini Guides have the important task of orienting new freshmen to the campus. They are able to answer questions and give information which helps newcomers overcome the fear associated with the bigness and strangeness of the campus.

An Illini Guide works closely with new students by remaining in close contact and giving advice immediately whenever a problem arises, whether it is a social or an academic one. Thus, a new student's anxiety is eased through this friendship.

The Men's Residence Halls Association tries to provide a program of activity which will interest and involve a group of 5,000 men. Along with its basic goals of increasing leadership, initiative, and scholarship, MRHA is attempting to stimulate individuals to seek understanding, knowledge, and relaxation through individual effort whenever possible. It is instituting better student programs to furnish a "humanizing element" in which classroom education and out-of-class activities blend, providing the individual with a complete education. The Executive Council of MRHA manages the internal business of the Association. It also advises the President's Council on MRHA and campus affairs.

MRHA Provides for a Complete Education

Presidents' Council Accommodates Individual Interests

The task of accommodating the individual's interest is that of the MRHA Presidents' Council. It is their job to create new social, cultural, and intellectual programs to meet the changing needs of the residents. Presidents' Council handles legislative changes; it is here that the constitution, by-laws, and judicial code are reviewed. The Council also appropriates funds and selects its officers.

Corrective measures are decided upon in the judicial system of MRHA. Cases are first reviewed by individual houses. If an appeal is made, however, the Association Judicial Board will review the appeal and make a decision concerning the case in question.

MRHA Participates in Numerous Social Events

THE ATTRACTIVE MRH dorms add a touch of beauty to the area.

Throughout each year, MRHA strives to take an active part in the activities of the University. Socially, MRHA is encouraging increased relationships with other housing groups, participation in co-recreational and intra-mural sports, and increased expression of school spirit through participation in pep rallies, Dad's Day Revue, and other paired events. During Dad's Day Weekend, MRHA, WISA, and MIA held the annual Dad's Day Revue—one of the high spots of the campus weekend. MRHA can call itself an active group.

MRH MEN SEEM to find time for their academic duties.

INFORMAL DANCES ARE common sights around MRH.

FOLKSINGING AND INFORMAL get-togethers are frequent events.

The Men's Independent Association is an organization linking and representing on campus the men living in the various independent housing units. Its primary purpose is to maintain a high level of health and study conditions in these privately owned homes. The Association deals directly with the owners and serves as a mediator for grievances between the students and their landlords.

This year, in addition to its usual activities, special attention was given to long range planning for MIA, adapting the programs and services of the organization in order to adjust to the ever-changing and ever-growing University of Illinois.

Joseph Coyne, president of MIA.

MIA Adapts to Changing and Growing University

MIA Exemplifies the Interests of Independent Men

In order to keep up with usual MIA policy, the useful previous policies were extended, and new programs to handle new problems were begun. This year a freshman board, whose duty it is to develop leadership, was continued as well as expanded. In the way of beginning programs a leadership conference for house officers was initiated with the main purpose of preparing and training men for the performance of their jobs. Also introduced this year were weekly "Friday Flings" and informal "open house" dances, which helped to break up the rigors of studying.

Sno-Ball, the annual winter formal sponsored by the Women's Independent Student Association and the Men's Independent Association, was held Saturday, November 20th. Old-fashioned street lamps and a silhouette of a man and woman as a backdrop behind the queen's platform helped carry out the dance's theme, "Our Winter Love." Large snowballs were used for the ballot boxes along with the pictures of the candidates. Voting for the queen was done by placing ticket stubs in the ballot boxes.

Crowning of Queen Was Highlight of Sno-ball Formal

Sara Baker, 1965 Sno-Ball Queen.

The highlight of the 1965 dance was the crowning of the fifteenth Sno-Ball Queen, Miss Sara Baker. The new queen, a junior living in 4-H House and majoring in music, was chosen from a court including Prudence Berline, Patricia Hearst, Bernadine Heller, Sylvia Lundin, and Patricia O'Connor.

As chairmen for the dance, Marilynn Johnson and Kenneth Nimrick presented the new queen with a bouquet of red roses and a charm bracelet. Each member of the court also received a charm as a remembrance of the evening. As in past years, Sno-Ball was a great success.

YMCA Serves University Students

The program of the YMCA allows the individual to select from various activities ranging from Pal, a community service program, to Power Politics and Ethics. Also, the YMCA has a cafeteria, the Kaeser Room.

Unlike the community YMCA, the University of Illinois YMCA does not provide athletic facilities. Instead, it tries to provide an atmosphere in which individuals, in solitude and concert, may freely and openly engage in an unlimited search for life's meaning. Traditionally the University "Y" has sought to confront and challenge issues which make an individual fully aware of the importance of man and the maintenance of his humanism in a world that is rapidly becoming secular, urban, and impersonal.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Dean Allen Weller, chairman; Professor Martin Wagner, vice chairman; Albert Tillman, secretary; Professor Francis Weeks, treasurer.

YWCA Fosters Leadership and Effective Participation

OFFICERS OF THE YWCA: Susan Lashborok, treasurer; Sally Ridgeway, secretary; Karen Strohm, president; Rosemary Walton, vice president.

Everyone is invited to join the local community of college women who are interested in doing something about the events of our times. The campus YW includes a variety of small groups for discussion of ideals, service, and fun.

The YW develops student concern. Through the encounter groups, student forums, and faculty firesides, the participants gain insight into such vital issues as the war on poverty, urban renewal and international tensions.

The YWCA does not promise that happiness is being a member, but that happiness consists of being concerned with the ideas and activities that prove meaningful to an individual.

WESA Provides Competitive Sport Activities for Women

Women's Extramural Sports Association is a student organization for undergraduate women who are interested in competitive sports. This program also emphasizes student leadership and offers participants the opportunity to visit other campuses and to entertain other college women on our campus. In addition, WESA offers advanced instruction in the sports played.

Engineers Honored at Ball

St. Pat's Ball, named after the patron saint of engineering, is held each March on a weekend near St. Pat's Day. Outstanding engineering juniors and seniors are knighted and honored with membership in the Knights of St. Pat, the honorary activity society for engineers. A queen is chosen from candidates nominated by various professional engineering societies.

SNIB Informs Campus

The Student News and Information Bureau is made up of students of all interests and majors. However, it is a news agency only for the College of Agriculture. SNIB is organized into sections of photography, press, publications, radio, television, and exhibits. During the year SNIB mobilizes these media outlets to publicize the major activities of the agriculture campus.

Women's Glee Club Takes Pride in Its Work

Through its tours and concerts the Women's Glee Club performs a service to both the University and the community. The club, directed by Elmer Thomas, began its year by singing for the Illinois Educational Institute, Illinois Choral Clinic, and Dad's Day Banquet. In the spring the club toured Southern Illinois, giving concerts in Carbondale and surrounding areas. The Glee Club also performed for the annual Mom's Day Concert. The repertoire consists of various types of music, from the classical to the modern. By singing different forms of music, the members can gain a deeper appreciation of it. Participating in Women's Glee Club is an enjoyable experience.

Singing Illini Carry on Traditions of Success and Quality

Founded in 1887, the Varsity Men's Glee Club has continued to grow in popularity, enthusiasm, and accomplishment. Success is a dominant feature of the club, as evidenced by the wide acclaim of its audiences.

Relatively few members of this club are enrolled in the School of Music. The result of this blend of students, brought together by a love for music, is a strong fraternal spirit bringing forth the best in song.

European Tour Highlight of Season for Men's Glee Club

"THE VOYAGERS", THE Glee Club trio, give an informal concert.

All members of the Varsity Men's Glee Club agree that their European tour in the summer of 1965 was one of excitement and enjoyment. They left Chicago on August 16 and arrived in Paris on the seventeenth where they spent two days. While there, they toured Paris and made a tape recording. A three day stop in Rome was next with a concert in Brindizi following. Stopping next in Greece, the Glee Club toured Athens, Olympia, and Corinth, performing various concerts along the way. The highlight of their Grecian trip was learning and singing the Greek national anthem in Greek. They wound up their tour with another trip to Rome to perform for the Pope.

Choir Performs at Various Concerts During Busy Season

The Concert Choir has continued to maintain its reputation as a fine choral group. Its select membership is based on previous scholarship performance and musical ability. In the fall they sang at a choral clinic directed by Robert Shaw.

This was followed by a Thanksgiving television program, a Christmas concert, and a spring concert on Campus.

University Chorus Divides; Women's Ensemble Is Formed

This year's University Chorus was under the direction of Richard Bloesch. It consisted of eighty students, many of whom were not music majors. By practicing in the Chorus, these young men and women gained valuable training and experience in using their voices. Because there were so many girls who comprised University Chorus a separate group, called the Women's Ensemble, was formed. This ensemble was composed of twenty girls under the direction of Jameson Marvin, and it is gaining renown as a distinct group from the Chorus. Several times during the past year these two groups got together and gave each other a concert. Refreshments were provided and a good time was had by all. Often, too, the groups would exchange directors, adding variety to the course.

The University Chorus and the Women's Ensemble gave two major performances this year. The first one was a Christmas Concert given at the Assembly Hall in combination with the Men's and Women's Girl Clubs; the second was in the spring.

Directed by Professor Bernard Goodman, the University of Illinois Symphony Orchestra again displayed a concert season of outstanding excellence and superiority. The Orchestra, which is composed of students who have proven their proficiency in the field of music, was selected by the State Department to tour South America in 1964. The 1965-66 season included a performance for the Music Educators National Convention and a concert on campus.

Concert Band Gains Campus and National Acclaim

Mark Hindsley, conductor.

Seventy-six years of success have made the University of Illinois Concert Band nearly legendary on campus, state, and national levels. Last year marked the Concert Band's Diamond Anniversary, and this year it again scheduled both January and April concerts. Under the direction of Mark Hindsley, who attempted to present a new approach in concert music, the band played selections such as Shostakovich's "Festive Overture," Bach's "Dionysia," and Jager's "Second Suite."

First Regimental Band's Spring Concerts Entertain Illini

About 100 musicians constitute the First Regimental Band, a select group second only to the Concert Band, which meets three hours each week to practice for concerts and programs. Some of these include their Formal and Twilight Concerts in the spring, their matinee performance for MRH, and their participation at Honors Day. In addition, the male members make up the core of the Illini Marching Band which plays during football games.

Everett Kisinger, conductor.

Guy Duker, conductor.

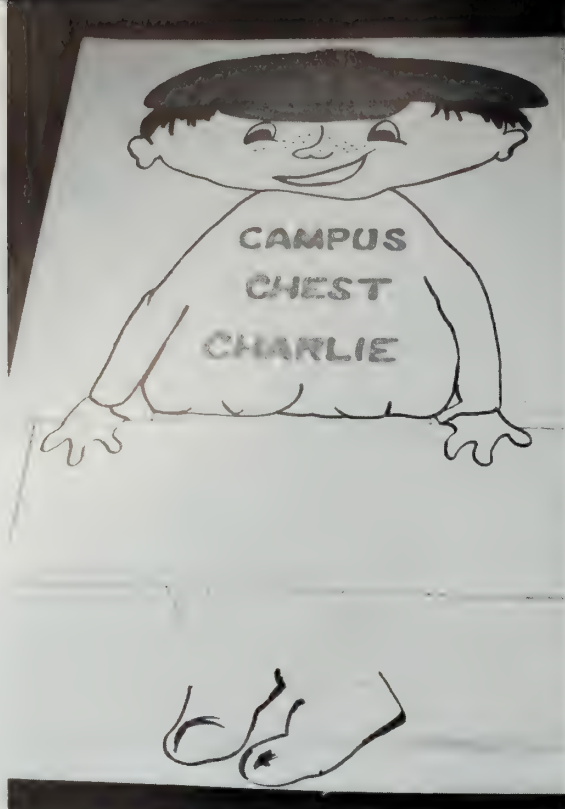

The Second Regimental Band this year performed at the Twelfth Annual Festival of Concert Band Music on January 14-15 and for various Twilight Concerts. Members of the band are chosen through auditions held each semester and daily during the summer. A person's ability to play effectively will determine whether he will be chosen for the band.

Illini Sports Disappointing

The Illinois sports scene was one of both surprises and disappointments this year. Characterized by great individual achievements, Illinois teams often failed in the big games which could have pushed them to the top.

A notable example was Harry Coombes' basketball team. Led by record breaking scoring by Don Freeman and by the outstanding play of Rich Jones and Jim Dawson, the Coombesmen had little trouble with top teams Michigan and Iowa, but could not seem to find the range against cellar teams Purdue and Indiana. Inconsistent throughout the season, the Illini finished third in a strong Big Ten Conference.

Another disappointment lay with the baseball team. Recovering splendidly from a last place finish in 1964, Coach Eilbracht's squad faltered on the final weekend of the season, losing the game to Purdue, and with it, a chance for the conference crown. Again one man led the way as sophomore Ken Holtzman pitched the team to a fifth place conference finish.

Other Illini athletic teams floundered through mediocre seasons. One team, however, came away with a sixth consecutive conference title. Roger Garrett and Captain John Tocks helped Coach Mac Garrett's fencers to Illinois' only conference championship of the year.

Basics Stressed in Spring Football

Football practice begins early at Illinois—in the middle of the baseball season. Spring is the time to stretch and strain those unused muscles and to get into some semblance of top physical fitness. And then all those play books must be memorized again. Kicking and the other fundamentals have to be learned all over, and then, finally, scrimmages can be run. Among all those fellows in unnumbered jerseys, some may become football players next fall.

Inexperience Spells Disaster

The season opened badly for the Illini and soon got worse. After dropping a close 12-10 decision to Oregon State, they romped over Southern Methodist 42-0, only to fall in quick succession to Michigan State and Ohio State. Hampered by inexperience, and at times dazzled by the slick play of All-American Paul Brothers, the Fighting Illini lost their opener, chiefly through their own mistakes. With thirteen sophomores and nine non-lettermen on the roster, Pete Elliott's squad simply could not contain the Beaver ground game, nor could they capitalize on three recovered fumbles. In the second game of the season, everything clicked and it was a rout over SMU. Fred Custardo tossed for three touchdown passes, two of them to sophomore John Wright for 64 and 51 yards. The next two games proved disastrous. After holding Michigan State for almost three quarters the Illini lost first Don Hansen, then the game, by a 22-12 margin. In the fourth game of the season the Buckeyes of Ohio State destroyed a much-demoralized Illini squad 28-14. It marked the sixth straight season the Illini have been unable to beat OSU.

Illini Please Home Crowd

In a mixed season, the football fortunes of the Fighting Illini took a definite upswing with successive victories over Duke and Indiana.

In a game marked by chill winds and Duke fumbles, Callie Pinder's breakaway speed proved decisive as the Illini posted their third victory to even their season record. Pinder raced eighty yards for one touchdown and Fred Custardo scored another, his first of the season, on a seven yard plunge. The Blue Devils were plagued by three lost fumbles and three Illini interceptions. Two of the miscues led directly to Illinois scores. The 1965 Homecoming game was a romp, with both Illinois and Jim Grabowski running over Indiana by a 34-13 margin. The senior fullback carried thirty times for 186 yards, breaking the forty year career rushing mark of Red Grange in the process. The Illini seemed finally to have jelled as a team.

Illini Reach Peak at Purdue

Pete Elliott's inconsistent juggernaut climaxed the '65 season with a reverberating shutout victory over top-ranked Purdue. Millions of armchair quarterbacks watched Bo Batchelder and company maul Purdue 21-0.

Bo earned the Lineman of the Week Award by intercepting two passes, recovering a fumble, and stealing the ball from Griesse's hands for a 55-yard gallop. Grabowski scored the initial touchdown and broke the Big Ten three year rushing record in addition to passing Tommy O'Connell's 1951-52 total offense record. Sophomore John Wright teamed up with Custardo to account for the other two scores. Although Grabowski and Batchelder were standouts in the upset, Coach Elliott described the victory as the "greatest effort of any team with which I've been connected."

TYPICAL OF THE Michigan game, Illini defenders stop halfback Carl Ward deep in the secondary.

Defense, Grabowski Key

Though the Fighting Illini ended their home season with a 23-3 loss to Michigan, they rounded out a winning campaign with two convincing victories over Wisconsin and Northwestern.

The Illini scored quickly against Michigan as Fred Custardo booted a seven yard field goal. However, unable to stop Michigan's Carl Ward, the Illini lost a seventh successive time to Coach Pete Elliott's brother Bump. Rebounding against a hapless Wisconsin defense, the Grabowski-led Illini ripped the Badgers for a 51-0 victory. The Illini capitalized on seven turnovers, and Grabowski carried for 198 yards.

Grabowski again led the Illini in their 20-6 final win over Northwestern. Grabowski added 186 yards, passing the Big Ten mark for single season yardage.

END CRAIG TIMKO is stopped after grabbing a short pass.

The Illini's Chief

Fred Cash, better known as Chief Illiniwek, played a double role this year. In addition to his position as the Illini's Chief, Fred was also a member of the football team. Consequently, this required that he change outfits often. Fred left just before the end of the half to go to the locker room where he then donned his Chief Illiniwek outfit and applied his war paint. Later, he made his surprise appearance from amidst the ranks of the marching band, dancing down the field to the wild cheers of the fans. Embodying the spirit of all Illini, the Chief creates a level of spirit missing at most college football games.

Inexperience Results in Inconsistency

No team losing great basketball players like Thoren, Brody, and Redmon, can hope to replace them in a day, or even in one season. The early part of the campaign found Coach Harry Combes juggling lineups in an effort to discover a consistently winning combination which could subdue other Big Ten powerhouses. It was this first-line inexperience which hampered the Illini's success.

Led by the record breaking scoring of team captain Don Freeman and the fine play of sophomore Rich Jones, Illinois experienced success and disappointment. Opening at home, the cagers stung Butler 88-74, but looked very ragged doing it. Although Combes could not find a fourth and fifth man to complete his first five, Jim Dawson emerged as an outside shooter and a consistent scoring threat.

Win Some; Lose Some

The hardest thing for a young and inexperienced team to do is to win on the road. Faced with a tough early schedule, the Fighting Illini dropped two decisions on the same weekend. They lost 109-98 to Brigham Young, then were tripped 87-79 by UCLA. As if these two encounters weren't enough, Illinois returned home to face Kentucky, the number one team in the nation. The Illini lost 86-68. Having taken its lumps from the best, a chastened Illinois squad thumped West Virginia 96-86 and an unwary Wisconsin team 90-70, bringing its season record to 3-3. But just as the Illini started to jell, they reverted to previous form and dropped a mistake filled 84-81 decision to Princeton.

Illini Stung by Cellar Dwellers

The weeks following the nationally-prominent upset of Big Ten leader Michigan brought into sharp focus the problems that plagued the Illini during the 1965-66 season. Inconsistency struck again as the Illini won a shaky victory over Ohio State by one point and then lost similar contests to Northwestern 80-77 and Indiana 81-77. The cager's reliance upon Don Freeman seemed to be at the bottom of the problem. When Don was a little inconsistent, the team ceased to function in a coordinated manner. Freeman's bout with the stomach flu led to the instability that spelled disaster for the young Illini squad.

SOPHOMORE RON DUNLAP stuffs two big points.

EVEN THE REFEREE may have trouble untangling this confusion.

Close But Not Quite

Illinois basketball ventures started erratically and, unfortunately, finished the same way. Coming off their exceptional performance against Minnesota, the Illini bowed to the eventual second place Michigan State squad 68-66 and then lost a rematch to Minnesota 94-92.

The sometimes down but never out attitude prevailed as Purdue fell 98-81 with sophomore Rich Jones getting 30 points.

The following Saturday the squad put out one of their finest performances of the season, thumping a strong Iowa team 106-90 with Don Freeman contributing 32 points. The 1965-66 Illini wound up at 12-12; but Rich Jones, Ron Dunlap, and Jim Dawson will return to spark a strong team.

Double or Nothing

A sophomore dominated baseball squad came within a weekend of capturing the Big Ten title last spring. On the last weekend of the season the Illini dumped Purdue 3-1 behind Ken Holtzman's two hitter only to have a Michigan State victory on the same day eliminate them from a share of the title.

It was a comeback season for Coach Lee Eibracht's team after finishing with a 1-14 mark in the Big Ten the previous season. Illinois ended with an 8-6 conference mark, an overall 14-9 record, and were only 3½ games behind the champion Ohio State team. Particularly encouraging was the fine all round play of sophomore pitchers Ken Holtzman and Art Allen. Also impressive in their rookie seasons were infielders Danny Humay, Jerry Szukala, Al Waters, and Bill Schlueter.

Baseball A-Go-Go

Baseball '65, Illini style, was marked by hustle and more hustle.

rain and occasionally the other team.

Last year was a building year, and build we did, combining some fine sophomore talent with established men like Jim Vopicka and Trenton Jackson.

Like any team that did not make the top,
we can say wait until next year.

But with our team we can hardly wait.

End of An Era

The 1964-65 track season, the last for twenty-eight year veteran Leo Johnson who retired at the end of the season, was a mediocre one for the Illini. There were only two bright spots in the indoor season. One was the :06.1 sixty yard dash turned in by Trenton Jackson in the NCAA championships and the other was the great job done by the mile relay team at the Big Ten meet in the Armory March 6.

Their time of 3:15.2 was the best for the Big Ten indoor season.

The outdoor season was, due to injuries and the loss of Trenton Jackson to baseball, a frustrating one.

In the Big Ten meet at Iowa, however, Bogie Redmon tossed the discus 167 ft. 3½ in. for the Big Ten title and a new Iowa field record.

Bill Hartman and Foster Travis also showed well in the meet.

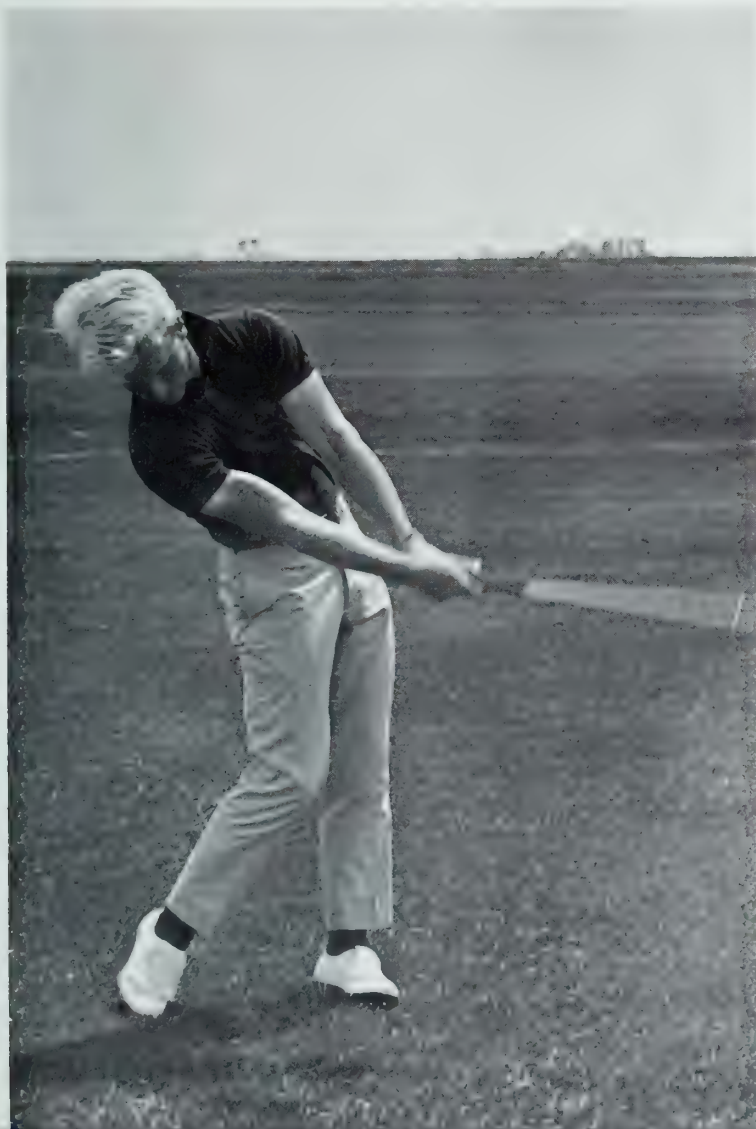

JOHN FLEMING GETS set to stroke a short putt as he tours the Savoy links.

No Place to Go But Up

The Illini linksmen under Coach Ralph Fletcher had a dismal season, finishing tenth in the Big Ten. Holding down top spot on the Illinois team was sophomore Tom Parkhill, banging out an average of 78.6 clouts per loop. Sophomore Dennis Cashman took second position, averaging 80 strokes per round. Closing out their final season with the Illini were seniors Bob Goulding, captain Charles Kohr, Lee Newell, and Joe Hurst. Hope for the '66 season revolves about a nucleus of seasoned sophomores including Steve Nester and John Fleming.

Netmen Surge Toward Top

Although it was his first season of big time college coaching, Bob Lansford brought the Illini netmen to a respectable fifth place position in the Big Ten. Leading his Illini attack was Captain Tom Bauer, who played in the number one position on the squad.

He was backed by two hard-hitting sophomores, Jerry Johnson and Jim Dawson. Even though the Illini netters placed no one in the conference meet finals at Indiana, the final season statistics revealed a creditable won-loss record of 9-4. With so many outstanding players back to spark the squad, the building Illini are looking ahead and hoping to gain extensive ground in reaching the top division crown next year.

THE PAUSE THAT refreshes!

Wrestlers Pinned With Defeat

Pinned by ill fortune and taken down by a rugged schedule, the Illini matmen suffered through a long, long 65-66 season, a season replete with injuries, bad breaks, and more than a few competitive setbacks.

If nothing else, Coach Patterson's wrestlers learned the art of losing gracefully. Two of the bright spots in an otherwise dull season were little Al McCullen, wrestling in the 130 weight class, and at 137, team captain Fred Aprati.

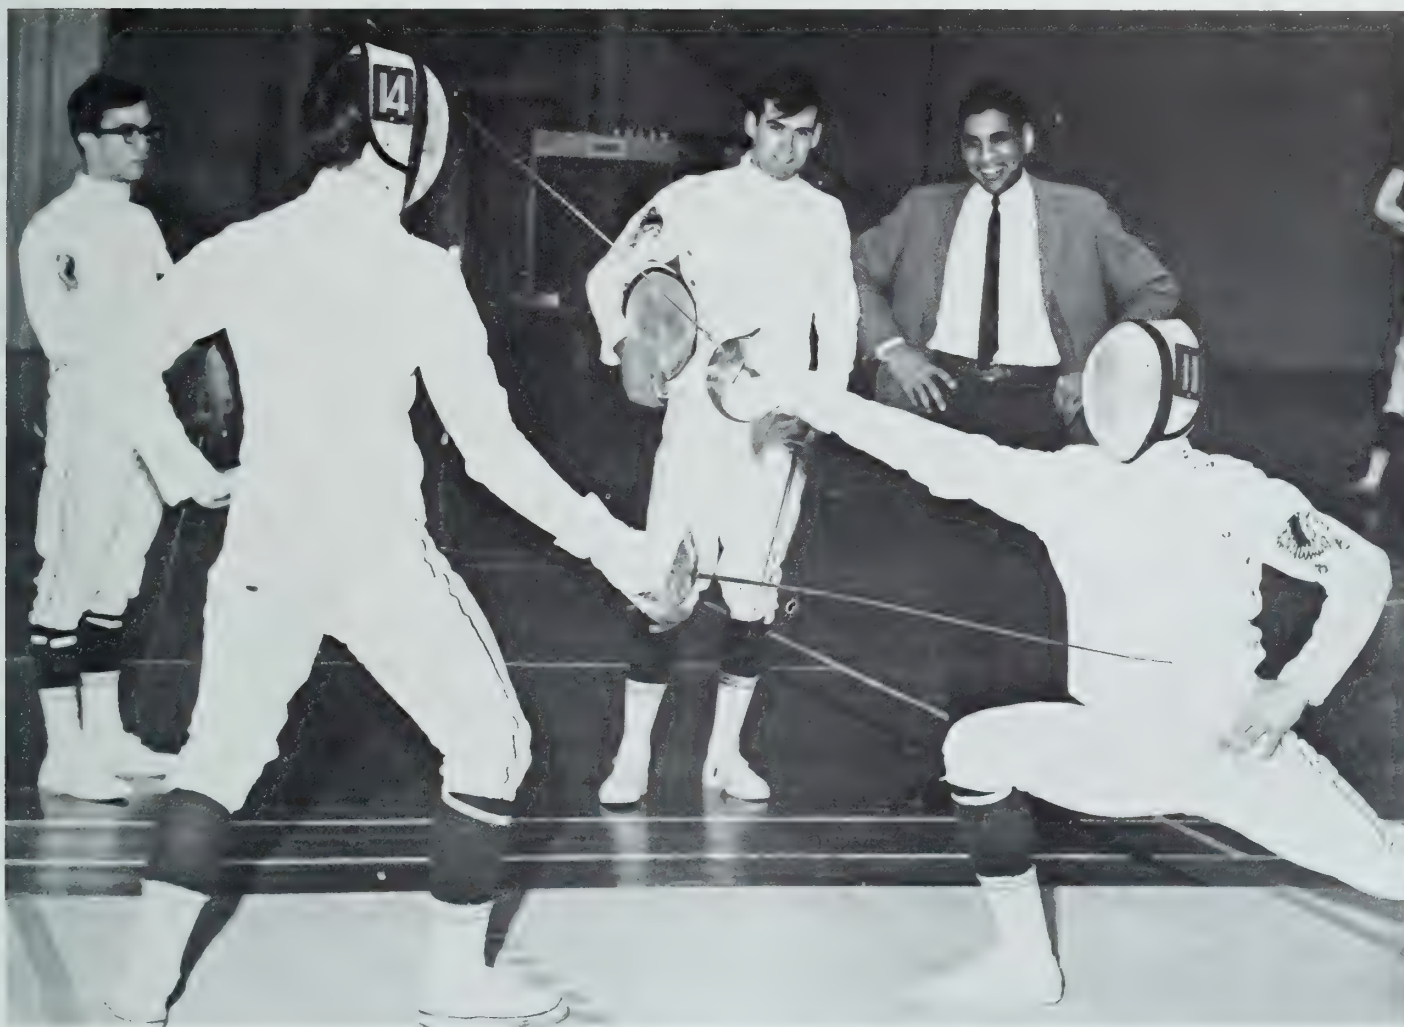

ILLINOIS FENCER PARRIES opponent and scores a touch in an epee match.

Fencers Take Big Ten

The absence of NCAA champion Craig Bell from the fencing team was felt by Mac Garret's fencers this year; but despite this fact, they managed to win the conference championship for the sixth year in a row. Though not showing well during the season, the team won the Big Ten Meet.

There were several particularly bright spots for the Illini. Captain John Tocks and Ron Aufrecht in foil and Roger Garret in epee were outstanding all season.

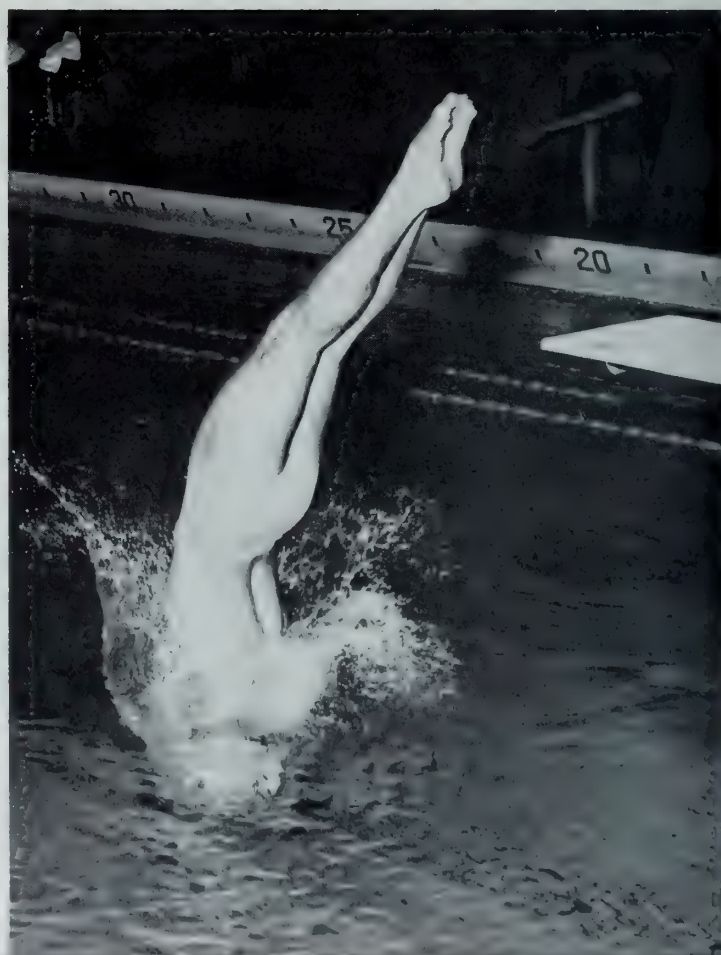

LAST YEAR'S NCAA champion Craig Bell watches with approval at a practice match between two young Illini fencers.

Swimmers on the Rise

Coach Al Klingel is not used to losing more than he wins as his record of ten out of twelve winning seasons attests. The two losing seasons, however, occurred the past two years. Thus unhappy Coach Klingel's goal this year was to regain his winning stride. His tankmen led by Bob Bachman in the freestyle and Dave Florio in the sprints, rewarded him handsomely for his efforts as they went into the last four meets leading the conference. And with no graduating seniors, next year looks even better.

Gymnastics Squad Shows Signs of Improvement

The Illinois gymnastics team dominated the Big Ten almost from habit throughout the fifties, winning championships from 1950 to 1960—eleven consecutive years.

During that span they also won four national titles. This year's gymnastics squad, rebounding from a poor showing last season, made definite strides toward regaining their former supremacy.

Undefeated through the half of the season, they were strong contenders for another Big Ten title.

Gymnastics, which stresses strength, co-ordination, and timing to a higher degree than almost any other competitive sport, is basically a test of individual performances. There are seven gymnastic events, including the trampoline, rings, the parallel bars, the horizontal bar, vaulting, floor exercises, and the side horse.

Points are awarded for routines in each of these events. Some gymnasts outstanding this year were team captain Bill Silhan, Harold Shaw, and Hargo Rollo. Also making great contributions were John Eliason and freshman Gary Holveck.

Butkus Repeats as Athlete of the Year

Dick Butkus continued the Illini tradition of excellence as he became the third athlete in Illinois history to win the Athlete of the Year title two years in a row. This year Butkus completed the first phase of his hopefully long and successful career with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. As a rookie he became a super star and made the NFL All-Star Team as middle linebacker. Butkus was a standout among varsity athletes.

Clayton Beattie enjoyed a three year undefeated record in dual meet competition and a 1964 Big Ten second place title. Craig Bell was the 1965 AOY runner-up and added a Big Ten championship title and an NCAA runner-up title in saber competition to a '63 second place in the Big Ten and to a '64 NCAA championship. Rich Callaghan became the fourth man to win nine letters and was one of Illinois' greatest all-around athletes. Skip Thoren followed many Illini cage immortals. Skip set a conference record with his .560 shooting percentage and was elected the squad's most valuable player for two consecutive years.

S I C AIA

Expanding knowledge of the art and science of architecture outside the regular curriculum, the student chapter of the American Institute of Architects aims to provide a transition for the college student into a life of professional, public service. Open to all students of architecture, this organization seeks to enrich the architect's total outlook through discussion and observation. Each year the AIA has a full agenda of activities, including such items as field trips to prominent architectural works, lectures, tours, and art competitions. Discussion with other AIA students at national and regional conventions further enrich members' architectural knowledge.

A.C.E.

Anyone interested in children between the ages two and twelve may join the Association for Childhood Education. However, the club is composed mainly of elementary education and child development majors. Study groups and workshops provide members with useful knowledge for future work with children.

The basic purpose of the organization is to work for a high standard of education for children. Through secondary aims, members try to reach their goal.

A.I.Ch.E.

On campus, the chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers functions as both a vocational and a social club. Monthly meetings include talks presented by speakers representing many aspects of the industry.

The organization's main project each year is a display of chemical engineering projects at the annual Engineering Open House. Each spring a banquet is given for the graduating seniors. Membership is open to everyone in the Chemical Engineering curriculum.

A.I.E.

The American Institute of Industrial Engineers provides opportunities for interested students to meet with people actively engaged in the profession. Members gain experience in the workings of a professional society by serving on various committee activities. Each year, they hold a golf tournament and have a display for the Engineering Open House.

The annual regional conference of student chapters met at Illinois this past year. Ten schools sent representatives.

A.S.A.E.

Throughout this year, the Illinois Student Branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers provided the opportunity for student-faculty co-operation on numerous projects. Working at the Agronomy Farm on a building project, the club furnished their new student lounge with their earnings. Members helped with a high school recruiting program.

Meetings, which were held twice a month, featured speakers such as faculty members and professional agricultural engineers.

A.S.C.E.

The University of Illinois Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers seeks to acquaint its members with the social and technical aspects of the profession. At monthly meetings, qualified speakers address the members on topics of special interest in the field of civil engineering.

Special activities of the society include the publication of a monthly newsletter and a refresher course offered to seniors preparing for the Professional Engineer's examination.

A.S.M.E.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers at Illinois is a student chapter of the national professional organization. Meetings of the group are intended to be enjoyable as well as informative. Each semester several coeds are chosen to act as sponsors.

Participating in various athletic events, the group challenged faculty members and other engineering societies. Social events designed to alter any unfavorable images of engineers included hayrides and exchanges.

Ag Economics Club

“Agriculture Economics In Action” is one key to this organization’s success. The club emphasizes the importance of agriculture economics and helps to familiarize members with the functions of agriculture business.

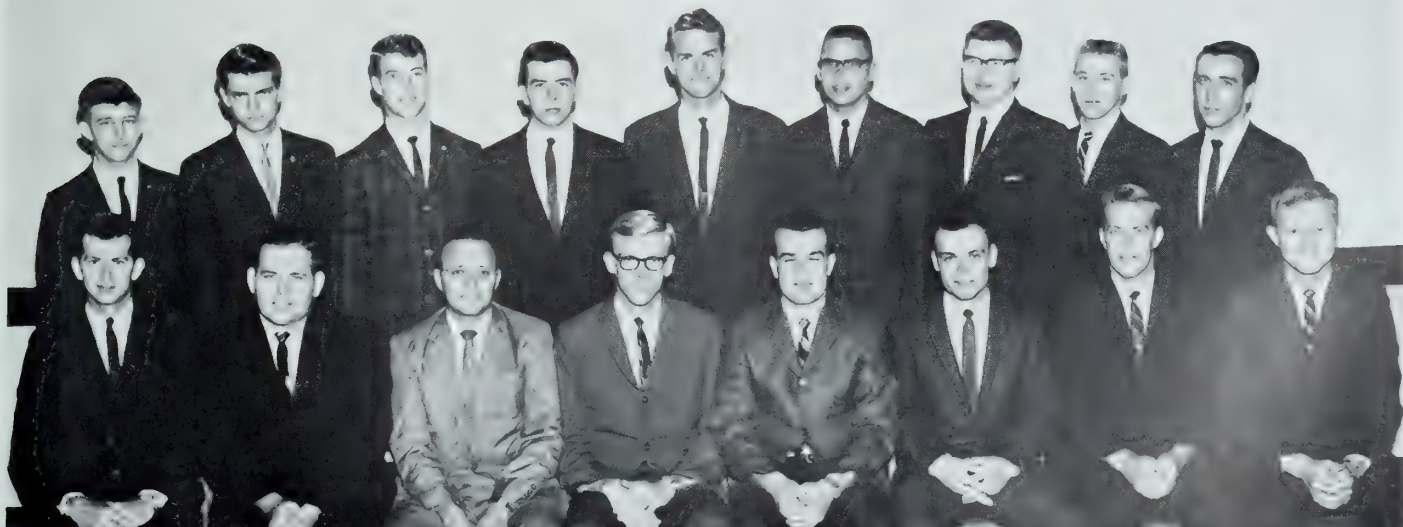

Activities of the group included an annual newsletter, a fall picnic, and a spring barbeque. The meetings featured speakers from businesses related to agriculture. The group won second place in the national convention’s essay and debate contests.

Ag Mechanization Club

The Illini Agricultural Mechanization Club closed a successful year of activities such as Lawnmower Winterization Day, Spring Tour, and bimonthly meetings which featured films or guest speakers. The “Outstanding Senior Award” was presented at the Spring Banquet.

The objectives of the group are to obtain recognition for agricultural mechanization on campus and in industry, to promote interest in the field, and to acquaint present and potential members with the opportunities open today.

Agriculture Council

Agriculture Council, the co-ordinating body of the agriculture campus, is composed of a delegate from each of the fifteen agriculture clubs and the fifteen club presidents. Keeping these club leaders aware of all the agriculture campus activities and working on various service projects for the College of Agriculture are two functions of the Council.

The projects last year included a leadership forum for recently elected club officers and orientation for agriculture freshmen.

Ag Education Club

The purpose of the Agriculture Education Club is to aid and encourage students in the field of agriculture education.

Guest speakers in this and related fields are invited to attend the monthly meetings. A tractor driving contest, a public speaking contest, and a farm mechanics' contest are some of the club's activities. The service activities include the setting up of a food stand for the Foundation Awards Day Program. Another highlight is the annual spring barbeque.

COL. RUSSELL STRANGE congratulates David McIlvoy on his position as spring commander of the 190th AFROTC Cadet Wing.

Air Force ROTC

The revitalized AFROTC program offers challenging opportunities for young men with their eyes on the future. Each semester an outstanding cadet is appointed commander of the 190th Cadet Wing. Since the Corps training program is operated by cadets, the Commander and the Cadet Wing Staff are entirely responsible for the efficient operation and continued development of the AFROTC program. The emphasis is on developing leadership.

Air Force ROTC

MEMBERS OF ANGEL Flight and Arnold Air Society rehearse Christmas carols.

The social arm of the 190th AFROTC detachment is the Arnold Air Society. The purpose of the group is to give cadets a feeling of the life they will experience as future Air Force officers. Arnold Air Society co-sponsors the annual Arnold Air Society Ball with Angel Flight. The ball is attended by national dignitaries. The two groups have combined gatherings throughout the year. Last year they went caroling at a local old-peoples home.

Angel Flight

The women of Angel Flight are proud of the Air Force and strive to be of service to the campus and community. They can be seen hostessing President Henry's Reception, Mom's and Dad's Day Teas, and various military affairs. Angel Flight's service project this year was to raise money to purchase medical supplies for the ship HOPE, which travels around the world administering free medical aid and teaching good health to others. The Angels try to do "just a little bit more for America."

Alpha Delta Sigma

Alpha Delta Sigma is the national advertising fraternity for men. Members work with professors to develop advertising ability in an atmosphere of professional sophistication. A man outstanding at both the professional and educational levels, Dr. Sandage often leaves his post as department head to offer advice and assistance to ADS members.

Meetings include outstanding speakers, such as the vice president of Leo Burnett Advertising, Chicago, a leading advertising agency.

Alpha Epsilon

The purpose of Alpha Epsilon honor society is to recognize agricultural engineers who have distinguished themselves and the profession by academic or professional attainment. Active membership includes juniors, seniors, and graduate students chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, and leadership. The society also elects honorary members.

The group presents an annual Outstanding Freshman Award to a member of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Alpha Eta Rho

Alpha Eta Rho is an international aviation fraternity. The Illinois chapter, chartered in 1954, is recognized as one of the most active chapters. The fraternity serves as a contact between aviation students and interested faculty and the aviation industry by presenting programs with speakers and films.

One of the events sponsored annually by Alpha Eta Rho is the Aviation Openhouse at Willard Airport. Facilities of the Institute of Aviation are presented to the general public.

Alpha Kappa Psi

Alpha Kappa Psi, the oldest professional fraternity in the field of commerce and business administration, has 145 chapters. It was founded to advance courses which would lead to a degree in business administration and to promote research in the fields of accounting, commerce, and finance.

Pledges are selected on the basis of recommendations by the membership and the faculty. Each pledge class spends a day prior to initiation working on a community project.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta, the national scholastic honorary for freshmen women, was founded at the University of Illinois in 1924. In addition to sponsoring a free tutoring program for all freshmen women, the Alpha chapter has several worthwhile traditions. At their Christmas Tea, the members entertain all freshmen women with a midterm average of 4.0 or above. In the spring, the Senior Tea is held to honor all senior past members who have maintained an average of 4.5 for seven semesters. The Alpha Lams also usher at campus events.

Alpha Tau Alpha

Alpha Tau Alpha is comprised of future agriculture teachers. Prospective members must have sophomore standing and a 3.5 grade point average. The monthly meetings feature guest speakers from throughout the state.

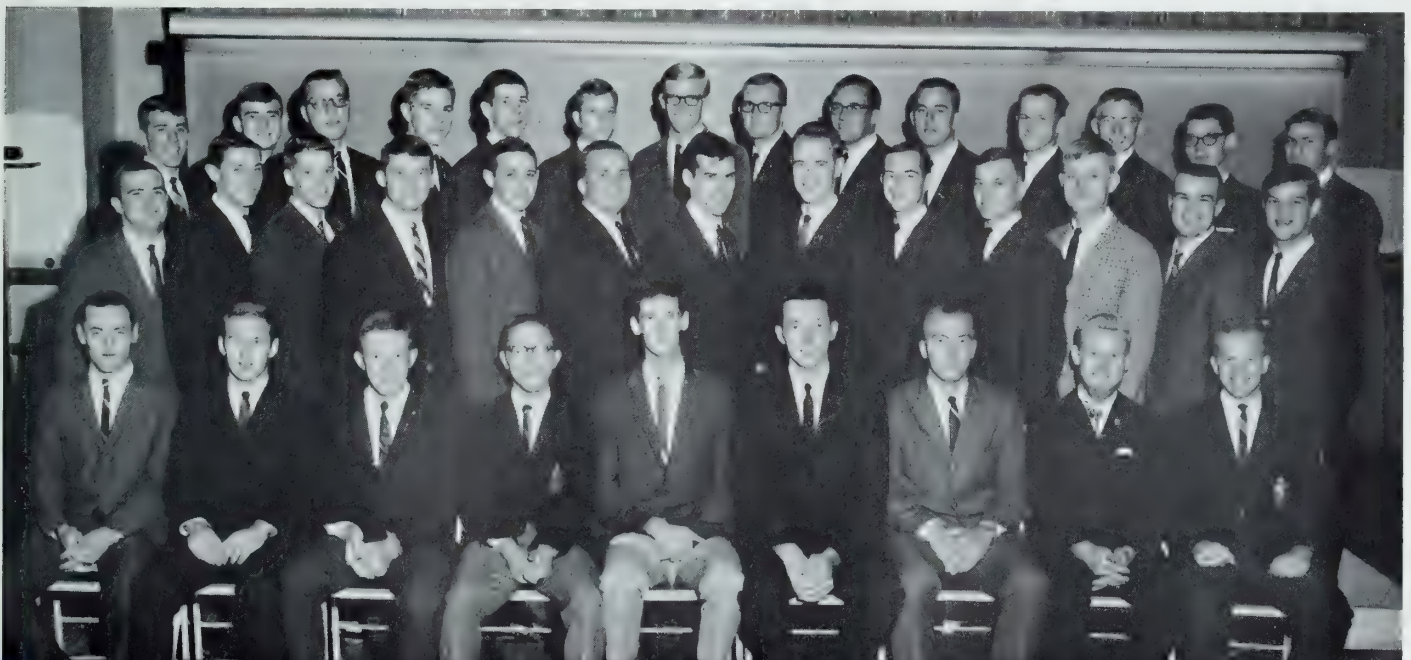

The purposes of the club are to foster a brotherhood among those agriculture students who are enrolled in teacher training, to help train members as rural leaders in their own towns, and to develop a professional spirit in the teaching of agriculture.

Alpha Zeta

Alpha Zeta, an honorary professional fraternity, encourages the development of better leaders in the field of agriculture and higher agricultural education. The local chapter encourages good instruction by each year honoring the outstanding instructor in the College of Agriculture. Freshmen with high scholastic averages are also honored.

Members are selected from students who have over 45 hours of credit on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character.

The objectives of the Student Branch of the American Ceramic Society are to encourage the interest of ceramic engineering students in the developments in the field and to foster fellowship among its members.

Every year the Student Branch sponsors many activities. Monthly meetings host guest speakers who present talks about their work in the ceramic industry. The Illini Ceramist was the first yearbook of its kind on campus and is now in its twenty-second edition.

A-ti-us

A-ti-us, a newly formed activity honorary for sophomore women, was merged from the two groups Shi-ai and Alpha Chron, honoraries for Greek and independent women, respectively. Members are selected on the basis of participation and leadership in campus organizations and housing units during their freshman year. A 3.5 grade average is required.

The group participates in programs which will stimulate leadership and promote friendship among campus women.

TOP ROW: Nikki Kaplan, Gayle Meyer, Loretta Trawinski, Kimberly Anderson, Susan Draut, Sandra Subject, Carol Hamm, Mary Bradle, Ramona Kochis, Sue Rosenberg, Marsha Pomrenze, Margaret Converse, Annabelle Anticol, Patricia Wald. ## Armed Forces Council

The Armed Forces Council, whose function it is to co-ordinate activities of the Navy, the Army, and the Air Force ROTC units, is composed of the commanders and executive officers of each of the three military units. Each year the units alternate in directing the Council, appointing their commander as chairman and a commissioned officer as adviser.

The Veteran's Day Ceremony, the Military Ball, and Honor's Day were the main military events sponsored by last year's Council.

Association of U.S. Army

A professional organization, the Association of the United States Army strives to improve conditions of servicemen through public relations and information services. The men publish Army magazine which presents various aspects of the Army. Periodic meetings feature informative movies and Army personnel as guest speakers.

Activities last year included a trip to Fort Benning, a banquet before the Military Ball, and exchanges with women's military groups.

TOP ROW: John Halley, James Fowler, Raymond Janis, Glenn Shriver, Frank Prickett, Robert Hurwich. # UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

ARMY ROTC

The pride and spirit of ninety-seven years of military tradition at the University of Illinois are embodied in the distinctive crest worn by each Advanced Course Cadet. "Learning and Labor" is the motto of the Corps, and the Chief Illiniwek is the mythical leader of the Army Illini, as he is to the entire University. The crest was approved by the United States Army Department of Heraldry and was made a part of the official military record in 1957. It has been worn by the Cadet Corps and its Staff since its adoption.

Since its establishment in 1868, over seven thousand men from Illinois have accepted the challenge of leadership and have successfully completed the training program required for commissioning upon graduation.

The Army ROTC program was born with the need for educated leadership in the Officer's Corps, and it has increased its importance in contemporary times with the expanding need for educated men in highly technical fields. Designed to benefit the cadets individually, the Army program lays the foundation for intelligent leadership in civilian life, and it qualifies young men for positions as military leaders. With the advent of a completely voluntary program in 1964, the Corps of Cadets has become a highly competitive group of nearly six hundred young men.

Lee Anne Kuehn, Miss Army Illini 1965.

Army ROTC

The cadet's military life is just beginning when he is awarded the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army upon graduation. The challenge of leadership in today's modern Army is his. A new life awaits him—one that he has been prepared for through four years of education and training as a member of the University of Illinois Army Corps of Cadets. The new officer must discharge his obligation to his country by serving on active duty for a period of not less than two years.

Baptist Foundation

The Baptist Student Foundation is a training ground for Baptist students. The Student Council and members share facilities with the University Baptist Church. As a member of United Christian Fellowship, the Baptist Student Foundation conducts graduate luncheons, study seminars, and a fall and spring retreat.

Uniback players present religious drama, and the choir produces Christmas and Easter oratories. In addition, Sunday morning seminars provide for religious discussion.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is the connecting link between the University student and the local Baptist Church. It is a movement sponsored by the Southern Baptist denomination to co-ordinate the religious activities of the Baptist students on the University of Illinois campus. An Executive Council serves as the administrative and executive body for the BSU.

The activities of the foundation last year included Mission activities, Vespers, and devotional periods on Monday and Wednesday.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi was established in 1919 as the national honorary fraternity for accounting majors who have maintained a high scholastic average in all courses. Scholarship is promoted by sponsoring a tutoring program in the basic accounting courses and holding review sessions at the end of each semester.

Luncheons enabled members to get better acquainted. The group sponsored an initiation banquet and a field trip to Arthur Anderson and Company, an accounting firm in Chicago.

Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma, the national honorary fraternity for students enrolled in the College of Commerce, requires juniors to rank in the upper four percent of the class and seniors in the upper ten percent to qualify for membership. The Illinois chapter has traditionally been more restrictive than the national allows.

The organization was formed in February of 1913 with three chapters—one being at Illinois. At the present, there are seventy-three chapters at the major colleges of commerce.

Canterbury Association

Open to any Episcopal student, Canterbury Association provides an atmosphere in which members participate in various activities and share in the responsibilities and programs of the Episcopal Chapel. Each member contributes his part, while he in turn receives the services of the Church.

Weekly meetings began with Evensong in the Chapel and closed with supper and a program. The group benefited from a program presented by the Bishop of Springfield.

Chevron

Chevron, the women's auxiliary of Army ROTC, participates in both military and University events. Members served at teas, escorted at honor programs, and assisted with IUSA activities, such as Dad's Day. Their drill team, the Red Coats, marched at meets at other campuses and at Brigade Reviews.

Pledges, named Chevaliers, are chosen on the basis of personality and poise. Chevron is an educational and social activity, offering informative programs and exchanges.

Christian Science Society

A new building designed by Paul Rudolph was occupied for the first time in the fall by the Christian Science Organization. Towered structures of rough concrete and sculptured bronze doors of the foundation caused much interest on the University campus. The study room for reading religious literature and the auditorium have greatly increased facilities.

In addition to the Tuesday night meetings, the group held receptions to acquaint students with the activities of the foundation.

Chi Epsilon

Chi Epsilon has been dedicated to the purpose of promoting the status of the civil engineering profession ever since its founding at the University in 1922. The goals of this group are to develop the characteristics of a successful civil engineer in each member.

Pledges, chosen from juniors and seniors in the curriculum, are accepted on the basis of scholarship and character. As a part of initiation week, pledges meet with a professor to acquaint them with the faculty.

TOP ROW: Don Banks, James Manwaring, Ronald Mitchell, Ernest Bendull, Charles Allen, David Schmeh, Marvin Criswell, Thomas Conner, David Keierleber. ## Circle K Club

The Circle K Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis International, is designed for a college student who feels a responsibility to his college and community. As the Illinois chapter realizes the importance of helping its fellow man, it conducts many service projects, such as a Big Brother program at an orphanage, free campus tours, judging at the State Science Fair, and the Operation Christmas card.

With much guidance from Kiwanis, Circle K members learn the value of serving.

Sigma Iota Epsilon

Sigma Iota Epsilon is the national honorary fraternity founded to recognize outstanding students in management and related fields. The organization's Alpha chapter was established at Illinois in 1927, and the National now has fourteen additional chapters.

The objective of the honorary is to stimulate interest and achievement in the field of management and to obtain recognition of the value and contribution of scholastic attainment to business management.

Colombian Students Club

The Colombian Students Association was organized to communicate the social, cultural, and political aspects of Colombia. Membership is open to all students who are interested in acquiring knowledge of Colombia.

The group takes an active part in Copacabana, International Week, and intramural soccer, as well as sponsoring lectures on Latin American affairs. Two University students spent the summer of 1964 in Colombia under a program sponsored by the organization.

Co-op Extension Club

Last year, for the first time, the Co-operative Extension Club sponsored a 4-H club in Urbana. This activity presented many problems similar to those future extension workers will meet. The highlight of the year was the 4-H Club Christmas party with the mayor as Santa Claus. Members also taught recreation leadership in 4-H Clubs.

Various phases of the extension program were emphasized at meetings. Several students told of their actual work in extension.

TOP ROW: John Bushman, Lloyd Redington, Charles Rayburn, Thomas Marron, membership chairman; David Whitson, Marilyn Hays, Peter Felker. BOTTOM ROW: Marilyn Wheeler, recreation chairman; Prof. Ernest Anderson, adviser; Jeanette Brucker, president; Alice Dittmer, secretary-treasurer; Joseph Jopek, adviser; Carol Roberts, publicity chairman. ## Cosmopolitan Club

The Cosmopolitan Club seeks to cultivate intellectual and social exchange among people of different nationalities, to encourage scholarship among its members, and to promote a spirit of universal brotherhood.

To further foreign students' knowledge of America, the group sponsored several trips. A summer project to send a member to India is being planned to further Americans' knowledge of foreign countries. International politics and problems are discussed at meetings.

Dairy Production Club

The Dairy Production Club was organized to broaden the knowledge of all students and faculty members who are interested in dairy production and to stimulate more interest and appreciation in the dairy industry.

The club cooperated with Hoof and Horn in sponsoring a fall showmanship contest. It consigned a dairy calf to the Purebred Dairy Cattle Association Calf Sale for members of 4-H and the F. F. A. This helped to defray the expenses of the Dairy Judging Team.

Dairy Technology Society

The aim of the Dairy Technology Society is the advancement of knowledge for the mutual benefit of both undergraduate and graduate students in the Dairy Technology field.

The University of Illinois Dairy Products judging team is sponsored by the group. The team this year sent four members to the international judging contest in Montreal. Since the team has been under the coaching of Dr. Joseph Tobias, it has won five team national championships and six individual ones.

Delta Sigma Omicron

Delta Sigma Omicron is a service fraternity composed of disabled students. The club sponsors wheelchair football and the Illinois Gizz Kids Track and Field team. In co-operation with Delta Sigma Omicron, Inc., the local group publishes Sigma Signs, the annual magazine, which has a world wide circulation.

The purposes of the group are to further the social and educational possibilities of the disabled and to educate the public as to how the disabled may enjoy a normal life.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi, a professional fraternity, offers membership to students in commerce and business administration. Founded in 1922, Upsilon chapter has initiated nearly 600 men. The fraternity's purpose is to relate business subjects to practice in the business world.

The year's activities included professional guest speaker programs and trips to firms in Chicago and Peoria. Social events included faculty-student luncheons, two dinner dances, hayrides, and various sports events.

Delta Sigma Theta

Delta Sigma Theta, a service sorority for Negro college women, stresses high scholastic achievement as a requirement for participation in the society today. The aims of the group are based on the principles of cultural enrichment and social welfare.

The local chapter has participated in such programs as the Urban League, "Little Girls" at the YWCA, Illini House, and the Pal Program. The group's program is aimed toward job opportunities, service, and understanding.

TOP ROW: Constance Rolison, president; Carol Easton, Hattie Hilliard, recording secretary; Cornelia Houston, Jeannette Seaberry, Sandra Tilly, vice president; Carolyn Banks, corresponding secretary; Timmie McNeese, Sylvia Tyler, sponsor. ## Dorado Club

The Dorado Club prepares swimmers to meet the requirements of the Terrapin Club. Members are selected on their performances in Terrapin Club tryouts. Those who show ability, but who are not yet qualified to be in Terrapin, may join this apprentice club.

The organization's objective is to improve understanding of the aquatic art. At meetings members practice stunts and strokes and try improvising to music. Dorado members also take part in the Terrapin water show.

Eta Kappa Nu

Eta Kappa Nu was founded at the University of Illinois in 1904 to recognize outstanding scholarship in electrical engineering.

The bi-monthly meetings feature speakers in the field of electrical engineering from industry and the University. Each semester, at the Initiation Banquet, the group presents an award to the outstanding senior in the curriculum. A refresher course is sponsored by the society before the professional engineer's exam for the benefit of the students.

Engineering Council

Engineering Council is the student governing body of the College of Engineering. Its purpose is to co-ordinate engineering student activities. The Council works to improve the effectiveness of the engineering professional societies, to increase rapport between students and faculty, and to aid in planning and executing combined programs of the engineering societies such as St. Pat's Ball. Membership is composed of two representatives from each engineering society.

Field and Furrow Club

The Field and Furrow Club seeks to advance knowledge concerning crops and soils and to encourage co-operation among students in agronomy. The group recognized its outstanding members at the spring Achievement Award Banquet, which featured a speaker.

The Standard Soils Project sponsored by the group provided aids for both high school agriculture instructors and soil testing technicians in Illinois. Members were also active in national soil judging contests.

Finance Club

In spring of 1965, the Finance Club was instituted as an informal social-academic club. Its purpose is to acquaint the members with the practical end of financial management and operation in the Midwest and to increase the knowledge of finance students.

Highlights of the activities this year have included three field trips to Chicago. The members visited various financial institutions. With speakers at every monthly meeting, the club became well established.

Floriculture Club

To promote the use of flowers and ornamental plants in homes is the purpose of the Floriculture Club. Both students and faculty members interested in this field attended the monthly meetings which featured speakers.

The club sponsored a flower judging contest similar to the five which they have won during the past eight years. They presented a flower arrangement show and held a plant sale for Mother's Day Weekend. A banquet was held in the spring for senior members.

Foundrymen's Society

The American Foundrymen's Society encourages interest in the field of cast metals. Special emphasis is placed on practical application and future technology of cast metals in projects sponsored by the group. The chapter is one of fourteen in the national group.

In the fall members traveled to Peoria to view the foundry facilities of the Caterpillar Tractor Corporation. Receiving the monthly magazine, "Modern Castings," every member is kept informed about the field.

NOT IN PANEL: Janet Crawford, Patricia Garrison, Sharon Holt, Sharon Kendall, Judith Miller, Sandra Nelson, Arlene Ruksza, Clione Stewart, Eve Sonneman, Nanci Simkins, Nancy Cerf, Janet Kinderman, Patricia McManamon, Diane Schmidt.

Gamma Alpha Chi

Gamma Alpha Chi bears the distinction of being the one fraternity for women involved in advertising. Any woman interested in this or a related field is eligible for membership in this professional organization.

The club offers a variety of programs to provide its members with practical experience in the area of advertising. The girls encounter prominent men and women from the field and visit agencies. There the Gamma Alpha Chi's witness the world of communications.

Gamma Delta

The varied activities of Gamma Delta, an international association of Lutheran students, helped fulfill goals of knowledge and service. The group met every Sunday for a cost supper, followed by a program and a short devotion. The year's programs concerned "The Christian and the World."

Members served the Chapel and Student Center by trimming Christmas trees, cleaning the kitchen, helping as ushers, and singing in the choir on Sundays.

Gamma Epsilon is an honor society which recognizes those who have exhibited outstanding scholastic ability, character, and participation in activities in General Engineering. An undergraduate student enrolled in the Department of General Engineering becomes eligible for membership by attaining a 4.1 average by the time he has completed 60 semester hours.

Twenty-two students have been honored by this society in the three years it has been at the University of Illinois.

Gargoyle Society

Gargoyle Society is a scholastic honorary for architecture students. Its purposes are to reward scholarship and to encourage fellowship and communication of ideas between the students and the faculty.

Pledges are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, and ability in architecture. Prospective members are acquainted with the society during pledge smokers. Pledge duties include assisting at the reception for visiting alumni during Homecoming weekend.

General Engineers Society

The Illinois Society of General Engineers stresses activities that will prepare the young engineer for the future and make him aware of demands which will be made on him after graduation. The diversified programs include talks given by speakers from industry, an industrial trip, and participation in Engineering Open House each spring.

The annual student-faculty bowling tournament draws a host of participants. A trophy is awarded to the winning team.

Hillel Foundation

B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, the spiritual home of students of the Jewish faith on the campus, fulfills the function of co-ordinating the academic life of the student with the heritage of his religion. To attain this goal, the foundation sponsors programs encompassing a wide range of activities.

The program for 1965-66 included a series of guest lecturers following Friday night services, Sunday night dinners, and a Chanukah Lotke-Hamentaschen Symposium.

Home Economics Club

"Building Your Future" is the theme of the Isabel Bevier Home Economics Club. Purposes of the club are to further social relations among students and faculty, to increase knowledge in fields related to home economics, and to strengthen professional attitudes in members of the group.

Any home economics student is eligible to be a member and attend the meetings. This brings together both graduate and undergraduate students with common interests.

Home Economics Council

Home Economics Student Council, a co-ordination center for the Department of Home Economics, is a body of representatives who are from all the home economics honoraries, organizations, and classes. The body encourages departmental unity and works to promote better student-faculty relations.

Freshman Committee, a subsidiary organization of the Council, helps freshmen to feel part of the department by corresponding with them in summer and sponsoring a fall tea.

Hoof and Horn Club

One of the largest clubs on campus, Hoof and Horn Club is an organization of students who have interests in animal science and its related fields. The purpose of the club is to sponsor the livestock and meat judging teams that compete in contests on a national level.

Membership in the club is awarded to any student who earns five points through meeting attendance and committee work. The monthly meetings feature speakers from the field of applied animal science.

I.E.E.E.

The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers is a student branch of the world's largest professional engineering society. The organization provides students with an opportunity to hear outstanding speakers, see films on applied engineering, and become acquainted with the electrical engineering faculty.

Last fall over one hundred members went to Chicago to attend the National Electronics Conference where they participated in technical sessions and saw new products displayed.

Illinois Society of Professional Engineers

The student chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers is an organization to which all undergraduate engineering students may belong.

The purpose of the student chapter is to strive for unity among all engineers by encouraging the professional development of each member.

In an effort to reach all engineering students the chapter held a membership campaign which nearly doubled the previous membership.

One of the main goals of the society is to encourage professional registration. Thus one of the most important functions of the student chapter is to publicize the engineer-in-training exam which the graduating senior may take as the initial step toward professional registration.

PROF. ROBERT JEWETT discusses the purpose of I. S. P. E. with several members.

Forensic Association

The University of Illinois is officially represented in intercollegiate debate, discussion, and various other public speaking activities by the Illini Forensic Association members. In past years, the group has achieved high rankings in state and regional competition.

Members conducted the weekly radio program, Illini Forum, on station WILL. They also sponsored several parliamentary debates with visiting teams, including one from Great Britain. These were open to all students.

Marketing Association

The Illini Marketing Association acquaints interested students with the current marketing trends and opportunities in the business field. Executives of leading firms spoke on marketing, advertising, and management opportunities at the monthly meetings.

For the annual field trip, members visited Chicago business firms and viewed marketing functions. In their two day stay they were guests of Helene Curtis, Sears, Roebuck and Co., and J. Walter Thompson.

Illini Foresters

Illini Foresters was founded in 1958 with a membership of six. Last year ninety active members, including forestry students, faculty, and alumni, participated in the club's program of activities.

During the fall semester, the foresters held a freshman bonfire, attended the Midwestern Foresters Conclave, and sold Christmas trees to finance club projects.

Participating in the Family Camping Show at Illini Grove and sponsoring a student-staff picnic, the group concluded the year's events with an honors banquet.

Illini Karate Kai

Illini Karate Kai, an affiliate of the Japan Karate Association, was established to foster the development of Karate at the University. A method of self-defense without the use of weapons, Karate makes effective and rational use of the entire body. Development of the character of the individual mentally as well as physically is also stressed. Beginning and advanced classes in Combat-Contest Karate for both men and women are taught by instructors in the group.

Insitute of Aeronautics

The principal aerospace technical society in the nation, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, includes all the leaders of the country's aerospace program. At monthly meetings of the local student branch, speakers from the aerospace industry or the Armed Forces presented topics of current interest in the field of aeronautics.

Co-operation between students and faculty members was encouraged by sporting events and an Engineering Open House project.

Illi—Sota

The first chapter of the Illini Student Occupational Therapy Association was founded at the University of Illinois in 1944. Its purpose is to give interested students an opportunity to learn of the manifold possibilities as an occupational therapist.

Guests at meetings included such persons as Major Eileen Treach, Army Medical Specialists Corps Counselor, who informed students about the United States Army Occupational Therapy Program.

International Club

The Association of International Students is a social-cultural organization which brings together both American and foreign students for the purpose of mutual understanding and friendship. The group sponsors a series of Friday night forums at which members meet for a program, refreshments, and dancing.

AIS presents a lecture series, which has included debates on the India-Pakistan issue. The organization also co-sponsors the annual International Fair held in the Illini Union.

Kappa Delta Pi

The Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an education honor society, was founded on the University of Illinois campus by Dr. William C. Bagley. From the honorary's birth in 1911, Kappa Delta Pi has continued to encourage in its members a higher degree of dedication to social service through education.

To attain this end, Alpha Chapter has continually endeavored to maintain the highest of standards in educational work. The members take pride in their service.

L.A.S. Council

The LAS Council serves as official liaison between the student body and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. It communicates the policies and procedures of the College to the students and the criticism and suggestions of the students to the College, often with constructive results.

Although the LAS College includes about ten thousand students, the Council consists of twenty-five members selected for their scholarship and ability to criticize constructively.

Lutheran Chapel Council

Recently adjusting to its new quarters, the University Lutheran Chapel, under the direction of Chapel Council, has initiated new programs in keeping with the expanded facilities.

Above all, the Center has tried to become an integral part in the life of a busy student. This general objective is implemented through the many programs which include, in addition to Sunday morning services, seminars, choir, Gamma Delta supper club, credit courses in religion, and Women's Guild.

Mask and Bauble

Members of Mask and Bauble, an honorary founded at the University in 1911, are selected from cast and crew members of University Theater. To be selected, the students must have accrued twenty-five points allotted by managers for their work on productions. Thirty new members were initiated last year.

The purpose of the honorary is to recognize outstanding achievement in all aspects of theatrical work—acting, directing, playwrighting, and technical competence.

Lutheran Foundation

Variety and change were key words last year at the Lutheran Student Foundation with the minister on a leave of absence. The visiting ministers often stayed to lead Sunday evening discussion groups. The part-time minister led study groups during the week.

A student committee planned events to help students look honestly at themselves and their faith. The only requirement for membership is participation in coffee hours, Sunday evening suppers, and an annual smorgasbord.

McKinley Foundation

McKinley seeks through Christian ministry to encounter individual and group needs in a way such that the life of the University community may be strengthened for creative concern beyond itself. Members of McKinley's ministry are thus alert to the joys, sorrows, and questions that become central in person's lives. McKinley Foundation and Church are not ends in themselves, but places from which Christians go into the world to free persons to be more humanly aware.

Mineral Industries

The Mineral Industries Society seeks to promote an increasing knowledge of the technology and administration of the metallurgical and mining industries. Most of the members are metallurgical engineering students, but geology and mining students are eligible to join.

Each year members take trips to metallurgical laboratories throughout the Midwest. At monthly meetings, distinguished persons associated with engineering are featured. Every spring a picnic with the faculty is held.

NOT IN PANEL: John Beecher, Prof. Walter Draper, Warren Godfrey, Prof. Arno Hill, Elizabeth Hiller, Prof. Thomas Sloan, Wesley Swanson, Karl Wallace, Patricia Warren, Ruth Weinard, Bernhard Works, Anthony Lincoln.

Collegiate Players

The National Collegiate Players, founded at this University in 1928, honors outstanding theater performers and crew members. At the present time, there are 78 chapters.

Standards for membership, defined by the national organization, are based on scholastic standing and theater work. Students are able to earn membership points by participating in University Theater productions and by taking accredited drama courses. An initiation dinner is held each semester.

Mu Phi Epsilon

Mu Phi Epsilon is an international professional music sorority whose primary project is music therapy. Some of the activities that the local chapter has, included many programs at schools for retarded children and nursing homes and a weekly radio program on station WILL. One of Mu Phi's main functions is to usher at all concerts and recitals that are sponsored by the School of Music.

At the bi-monthly meetings, members seek to promote musical and academic achievement.

Naval ROTC

The Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps Unit was established at the University in 1945.

It is composed of volunteers who are selected on the basis of academic ability and leadership potential. During their four years in the program, the men take twenty-four hours of Navy courses, including naval history, weapons, navigation, leadership, and military justice.

Navy Council, composed of representatives of each class, is the governing body of the battalion.

Naval ROTC

Regular midshipmen take a cruise every summer, and contract midshipmen take one cruise at the end of their junior year. The men are assigned to various ships, ranging from large aircraft carriers to small minesweepers operating off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Last summer some of the Second Class underwent air indoctrination at Corpus Christi, Texas, and amphibious instruction at Little Creek, Virginia. Marine Corps students underwent training at Quantico, Virginia.

Omega Beta Pi

A national premedical honorary fraternity, Omega Beta Pi informs members of the high standards, aims, and problems of the profession. To accomplish this objective, the group sponsored premedical orientation conferences where deans from medical schools discussed requirements and curricula. Through a program of Physician-Student Counseling, every member consulted with a local doctor.

Awards are presented each year to three academically outstanding members.

Omega Tau Sigma

Chartered at Illinois in 1956, Omega Tau Sigma, the professional veterinary fraternity, seeks to promote a close relationship among students enrolled in the College of Veterinary Medicine. Visits to several universities, such as Cornell, enabled members to see facilities of other colleges and meet with brothers of the different chapters.

The chapter concluded a successful year by the addition of Cham, a tiny pup who soon filled the office of "Most Worthy Mascot."

Orchesis

Orchesis provides an opportunity for any student, staff, or faculty member to improve his competence in and understanding of modern dance. At weekly meetings Miss Janice Stockman, the sponsor, instructed and led the group in various exercises and movements.

Twenty Chicago high schools were invited to participate in the High School Dance Day sponsored by the group. The Dance faculty offered lessons and presented a program on dance experiences at Illinois.

P.E.W. Majors Club

The Women's Physical Education Majors' Club provides activities designed to increase understanding of the profession. Conducting convocations, the group featured symposiums, panels, and speakers. The club also publishes a newspaper, THE MAJOURNAL.

Special events such as the fall camp out, high school playday, and the interclass-faculty volleyball night were favorite activities. The Big-Little Sister Program helped old and new members to become friends at once.

Pershing Rifles

The annual drill meet of Pershing Rifles, Company C-3, one of the largest ones in the country, is the main activity of the fraternity. Held in the Assembly Hall, the meet attracts nine thousand spectators and over a thousand college participants from ten or more states.

Other activities of Pershing Rifles include color guards for ROTC parades and athletic events, display marching teams, tactical training, social events, and a chance to participate on a target rifle team.

Phalanx

Phalanx, founded at Illinois in 1925, is a tri-service organization of ROTC students interested in fostering a feeling of fellowship among military men. Inspired by Alexander the Great's troops, the name Phalanx stands for a brotherhood of potential fighting men.

Speakers present pertinent topics to promote interest in military affairs and the preparedness of our country. An award of excellence is presented to the outstanding sophomore in Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity has 218 chapters throughout the nation. The group is a professional fraternity dedicated to the advancement of music in America, specifically American music. Membership is open to any male undergraduate student who expresses an active interest in music.

This year, together with its two sister sororities, the chapter provided ushers for the musical events that occurred in Smith Music Hall and gave a combined recital.

Phi Upsilon Omicron

Phi Upsilon Omicron is a national honorary for graduate and undergraduate students in home economics. The purpose of the club is to enable the members to learn more about their profession and to encourage their personal and professional development.

At monthly meetings the members listened to speakers talk about careers and opportunities for students in home economics. Each year the club dresses a doll in the current fashion to add to the chapter collection.

Pi Tau Sigma

Pi Tau Sigma is a national honorary engineering fraternity devoted to fostering high ideals of engineering and to developing desirable qualities in mechanical engineers. Membership selection is based on student faculty ratings and scholastic record.

Last year at the Engineering Open House the members constructed a display which won first place. A tutoring service for freshmen and sophomores in the mechanical engineering curriculum was conducted by the group.

Pre-Veterinary Club

Open to anyone who is interested in veterinary medicine, Pre-Veterinary Club provides informative programs including clinical tours, research and medical films, guest speakers, and large and small animal demonstrations.

The club tries to promote greater interest and fellowship among pre-veterinary students and offers information about the profession. Activities include the publication of a bulletin, participation in the Veterinary Medicine Open House, and a picnic held in the spring.

Recreation Society

The American Recreation Society aims at acquainting interested students with the opportunities and problems of a profession in recreation. The group, which meets each month, provides programs during the year which include student-faculty coffee hours, panel discussions, and guest speakers.

Last year the first annual field trip was planned so that the members would have the opportunity of seeing one of the most excellent park district systems in the state.

Rifle and Pistol Club

The University of Illinois Rifle and Pistol Club, active on campus for forty-five years, is open to students, faculty, and staff. The purpose of the club is to promote competitive rifle and pistol programs and also to train its members in firearms safety and marksmanship. Meetings are held every week on the rifle range in the Armory.

Last year the group entered the Intercollegiate Postal Leagues of the National Rifle Association with which it is affiliated.

S.A.E.

To inform members about opportunities in transportation engineering and to further their technical knowledge are the purposes of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Programs of the monthly meetings include guest speakers, films, and tours. During the past year the members acted as guides in the internal combustion engine laboratory for the annual Engineering Open House. The society also was host to the Central Illinois Section for a combined spring meeting.

The Student Education Association's high point of this past year was hosting the annual state Spring Workshop, which was attended by delegates from over thirty chapters. Held in the Illini Union, the workshop, "Think Ethics," was both enjoyable and informative.

As the primary organization for students who plan to teach, membership is open to all students entering the education profession, regardless of their fields or levels of teaching. S.E.A. is affiliated with the national group.

S. P. I. R.

Recognizing the need for a comprehensive undergraduate program of international training, Illinois has joined other campuses in establishing the Student Project for International Responsibility. The four-year program is begun with each freshman class.

S. P. I. R. seeks to develop a sophisticated approach to international understanding as well as closer ties with the foreign students on campus. Biweekly seminars are planned to view aspects of international responsibility.

Sigma Alpha Eta

The local chapter of Sigma Alpha Eta, a national fraternity for speech majors, gained its charter membership this year. The club is composed of students in speech correction. The purpose of this professional organization is to widen the scope of its members.

Some activities the group has participated in this past year include field trips, fall and spring teas for new members, the Education 101 speech screening program, and the annual Christmas party for Speech Clinic students.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota, the oldest professional fraternity for women in music, received the national Radio-Television Award for a weekly fifteen minute radio program on WILL. It was founded to uphold the highest ideals of a musical education. The national organization sponsors a competition for young composers.

One aim of the fraternity is the promotion of music by American composers. The local chapter helps support the International Music Fund and the Braille Music Project.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi was founded at DePauw University in 1909. Membership in this professional society is open to juniors, seniors, and graduate students studying for a career in radio-television or journalism.

The local chapter is known for its publication of the Illini Tumor, a humorous newspaper distributed on campus at Homecoming. Profits from the sale of this paper are used to send several delegates to the national convention and to provide speakers for meetings.

Sigma Tau

Sigma Tau, an honorary fraternity of engineering students, was founded in 1904 at the University of Nebraska. There are now 32 chapters of Sigma Tau at colleges throughout the country. The purpose of the group is to provide special recognition and encouragement to advanced engineering students for their superior scholarship and service and their promise of professional attainment.

Illinois' Theta chapter has a membership of more than one hundred.

Skull and Crescent

Skull and Crescent is a fraternity men's honorary organization comprised of two outstanding sophomores representing each of the twenty-four oldest fraternities. Members are elected by their houses on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and activities.

Skull and Crescent was organized to promote interfraternity spirit and friendships by holding regular meetings and co-ordinating activities. Present plans include merging Skull and Crescent with Star and Scroll.

Special Forces Company

The cadets who wear the black berets are members of the Special Forces Company of the Army ROTC. The "Green Devils" display a drive for excellence that distinguishes them from any other outfit. The weekly meetings were devoted to drill and advanced instruction in tactics, demolitions, communications, and survival methods. This instruction finds practical application in full-day field exercises dealing with patrolling problems and raids.

CADETS SET UP to ambush a combat patrol on a training maneuver.

Tau Beta Pi

Membership in Tau Beta Pi is the highest honor conferred upon an undergraduate engineer. Students who have attained a 4.75 the first semester of their junior year or a 4.5 their second semester or a 4.25 their senior year are eligible for membership pending an affirmative vote of the members.

Every year the Alpha Chapter of Illinois presents the Outstanding Freshman Engineer, an award which is based upon grades, character, and engineering potential.

Television Workshop

Television Workshop, one of the few organizations of its kind in the nation, is an extra-curricular activity for students majoring in or interested in broadcasting. The membership includes aspiring authors, actors, artists, publicity writers, technicians, producers, and directors. Production of a weekly half-hour program for WILL-TV is one responsibility.

The projects last year included an original musical, "Gettin' on to Evenin'" and the annual spring banquet, which highlighted the year.

Terrapin Club

The synchronized swimming organization at Illinois, Terrapin Club, is open to all students who meet certain requirements. Before these tryouts the group held practice-demonstration sessions. Terrapins created and presented the routines performed at their annual spring water show. A workshop attended by swimming groups of other colleges and a synchronized swim meet where numbers were rated were sponsored by the group.

Theta Sigma Phi

The national professional journalism fraternity, Theta Sigma Phi, is a group of both junior and senior women who have maintained high scholarship and are active and competent in some phase of communications.

The six professional meetings held during last year included a panel discussion on journalism career opportunities for women and a talk on educational television. Members also participated in the Ladies-of-the-Press breakfast sponsored by the local alumnae chapter.

Omega Tau Sigma

The national service fraternity for sophomore independent men who have achieved outstanding leadership in activities is Tomahawk. Encouraging students to participate in student affairs and guiding freshmen in decisions regarding activities are two aims of the group.

At half time of the Purdue-Illinois game, members of Tomahawk, dressed as Indians, presented the traditional cannon to the Purdue chapter. The group helped with the Science Fair, Dad's Day Revue, and Watcheka Sing.

Torch

Torch, the junior women's activity honorary, gives recognition to juniors for outstanding work in campus activities their freshmen and sophomore years. Membership requirements are favorable recommendations from an activity group, good character references, and a 3.5 all-University average.

This year Torch members served as the hostesses at the Dad's Day Luncheon, helped distribute final week's Student Survival Kits, and ushered at the Honor's Day Convocation.

Trident

Trident Naval Honorary Society provides an opportunity for interested first and second class midshipmen to become better prepared for military service through the speaker programs and informal discussions with military officers. The group is also active within the Naval Battalion, drawing on the experience of its members to aid underclassmen.

Last year Trident Members were active socially, holding the annual spring formal and co-sponsoring the Navy Ball.

Tribe of Illini

The Tribe of Illini is one of the organizations on campus that requires applicants for membership to possess a previously won award. That award must be the Illinois "I" given for athletic competition in the Big Ten. But an applicant must possess more than a varsity letter.

He must adhere to the codes of honor and ethics founded by the first Illinois lettermen.

The Tribe perpetuates the tradition of the skill and courage of the Fighting Illini, and by doing so the group fosters the pride shared by all true Illini.

Those accepted into the Tribe believe in and are, in effect, incorporated into the great athletic tradition of the University.

Ukrainian Student Club

The Ukrainian Student Association seeks to promote greater interest of the American students of Ukrainian descent in the fine arts and customs of their country and to provide the opportunity for all who are interested in learning about Ukrainian culture to do so.

Since its reactivation in 1961, the Ukrainian Student Association has participated in the International Fair. Last year the group held a lecture series on Ukrainian culture and took part in a Ukrainian night at the YMCA.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation provides students on campus with the opportunity to have worship and fellowship together. In addition to the regular Sunday morning services, Wesley Foundation also sponsors the Supper Forum, where students can enjoy a meal and special program on Sunday evenings.

The "Etc." coffee house, also part of the Foundation, is a popular meeting place for students. The church's Olde English Supper has become a Christmas tradition on campus.

Women Engineers Society

The Society of Women Engineers is dedicated to making known the present need for women engineers and to encouraging college women to consider an engineering education.

Programs of last year's monthly meetings included talks presented by speakers from industry and prominent professors of engineering research. Members were also busy with the annual fall picnic, a tour of Champaign's Magnavox factory, and participation in Activity Day and Engineering Open House.

Xi Sigma Pi

Xi Sigma Pi, a national honorary forestry fraternity, has as goals to encourage scholarship in forestry education, to stimulate interest in forestry, and to promote fraternal relations among those engaged in forestry activities. Alpha Alpha chapter has 46 members.

Every spring the chapter gives an award to the most outstanding freshman in forestry. The group meets regularly. The annual banquet, at which new members are initiated, is held during the spring semester.

Young Republicans

The Illini Young Republican Club has as its goals to promote knowledge of the principles and leaders of the Republican party and to provide an organization which will stimulate students to become involved in active political work. Membership is open to any student or faculty member who expresses an interest in the Republican party and its ideals.

In election years members work in local Republican Headquarters, do precinct work in the area, and help with special state projects.

Zeta Phi Eta

Zeta Phi Eta is a professional fraternity for women in speech arts. Membership is awarded on the basis of scholastic excellence both in the fields of speech and in other academic courses. The object of Zeta Phi Eta is to unite college women interested in maintaining high standards of speech and drama.

Last year Zeta had an active role in the International Fair. Zeta published a pamphlet entitled "A Word to the Wives," which familiarized foreign wives with American Customs.

"One of the girls had a happy thought and said: 'As we are the first fraternity to be founded in the School of Music why not use the first letter in the alphabet and start with Alpha?...' The process of combination continued when, in fun, one of the girls said: 'Who knows, we may be the last fraternity, too—so why not use the last letter of the alphabet, Omega?' This was unanimously adopted, as was Chi, meaning "and". Later, the first Greek musical instrument, the lyre, was chosen for the badge."

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi was founded May 15, 1851 at Wesleyan Female College in Macon, Georgia. Called the Adelphean Society, it became the first secret society in the world for college women and the mother of the entire sorority system. Since that time, ADPi has expanded its number of chapters to 110, Sigma chapter being installed on this campus in 1912. Its open motto, "We live for each other," shows the closeness that exists among the ADPi sisters.

ALPHA EPILSON PHI

In 1909, the first chapter of Alpha Epsilon Phi was founded on the campus of Barnard College in New York. AEPH began with seven girls—there are now more than twenty-two thousand who have worn the pin of pearls. As pledges continue on towards the goal of becoming actives, they are told to remember that from small beginnings great things are born. "The Crest and Crowning of All Good—Life's Final Star is Sisterhood."

TOP ROW: Beverly Susler, secretary; Marilyn Brown, executive at large; Marilyn Rush, scholarship chairman; Jessica Hilborn, social chairman. SECOND ROW: Pam Seimering, corresponding secretary; Sue Williams, treasurer; Pat Rabbe, recording secretary. BOTTOM ROW: Janet Day, house manager; Marilyn Paddick, activities chairman; Jill Forsell, social chairman.

The Alpha Gams began another exciting year immediately after returning to see their new addition and welcome their new house director, Mrs. Mildred Lottke.

The girls could hardly wait to see their beautiful new Mediterranean dining room, study rooms for twenty additional girls, second-floor lounge, and kitchen.

In addition the dorm was enlarged and a special pantry built where the girls could prepare midnight snacks. They all agreed that this was a great way to start the year.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Founded in 1897 at Barnard College, Alpha Omicron Pi still maintains the enthusiasm and vitality which marked its beginning almost 70 years ago. Stressed at last summer's national convention was AOPi's support of the Frontier Nursing Service. Every Christmas the AOPi's collect toys and clothing which they send to the Service headquarters in Kentucky. From there the gifts are distributed to needy children in certain areas of the state.

ALPHA PHI

TOP ROW: Barbara Guill, president; Karen Bend, secretary; Doris Schunknecht, treasurer; Bonnie Ramond, first vice president. BOTTOM ROW: Janice Sommer, activities chairman; Katherine Becker, social chairman; Robin Navin, second vice president.

Homecoming was especially exciting for the Alpha Phi's this year because of their successful Stunt Show pairing with Phi Sigma Delta. Their show, "The Year of the Way to Go Go," was a satire on the high cost of funerals and was judged one of the four best.

Not only were the girls happy about being in Stunt Show, but they were also pleased to have two Homecoming Queen finalists. All the girls were justifiably proud of their efforts toward making Homecoming a success.

Alpha Xi Delta sorority, which was founded originally at Knox College, Galesburg in 1893, now has 97 chapters across the country. Its 60th anniversary was celebrated on this campus in December with a formal open house. All other campus houses, the Alpha Xi Delta national officers, and University officials were invited to visit their stately home of 50 years, helping the Alpha Xi's to commemorate the event.

CHI OMEGA

Scholarship and campus activities were two goals attained this year at Chi Omega. For the last nine out of eleven semesters, Panhellenic has awarded the Chi Omega's with the Scholarship Trophy for the highest sorority average on campus. To encourage achievement in the area of social sciences, the house gives an annual Social Science Award to a girl on campus who has done outstanding work in this field, general academics, and other campus activities.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

One of the highlights of the Greek women's social calendar every year is the "Pansy Breakfast," given early in the spring. At this time the Delta Delta Deltas invite all engaged, senior, Greek women to step through a huge ring of pansies and tell of their fiancé, wedding, and future plans. A feature of the program is a style show put on by the Tri-Delts and the important announcement of the winner of the scholarship award for the year.

TOP ROW: Elissa Feickert, secretary; Marilyn Drolen, standards chairman; Sally Smith, social chairman. THIRD ROW: Marcia Riedel, scholarship chairman; Wilma Zavrel, treasurer; Nancy Sjostrom, rush chairman. SECOND ROW: Jane Hurd, administrative assistant; Janet Crawford, house manager; Patricia Mrozek, pledge trainer. BOTTOM ROW: Dawn Sayre, president.

When the Delta Gammas returned home this fall they were greeted by a new house mother, Mrs. Carter. The girls were pleasantly surprised to find that their alums had redecorated the two libraries during the summer in a color scheme of blues and greens. (The DG's hope that this relaxing atmosphere will make the chore of studying more pleasant!) The dining room sports new curtains, a repaired ceiling, and brand new furniture.

The Delta Phi Epsilons especially enjoy working for those who are less fortunate. Each year, in conjunction with a fraternity, the sorority sponsors a Christmas party to give presents to underprivileged children.

Money for this project is donated by the girls themselves. Along with this philanthropic activity an annual contribution is made to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to aid research in finding a cure for the disease. A new fund-raising project is being planned.

DELTA ZETA

The Delta Zeta's call her Domna—their foster daughter, that is. Domna is a little twelve-year-old Grecian girl whom the DZs have adopted through the foster parent program. The responsibility of this house project includes entire support of their “daughter.”

The chapter also sends gifts on special occasions such as Christmas. Domna is able to continue her education as a result of the Delta Zeta's interest and financial support.

GAMMA PHI BETA

With an eye on activities, the Gamma Phi Betas started their year with preparations for the 1965 Stunt Show. The Gamma Phi-AKL pairing eventually involved nearly all the girls in the house, either as part of the cast or on one of the many committees needed to undertake such a production. The girls found their time well spent when their show, "The Year to be Unconventional," was chosen as one of the eight finalists to be presented Homecoming weekend.

IOTA ALPHA PI

TOP ROW: Sandra Stein, scribe; Renee Reese, house manager; Barbara Weinstein, rush chairman; Deana Peckler, social chairman; Marlene Greenberg, bursar. BOTTOM ROW: Rita Rifken, second vice chancellor; Penny Fisher, chancellor; Marlene Blumenthal, first vice chancellor.

Christmastime at Iota Alpha Pi brings the annual Christmas Party with Theta Xi. A class of grade-school children is invited to the house for an afternoon of festivities. The party is particularly thrilling to the children because they are all from underprivileged homes. After singing carols and eating cookies and punch, a Theta Xi appears dressed as Santa Claus. Each child receives a toy and a wish for a very merry Christmas.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

"A fraternity might form a strong bond of union and encourage members to stay in college, making graduation a goal possible of attainment. It might help girls realize that the advancement of one woman is the advancement of all." This ideal was one expressed by the founder of Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek letter fraternity established for college women. Over the years, Theta has maintained an important position in all phases of the advancement of college women.

TOP ROW: Doris Walton, treasurer. ## KAPPA DELTA

The Kappa Deltas aroused the curiosity of the entire campus last spring by distributing buttons displaying the word SPOOF. SPOOF was the slogan which announced an open house held at Kappa Delta. Nearly one thousand people came to the chapter house to participate in the SPOOF dance. Because of its great success, the dance is now an annual attraction as part of the Kappa Delta tradition.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

One of the primary purposes of Kappa Kappa Gamma is to offer financial assistance to the deserving and needy. During World War I, a Kappa involved in war work in France appealed for clothing and money for the children of the poor in Bellevue, Paris. During the Second World War, a fund for refugee children was started due to the efforts of a Kappa working in London. For these efforts, the Kappas have received many citations from foreign countries.

PHI MU

The date was March 4, 1852, and the place was Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia. The "founding fathers" were three fifteen-year-old girls, best friends who decided to organize the Philomathean Society, Phi Mu. The original pin was fashioned from a twenty dollar gold piece. In 1921 Phi Mu reached our campus, and the Delta Beta chapter was formed. Last march a recolonization was held at which time 72 coeds united to re-new the meaning and spirit of Phi Mu.

PHI SIGMA SIGMA

"Aim high." The motto of Phi Sigma Sigma is the incentive behind many of the house's activities and traditions. To focus special attention on their high aims, a scholarship dinner is held annually in order to award those members who scholastically realized the motto. Each year, the pledge class is honored with a dinner. Every pledge is presented with a red rose as a wish for Good Luck in the hope that they, too, will achieve the sorority's motto.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi was founded on April 28, 1867 at Monmouth College in Monmouth, Illinois. Their active membership, totaling 77,369 with 110 active chapters, is widely spread over the United States. The national project of Pi Beta Phi is a summer craft program in Tennessee; this workshop is designed to help the needy children in the surrounding area. The basic premise of the program is that the children will learn by doing.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Begun more than twenty years ago, the Sigma Delta Tau personal pal program has become one of the house's favorite service projects. Each SDT, upon pledging, "adopts" an underprivileged child from the Champaign-Urbana area, and once a month the child is invited to SDT for dinner or a show. At Christmas the SDT's give their children a party complete with Santa Claus and gifts. The girls find this project very rewarding.

November is an active month around the Sigma Kappa sorority house. A ceremony, with a program presented jointly by alumni and active members, is held on November 9th to commemorate Founders' Day. An alum and authoress, Lillian Bud, was special guest speaker last fall. In addition, the second week in the month is specifically devoted to their national philanthropy of giving service to older people. This past year the girls sang and gave gifts to the residents of a nursing home.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The yuletide season at Zeta Tau Alpha is highlighted by the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children from Champaign. The party, which occurs on the Sunday after the Christmas formal, is also attended by the ZTAs' dates. One of the dates dresses up as jolly old Saint Nicholas; each child talks to Santa and receives a gift. The festivities end with rounds of Christmas carols and refreshments. The party adds an extra spark of happiness to these children's Christmas.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

Each year the pledges of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority sponsor a "Can Party." Admission to the dance is either a can of food or twenty-five cents. The proceeds from this annual affair supply some needy Champaign-Urbana area family with a Thanksgiving dinner. In addition to being a worthwhile cause, the "Can Party" is traditionally a fun-filled event for everyone involved—especially the pledges.

ACACIA

Acacia, which was founded at the University of Michigan in 1904, boasts 45 chapters across the country. A close tie exists among the 67 men of Acacia on the University of Illinois campus, and this is shown by their ability to work together to annually produce a winning Stunt Show. This year's efforts with Tri-Delta, won them the second place trophy with a skit that was entitled "The Year Root-Juice Came to Bogus Lake."

The men of Alpha Chi Rho returned to school last fall to find the house sporting a completely redecorated interior, including new carpeting, chandeliers, and a new paint job. "Stage two" of the remodeling project will complete the addition of new furniture in the house. An open house on Homecoming weekend marked the christening of the remodeled interior. This "new look" at Alpha Chi Rho greeted the chapter's golden anniversary in May.

ALPHA DELTA PHI

Founded at Hamilton College in New York in 1832, Alpha Delta Phi is the third oldest national fraternity and the oldest international fraternity. The Illinois chapter was originally Pi Theta and was granted a charter at the University Club of Chicago in 1911. In 1924, the chapter built its present house on the foundation of John M. Gregory's home. This house was built with the support of Henry W. Austin, an alum from Williams College, Williams Masschusetts.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded simultaneously on the University of Illinois campus and the Ohio State campus in 1904. Its purpose is to "make better men through agriculture." The nickname of the fraternity serves two purposes. "AGR" not only stands for the major of each man in the house, but it is also the abbreviation for the name Alpha Gamma Rho. There are at present 43 chapters of AGR across the country.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

Recently Alpha Epsilon Pi celebrated the dedication of its new chapter house.

It combines modern study conditions with the warmth and friendliness of a fraternity.

The dedication weekend was highlighted by a banquet dinner dance given at the Ramada Inn. Officiating at the ceremony was an Alpha Epsilon Pi alum, Samuel H. Shapiro, Lieutenant Governor. Also present were many other alums and friends of the chapter.

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA

Last spring the Alpha Kappa Lambda chapter was given special recognition when the Interfraternity Council chose the AKL pledge policy as their pledge training creed.

The interesting aspect of this policy is its liberality, including such features as no pledge study hours and no hazing.

In spite of an absence of study hours, the AKL house has maintained one of the highest scholastic averages on campus. This policy encompasses the theory of choosing mature men, capable of assuming responsibility.

ALPHA RHO CHI

Alpha Rho Chi is a national social and professional fraternity which limits membership to students of architecture and the allied arts. The fraternity was founded by two architectural societies at the Universities of Illinois and Michigan on April 11, 1914. Each chapter of the fraternity is named after a famous architect of ancient times. The Illinois chapter, for example, takes its name from Anthemios who designed the temple of St. Sophia in Constantinople.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Sigma Phi was founded at Yale University on December 6, 1845, when three men rebelled and organized a sophomore fraternity. This was a secret society and did not become official until 1846. In 1847 it was declared Delta Beta Xi fraternity. After several years, Alpha Sigma Phi finally emerged. In 1908 it was established on the University of Illinois campus. Today there are ninety chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi. It is the tenth oldest national fraternity in the nation.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega was founded in Richmond, Virginia, September 11, 1865. The ultimate objective of ATO is "to restore the union, unite fraternally the young men of the South with those of the North, and to foster a Christian brotherhood dedicated to the task of achieving and dedicating permanent peace." The Illinois chapter serves as a model for the 123 national chapters. This year ATO began its second century of existence—a century of brotherhood and success.

BETA SIGMA PSI

Beta Sigma Psi fraternity was founded on the U. of I. campus on April 17, 1925, and this past year they celebrated their fortieth anniversary.

Their founder was Pastor Stiegemeyer, who organized Beta Sigma Psi from a Lutheran student club here on campus. There were seven members in the first chapter; now, there are ten chapters in the country and forty-eight Beta Sigs at the University of Illinois.

BETA THETA PI

Beta Theta Pi was founded in 1839 at Miami of Ohio for the cultural improvement of its members and the cultivation of the intellect. The Illinois chapter feels it is living up to these objectives for a variety of reasons, one of the most important being the Illinois chapter's scholastic program. Betas have been one of the top ten fraternities in scholarship at the University of Illinois for the last forty years and hope to continue achieving the same scholastic success in the future.

CHI PHI

Chi Phi fraternity was founded at Princeton University in 1824 to "preserve the brotherhood and friendship of 13 men."

Its organization here at the U. of I. began when the Ibis Club, which was an independent house on campus, decided to become a colony of Chi Phi. Their petition was accepted by Chi Phi national in 1912. Today there are forty chapters of Chi Phi established across the country, and forty-eight of its members are at the University of Illinois.

CHI PSI

Chi Psi was founded in 1813, making it one of the oldest fraternities in the country. The house is always on the move, however. This semester a speaker's program was initiated with "The Man and His College" as the theme. It is hoped that this program will create a better understanding of the student's role in society. The two highlights of the year for Chi Psi were extensive improvements on their lodge and the awarding of the Tug Wilson Improvement trophy.

DELTA CHI

The 51 chapters of Delta Chi fraternity, which was founded at Cornell University in 1890, celebrated their 75th anniversary this year. The men at the University of Illinois received perhaps one of the best anniversary gifts. The present came in the form of a new addition to their house. The Delta Chis are enthused over the decorating of their new addition and pleased because it will add room for a substantial increase in membership.

DELTA PHI

The men of Delta Phi are members of the oldest continuously active fraternity in the United States. This year the brothers of Tau chapter are celebrating the 139th anniversary of the fraternity and the 46th year on the campus of Illinois by hosting the annual Delta Phi national convention in Chicago. The recognition of Tau alumnus, historian Allan Nevins, as one of the three Distinguished Illini of 1965 was testimony to Delta Phi's continuing contributions to the University.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

The Illinois chapter of Delta Sigma Phi is very proud of their Korean Orphan Clothing Drive. In a door-to-door drive, Delta Sigs collected usable clothing, blankets, and shoes. The house then sponsored a dance at the Illini Union to defray costs of shipping the clothing to Korea. Success of the drive was shown in the 10,000 pounds of articles collected and in the praise received from the army and Ralph Dugan, Special Assistant to the late President Kennedy.

DELTA TAU DELTA

FROM TOP TO BOTTOM: Patrick Meehan, treasurer; Robert Anderson, guide; Gene Stefaniak, recording secretary; William Fenton, corresponding secretary; Dean Olson, pledge trainer; James Larson, president.

The most well-known tradition of Delta Tau Delta, the oldest fraternity on campus, is that of its fireplace. In 1894 a Delt decided to carve his name and a design into one of the bricks in the fireplace. His idea became popular, and by 1904 every man who had been a Delt for five semesters carved a brick in the fireplace. Since then, the bricks have been moved three times, preserving for posterity the names of over five hundred brothers of Delta Tau Delta.

DELTA UPSILON

Founded in 1834 at Williams College, Delta Upsilon is the only national fraternity that is a non-secret society. DU was founded as a countermove against the secret societies at Williams College at the time, and Delta Upsilon proudly display the motto of the fraternity, "Justice our Foundation," on their pin. Since its founding Delta Upsilon has expanded to 86 chapters, with the Illinois chapter being formed from a local, the KK Club, in 1905.

EVANS SCHOLARS

Evans Scholars are each recipients of scholarships awarded by the Western Golf Association. Each pledge must have previously been a caddy to qualify for these scholarships. Capturing the last three IM golf championships is evidence of the scholar's skill. Every spring they hit the links in the annual intra-house Calcutta. Members are paired in teams on the basis of handicap; each team is then sold to the highest bidder at a spirited pre-tournament auction.

FARMHOUSE

Farmhouse, founded in Missouri in 1904, was organized by a group of men who studied agriculture and were proud of the heritage of the land. The fraternity was established on the University of Illinois campus in 1914. The men of Farmhouse strive to live up to their motto, "Builder of Men," and they've done a fine job; this year, the honor of having the top combined fraternity scholarship was bestowed upon them for the second time in a row.

KAPPA ALPHA PSI

Scholastic improvement is the main goal of Kappa Alpha Psi this year. Through the use of a pledge personal system, which consists of each pledge studying twice a week with an active, the Kappa pledge class hopes to achieve a high scholastic ranking among pledge classes on campus. The Kappa Alpha Psis also hold informal seminars for actives and pledges. Through these programs, the Kappa's have raised their house scholastic average and hope to continue improving.

KAPPA DELTA RHO

The men of Kappa Delta Rho, while striving to obtain top recognition among the smaller houses on campus, find most success in their modern pledge program. This program is aimed toward service, especially community service. This past fall, the KDR'S helped prepare some unused rooms at Mercy Hospital for needed therapy facilities.

The KDR'S have been awarded the trophy given by Alpha Tau Omega National Foundation for community service in 1962 and 1964 and received second in 1963.

TOP ROW: Robert Larson, secretary; Kerry Cordis, president.

KAPPA SIGMA

The history of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity can be traced back to an Italian and French secret society in the East about 1400. The actual founding of the fraternity took place on the campus of the University of Virginia shortly after the Civil War. The close friendship between five young men caused them to form an organization on December 10, 1869 now known as Kappa Sigma. The U. of I. chapter was founded on December 12, 1891 and is the oldest consecutive fraternity on campus.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

“Variety” was the key word for Lambda Chi Alpha this year. The Lambda Chis, who were paired with Kappa Gamma for Stunt Show, combined hard work with good fun to capture the first place trophy in this popular campus event. The fantasy, entitled “The Year That Rapunzel Let Down Her Hair,” was enjoyed by everyone who saw it. Lambda Chi and Kappa also united to build a homecoming float, and again they took first place.

PHI DELTA THETA

A Silver Star improvement award from the national organization of Phi Delta Theta was an outward token of the fact that the Illinois Eta Chapter had an excellent year. The Silver Star award is given to those chapters that demonstrate excellence in scholarship, activities, and other fields of endeavor. The men of the Illinois chapter are especially proud of their achievement, because it represents the high standards set by the Phi Delta Thetas at Illinois.

Each semester promises new and exciting additions to the University of Illinois, and the fall of 1966 will culminate five years of work and planning by the men of Phi Epsilon Pi. 108 E. Armory will be the new home for eighty PEPs. This will be the newest fraternity house on campus, and hopefully it will re-create the traditional warmth of a fraternity, rather than the cold, "motel-like" style of most modern-day architecture.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

The Fiji's, who have been homeless since the spring of 1964 due to the burning of their chapter house, were home at 401 John Street last September. This event was celebrated with a dedication ceremony during Homecoming weekend. Among those who attended were their Phi Gamma Delta National President and several prominent alums. The fraternity, founded in 1848, established its U. of I. chapter in 1897.

Phi Kappa Psi was the first chapter house built on campus as a fraternity. Over the years the achievement of the Phi Psi's has best been seen in their long list of famous alums. Nationally, the Phi Psi's boast William Maxwell. Managing Editor of the Chicago Tribune, and Woodrow Wilson. Locally, they boast Clarence "Dabs" Williams, founder of the first Homecoming at Illinois in 1910. A very special alum, David D. Henry, pays the chapter house a visit each semester. The Phi Psi's hope the Klansmen will be next on this list.

Phi Kappa Sigma's nickname, the "Skulls," was derived from their pin which has a crest bearing a skull with crossbones. The tradition of this name is bound up in their annual spring formal, the Skull Dance. The house is transformed into a haunted house, complete with boarded windows. A focal point is a traditional coffin containing a skull. Another highlight is an intricate maze in the basement built by the seniors. Only those with knowledge of its windings gain access to the Senior Party at its end.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Phi Kappa Tau was founded in 1906 as the "Non-Fraternity Association." "From the first, the fraternity was concerned only with the potentialities and personal work of individual men. The only aristocracy recognized by the group was that of achievement. It is a far cry from this "Association" to the Phi Kappa Tau of today, yet many of it's ideals are upheld. The association was not anti-fraternity, for it was closely affiliated with two Greeks, one a great national and the other a local."

PHI KAPPA THETA

April 29, 1959 marked the consolidation of the only two national Catholic fraternities, Phi Kappa and Theta Kappa Phi, to form Phi Kappa Theta, which now boasts 53 chapters. The old Theta Kappa Phi house was sold and now the Phi Kappa Theta's occupy the original Phi Kappa house on Chalmers. Along with this consolidation the Beta Delta chapter at Illinois was named for Beta chapter of Phi Kappa and Delta chapter of Theta Kappa Phi.

PHI SIGMA DELTA

Founded in 1948, Phi Sigma Delta is one of the newer fraternities on the campus. The founders of Phi Sig were just out of the Army and anxious to eliminate from their lives some of the atrocities they had experienced during their military days. Out of this desire came the practice of an easy pledge policy. In return for this treatment, the pledges concentrate their time and effort on planning a successful yearly pledge dance, rather than a walkout.

Phi Sigma Epsilon was founded in 1926 at Kansas State Teacher's College for the purpose of promoting friendship and brotherhood. Since its founding the fraternity has grown to forty-two chapters, the Illinois chapter being affiliated in 1958. Phi Sigma Epsilon is thus the newest fraternity on campus. Since its beginning the chapter has stressed scholastic progress. Their success in that field was seen last year when the house was number one scholastically among fraternities.

Starting the 1965-66 term with a 13 man pledge class, the men of Phi Sigma Kappa looked ahead with confidence to showing the pledges and the campus an example of their primary objectives: one, to stimulate scholarship; two, to promote brotherhood; three, to develop character. By improving their pledge program, emphasizing studies, and stressing campus activities and sports, the Phi Sigs achieved their goal. The result was a well-balanced and united chapter.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The most significant day in the Pi Kappa Alpha year is March 1, which is observed as Founder's Day by chapters everywhere. Pikes throughout the country, and in Europe as well, gather around the banquet table to celebrate their fraternity's birth in 1868. They pay homage to the six men who brought AKA into being at the University of Virginia and remind themselves of the high ideals of friendship which actuated those close friends.

PI KAPPA PHI

Pi Kappa Phi claims the unusual distinction of being one of the few fraternities to have a live founder. Simon Fogarty, who helped found Pi Kappa Phi at Charleston College on December 10, 1907, still lives in the Charleston area.

Fourteen years later, the fraternity arrived at the University of Illinois. Since then, the men of Pi Kappa Phi have striven to reach the Greek ideal of the well-balanced man by emphasizing scholarship, athletics, and fraternal spirit.

This year the University of Illinois' chapter of Pi Lambda Phi is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary. Founded at Yale University in 1895, the Pi Lams came to this campus in 1941. Included among their many traditions is an annual luau. Both a national and local tradition, the luau is held inside and outside the house. The torch light dinner takes place on the lawn, and the house is transformed into an exotic atmosphere complete with fountains and volcanoes.

PSI UPSILON

Psi Upsilon Fraternity originally was called the Aztec Club.

It was organized by six freshman at the University of Illinois who, after several months of acquaintance, found need of an organization to promote a wider circle of friends. In 1910, the Aztec Club, after four years of petitioning, was accepted into Psi Upsilon as Omicron Chapter. Thus, the Psi Upsilon Fraternity was established on the campus of the University of Illinois.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Blood Drive in November for men in Viet Nam was greeted with national endorsement and adoption. Their program, originating here on this campus, became an item of national interest within two days. Through co-operative efforts of the Red Cross, White House, State and Defense Departments, the processed blood was flown direct to Viet Nam field hospitals. A man from the SAE chapter was the drive's national coordinator. The State Department sent the Brothers Four to the drive's kickoff dance.

SIGMA ALPHA MU

The Rho Chapter of Sigma Alpha Mu was founded at the University of Illinois on May 5, 1918. The first chapter house, constructed in 1927, was built in the shape of an octagon, which is Sigma Alpha Mu's national symbol. In 1948 a tragic fire destroyed the Octagon, and the building was never reconstructed. The Labor Relations Building has since been built on the site. The present chapter house, located at 301 E. Armory, was purchased in 1959.

SIGMA CHI

Founded on the University of Miami campus in Ohio, June 28, 1855, the Sigma Chi's are one of the largest and oldest fraternities in the world. They have the pleasure of having one of the most popular fraternity songs, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." Their objectives are to cultivate and maintain the high ideals on which Sigma Chi was founded—friendship, justice, and learning . . . and to provide a helping hand of brotherhood in the college community and in the years which follow.

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu, founded in Lexington, Virginia in 1869, is a well-diversified fraternity based upon bonds of brotherhood. One of the exciting events held by the Nu's is their "House Jack" party which occurs about once every month. Such exotic activities as treasure hunts, roller skating, barbeques, and a sportscar rally of the brothers' delicately tuned Fords and Ramblers through the cornfields around Champaign-Urbana are planned.

SIGMA PHI DELTA

Science, Friendship, and Duty are the three concepts which have guided the members of Sigma Phi Delta Fraternity for over twenty-seven years. SPD men are in numerous professional societies on campus which give them many opportunities to foster a better spirit of cooperation among engineering students and organizations. The names of many SPD members also appear on the Dean's List and in various honorary societies. Through these endeavors, SPD strives to develop the well-rounded engineer.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

“That Was the Year We Branded the Hoosiers” was the theme for the best Homecoming decorations on campus at Sigma Phi Epsilon. The cooperation necessary for recognition such as this, as well as for achievement in scholastic endeavors, exemplifies the high value the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon place on brotherhood. As at all Sig Ep chapter houses, the famous red door is always open, welcoming all to enter and partake in a true fraternity of men.

SIGMA PI

The Phi Chapter of Sigma Pi of the University of Illinois was founded February 26, 1907. The chapter house then stood at the corner of Wright and Green, near the present location of Follett's Bookstore. During the depression, however, the foundation of a new chapter house was laid at the corner of Fourth and Armory. It was finished in 1938. Since 1907, Sigma Pi has emerged into a national fraternity of 83 chapters. The Illinois Chapter is the oldest active one today.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

The Alpha Chi chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma began as a local fraternity called the Witanshire Fraternity, which was founded by a group of seventeen World War II veterans. In 1953 the Witanshire Fraternity decided to affiliate with a national fraternity. On May 9, 1953 it was installed as the Alpha Chi chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma. Since its founding, the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity has grown to include sixty-one chapters.

TAU DELTA PHI

In the late 1950's "Ace" Kaplan originated the shaving cream fight on the Sunday before final week. In his junior year, "Ace" made such elaborate preparations that he did not have time to go to classes or study for over a month. Consequently, he flunked out. The "Ace" Kaplan Memorial Shaving Cream Fight was founded at Tau Delt the next year in honor of this famous frater. In last year's match the Brothers of Zavaroshni were victorious over the team of the Gorgle Thumpers.

Founded at Illinois Wesleyan

University on January 10, 1899, Tekes have now expanded their number of chapters to 216, making them the largest chapter-wise fraternity in the world. Gamma chapter on the U. of I. campus was founded February 3, 1912, and ground recently has been broken and construction begun on the new addition to the chapter house. The motto of Tekes is that they "stand for men, not for wealth, rank, or honor, but for personal worth and character."

THETA CHI

Theta Chi attributes its origin to an organization formed in 1910 under the name "Trigon." Out of this developed the Brothers of St. Andrew, which later became Lambda Chi Alpha and Omicron Pi, now Theta Chi. In 1942 the Beta chapter of Beta Kappa was absorbed by Theta Chi. Since the time of charter, on April 8, 1916, Theta Chi has known three homes at Illinois. The Spring of 1966 brought a great weekend of celebration, marking a fiftieth anniversary for Theta Chi.

THETA DELTA CHI

Founded in the eastern part of the United States in 1869, Theta Delta Chi is the oldest literary fraternity. The Illinois chapter feels it has carried on that tradition of scholarly endeavor through such incentives as a $500 scholarship awarded to the pledge with the best grades. Theta Delta Chi offers many incentives to help the actives in the house obtain the best grades possible. Studying recently paid off when Theta Delta Chi won the College Bowl.

Every Indian summer at Theta Xi the annual Aztec dance is held at the chapter house. Each member dresses up in body paint and a loin cloth to pick up his date. As the couple enters Theta Xi, they find themselves in a cave. In the center of the cave an altar is set up with the high priest of the Aztecs sitting on a throne. The girls are led up to the altar and are given a yard of cloth to make a costume. Those who make the best costumes are initiated into the tribe.

TRIANGLE

The fifty-six members of Triangle Fraternity take pride in their newly built house. As a yearly project Triangle men make some improvement to this modern residence. Last year a patio was built. This year the men of Triangle are busy installing an intercom system. Funds for these projects are provided by alumni, with the installation work being done by the fraternity men. It is hoped that future brothers will continue improving Triangle's already excellent facilities.

BOTTOM ROW: Joanne Ezan, secretary; Michelle Lefcourt, scholarship chairman; Barbara Schmitt, treasurer.

Fun, work, and friendship made the year at Allen North a memorable one. The year began with an active Illini Guide program and get-acquainted parties to welcome freshmen and the new head resident, Miss Bonnie Ellis, and her staff of counselors to the hall. Through the year, the girls organized language tables, an Allen Choir, and intramural teams and held faculty and scholarship banquets. The goal was something for everyone, and this goal was certainly accomplished.

BUSEY HALL

TOP TO BOTTOM: Rosalie Kobernick, secretary; Marilyn Retzlaff, president; Ann Herman, treasurer; Susan Rosenbaum, social chairman; Janet Paral, social chairman; Nancy Shields, vice president.

The Busey girls "relax" during the year with formal and informal dances, faculty dinners, after-the-game coffee hours, Little Sisters Weekends, a Christmas party, and traditional fireside parties. The spirit of unity is present at Busey, especially during the holiday season, bringing the girls together on their annual charity project. The girls knit and sell nose-warmers, called "snoot-boots," and send the profits to the National Leukemia Foundation.

SECOND ROW: Sharon Reeland, third floor chairman; Janet Myers, social chairman. BOTTOM ROW: Linda Kec, activities chairman; Arlene Fiedler, second floor chairman; Susan Coleman, secretary-treasurer.

Clark House has an interesting and varied history. Originally built as a boy's dorm, it has been used to house both boys and girls at different times. At present, it is being used as a girl's dorm, and the girls have many activities to keep them busy. For Homecoming, they won third place for their three-dimensional house decorations, and they also had an open house for their friends after the game. At Christmas, the girls had a semi-formal dance at the house.

EVANS HALL

TOP ROW: Jean Trisler, vice president; Jean Makula, secretary; Sharon Fogelquist, treasurer; Joann Cichon, social chairman. BOTTOM ROW: Sharon Harvey, president.

The spirit of scholastic achievement, campus and house activities, friendship, and fun prevail in the smallest and one of the oldest dormitories on campus. The versatility of Evans Hall residents can be seen by looking at their trophies. Evans again received the trophy for first place WISA activities. Not only are Evans girls involved in many campus projects, but they are also active in many house functions. A charity project this year was a party for students from Hays School.

4-H HOUSE

4-H House is the only women's housing unit on campus that combines a pledge-active system with cooperative living. High school seniors with five years of 4-H experience are invited to visit the house the spring before they begin at Illinois, and some are invited to pledge. The girls in 4-H House do all their cooking and all the maintenance in the house. 4-H House was started in 1934, and at present has a membership of fifty-four girls.

INDECO

Unlike a sorority, there are no pledges at Indeco. Freshmen girls constitute the lowest in seniority. These girls are selected by a Fathers Board which is made up of the Indeco girls' fathers. At various times of the year they hold interviews with girls who apply for residency. Applicants are judged on grades, activities, recommendation, and financial status. The Fathers Board is a vital part of Indeco also because it is in charge of the business and physical aspects of the house.

The girls of Laurel House are Chicagoans who live in a house that is owned and operated by their parents. The twenty-three girls show their appreciation by having their Winter Formal during Christmas vacation with their parents. This year Laurel House entertained the independent U. of I. students who live in Champaign-Urbana. They gave a tea and showed them around women's dorms to let them see what it is like to live on campus.

LAR NORTH

Since 1947 the women of Lincoln Avenue Residence North have been striving to develop themselves academically. The support of Ernestina, a foster child from the Phillipines, is one of the many ways the L.A.R. girls broaden their cultural background. Another unique feature of L.A.R. is their branch of the University library within the hall. L.A.R. also has an active tutoring system to enable its residents to achieve higher academic success.

The highlight for the girls of LAR this year was a visit with the Poznan Boys Choir. After quite a bit of red tape, LAR and Allen Halls received permission to entertain the forty boys with an elaborate buffet. The girls did all the work for this event, and the boys were kind enough to sing their thanks. Although few of the younger boys spoke English, everyone enjoyed themselves. It is hoped that this idea of entertaining Star Course guests will continue.

AFTER DINNER THE LAR girls frequently invite their language table instructors to the main lounge for informal chats.

LAST SPRING MANY administrative, faculty, and personal guests were invited to celebrate LAR's 16th birthday.

Originally erected in 1940 as a men's residence hall, Lundgren is one of the oldest dorms on campus. With its many shaped rooms and traditional architecture, Lundgren Hall has individuality that is all its own. Although Lundgren is usually closed during the second semester, it hummed with activity all this year as girls planned Homecoming, exchanges, and parties. A party for underprivileged children showed that Lundgren girls are also concerned with the happiness of others.

THE MANSION

Three years ago the Mansion was changed to a girls' residence house. Since that time, they have built a fine reputation with quality food and ideal study conditions. When the girls returned this semester they found a newly decorated lounge and dining room. The front lawn had been landscaped, and all the trim on the outside of the house had been painted. The girls were excited about these new improvements because they have always taken pride in the house and their housemother, Mrs. Crooks.

MCKINLEY HALL

McKinley Hall won many honors this past year. "Catherine's Wedding Song" and a French Song, "Fais Do Do," were the winning pair which they used to take the first prize trophy at Watcheka Sing. Paired with Newman Hall for Dad's Day Revue, they won second place honors with the skit, "If You Only Knew Where Jack's Beanstalk Came From." It depicted a reverse journey down the beanstalk to the fiery depths of Hell.

SECOND ROW: Carol Barnett, treasurer; Sally Sinclair, scholarship chairman; Kathleen Buchmann, president; Joan Ruud, vice president. BOTTOM ROW: Gretchen Green, co-social chairman; Nikki Millar, co-social chairman.

"Mistletoe Madness" was the theme of Palamar's winter formal at the Inman Hotel this December. Sprigs of mistletoe, imported from Oklahoma, and scalloped ribbons highlighted the decorating scheme. The evening was climaxed by the arrival of jolly old Saint Nicholas. He presented the dates with their bids and dance favors. "As snow held the earth with a gentle caress, doors hung with mistletoe fashioned madness."

PHILEA

The Phileans celebrate Christmas in a big way every year. The girls and their dates put up the Christmas tree at an annual tree-trimming party. All the singing practiced earlier in the year pays off at caroling time. The girls also exchange grab-bag gifts and hang their Christmas stockings on their doors. A class of grade school children are entertained at an annual party which includes games, refreshments, and, of course, gifts from Santa Claus.

Presby girls are bound together by fellowship and an interest in music. These two areas were effectively combined at Presby's retreat at Camp Howard. Here the problems of inter-personal communication were discussed and a song fest was held. The day was finished with a romp in the snow. Following the retreat several girls, members of the University Choirs and bands, arranged a folk song, "The Water is Wide," for Presby's entry in the Watcheka Sing. After many rehearsals they captured first place.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE RESIDENCES

Blaisdell and Saunders along with Carr and Babcock make up the coed housing unit known as P.A.R. These two dorms sponsor many activities for their girls. One of the most enjoyable events is their spring formal. The girls join with the men of Carr and Babcock to present this dance. Much organization, planning, and work goes into the formal. The dining room and terrace are both completely transformed with dim lights and elaborate decorations.

SHERWOOD LODGE

The girls of Sherwood Lodge returned filled with enthusiasm and ready to start an eventful year. They had many events planned including exchanges and a service project. One of their first activities was to welcome the new girls to Sherwood. The old members of the house dressed up in sheets and, in a candlelight procession, got the new girls out of bed and took them downstairs to a party. In this manner, the new girls became a part of their new home.

COLLEGE HALL

Due largely to the fact that no meals were served at College Hall until 1960, there was no house organization. In 1960, however, Edward Campbell bought it and improvements were soon made. New additions since that time have been made which have helped the students study in a better atmosphere. Some changes include a front lounge, drafting room, and basement recreation room. Since that time College Hall has risen in prestige in the Men's Independent Association.

GRANADA CLUB

Granada Club held its twelfth annual Rose Room Formal last fall. The room was decked with forty dozen long-stemmed red roses. The roses, which also appear on the crest, are part of Granada's fascinating history.

Two thousand years ago a prince from southern Spain converted to Christianity and assumed the name Pedro de Granada. He became a well known Spanish hero, and it is from this man that Granada takes its name. Granada's rose is Spain's traditional flower and symbolizes happiness.

ILLI-DELL

Illi-Dell is a cooperative fraternity comprised of men seeking careers in agriculture and its related fields. All of the men must take part in the activities of Illi-Dell, which include cooking and keeping house. Their cooperation is also evident outside of the house, in all phases of campus activity. Last fall, paired with McKinley Hall, Illi-Dell presented "The Father of Innocence" and won first place in Dad's Day Revue. At Homecoming they won the cumulative trophy in M.I.A. for overall performance.

Koinonia is a religious-based men's cooperative house. They are sponsored by the Baptist Church yet are completely self-governing. Koinonia was founded in 1952 by twenty-five charter members who were seeking an economical way of living. This year Koinonia has new headquarters at 402 E. Daniel. They do their own cooking and cleaning. House management is handled by elected officials such as the commissar and the house manager.

MEDEA

This year the men of Medea held their annual Christmas Weekend. The Saturday prior to vacation, the cafeteria was converted into a dance floor with a fireplace, snowy windows, sprigs of mistletoe, and a Christmas tree. The informal dance featured a house combo, The Green Street Brass. A buffet dinner on Monday evening climaxed the weekend. The house Christmas party and gift exchange followed. Each member read a humorous poem appropriate to the recipient of his gift.

TOP ROW: Ray Miller, John Hass, Kenneth Hemstreet, Thomas Gurkowski, Sam Waltz, Lawrence DeRoos, James Obbish, Joseph Jasmosz, Robert Holloway, David Bates, Jay Christiansen. # MINAWA

Minawa Lodge is a brotherhood of Christian students. Its objectives are to help students better understand the goals and doctrine of Christianity and its relation to secular life. The house serves as a forum where Christians can share experiences and knowledge of religious literature.

Bible study groups meet where members discuss the scriptures informally. Minawa is independent of all national religious organizations.

NEWMAN HALL

Christmas-time at Newman Hall is highlighted by the traditional Orphan's Party.

This year sixty children from a Danville orphanage, ranging in age from six to sixteen, were hosted. A Newman resident and his date sponsor each orphan. The banquet is climaxed by the distribution of the gifts by Santa Claus. Gifts are provided from the Newman Residence Fund and donations by Newman residents. This year a gift-wrapping exchange was held prior to the party.

ILLINOIS STREET RESIDENCE

The women of Wardall Hall and the men of Townsend Hall are not only proud that they live in the most impressive residence hall complex on campus, but also boast of their high scholastic achievements. The women received the Freshmen Scholarship Trophy for 1964-65 and a Certificate for Scholastic Improvement. The men had the highest scholastic average in MRHA and had the top house average both semesters in 1964-65. Not only did Wardall and Townsend do well in scholarship, but they also participated in many social events. These activities included Dad's Day and Mom's Day events, dances, picnics, and athletic activities. One of the highlights of the year came when Wardall and Townsend combined to win two of the all campus Grand Champion Homecoming trophies. Besides a full social program at I.S.R., the residents also enjoy such modern conveniences as an air-conditioned cafeteria, a canteen, a well-equipped library, recreational facilities, and a sun deck located on the top of the hall.

SYMBOL OF EXCELLENCE

For 58 years, emphasis on exceptional quality has been the keynote of Rogers yearbooks. A complete comprehensive layout, wide range of type selection, carefully etched plates, finest materials and good binding, combine to assure an outstanding yearbook.

Personal service on all yearbooks, based on years of experience in serving America's leading schools, has created a tradition of sincerity and excellence which has been recognized as a security to the school and an inspiration to the staff.
